Don and Linda Carter

DONALD CARTER
OWNER/CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

One of the strengths of the Mavericks organization is the stable ownership and leadership provided by Donald Carter, who ranks fifth among NBA owners in seniority. Carter entered the NBA as owner of the expansion Mavericks in 1980.

"Don Carter's grasp of the big picture has allowed us to make long-term decisions," says Mavericks President & General Manager Norm Sonju. "Short-term fixes might have been more fun at times, but would have set the franchise back from our goal of becoming a viable playoff contender and eventually a champion. The willingness to go with young players, as painful as it was at times, is one of the reasons why the ride back to the playoffs is going to be so enjoyable."

In August 1993 the Salvation Army had flood relief supplies boxed up and earmarked for families in the disaster area of the Midwest. When it came to the attention of the Carter family that Salvation Army officials had no way to transport those supplies to the Midwest, Carter, who keeps his license to drive tractor-trailers current, fired up three Home Interiors & Gifts 18-wheelers. Then Carter personally got behind the wheel of one of those rigs for the 640-mile treks to Wright City, Mo. Carter's son Ron and a couple of Home Interiors & Gifts managers also drove. The Carter convoy made the round trip three times before the mission was complete.

Carter says, "This is not Don Carter doing this. It's a company in Dallas. And everything I've got, the people in Dallas and the Metroplex and around the country have made possible for me. I'll never be able to give enough back."

Carter attributes his serving heart to the influence of his late mother, Mary Crowley. "The best advice my mother ever gave me was 'Don't forget to count your blessings' and the greatest lesson she ever taught me was tithing," Carter says.

Through the Mary C. Crowley Academy of the STEP Foundation, Carter makes it possible for disadvantaged women to return to school. In conjunction with El Centro Community College, these women are given a second chance to complete high school requirements and go on to higher education.

"To see a woman who was on welfare earn a college degree and go out in the business world is exciting," Carter says. "There are more women graduating from the STEP program than ever before. There's even one going for a doctorate. Now that's a thrill."

Carter is chairman of the board of Home Interiors & Gifts. He has also made a significant investment in the stabilization and growth of the local real estate industry through Carter-Crowley Properties, a commercial real estate company and the Mavericks' parent company. Ron Carter heads up the Carter-Crowley Corp. Carter-Crowley tenants appreciate the family atmosphere and high level of services provided. A large American flag - a Carter trademark - flies outside each Carter-Crowley property.

"In working with Mr. C for the past 16 years, I've learned that one of his real strengths is his ability to balance many large and varied interests," says Sonju. "As busy as Don is, he keeps his priorities in order. This is an incredible trait."

Carter has long said "the club belongs to the people who fill the seats, read the papers, watch TV, buy the advertising. They're all part of the Mavericks family." They're also part of the Carter family, which includes Linda, his wife of over 35 years, their children and grandchildren.

Born July 5, 1933 in Fayetteville, Ark., Carter was raised in Dallas. In a way, it makes perfect sense that Carter would one day own a pro sports franchise. After all, he got his first lessons in free enterprise by selling peanuts and programs at the Cotton Bowl and SMU's Moody Coliseum.

Carter's interest in basketball started when he met Linda, a former high school basketball player. "To get a second date I had to go to a basketball tournament in Duncanville (Texas)," Carter recalls. "I married her six weeks later and that was over 35 glorious years ago."

Carter is committed to helping young people. He credits much of his success to the positive influence and discipline he received through Dallas Big Brothers, the YMCA and other boys clubs.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the Youth for Tomorrow Foundation, the YMCA and the Boy Scouts of America are among the many organizations he supports. The Carters, who also own the Dallas Sidekicks of the Continental Indoor Soccer League, are fans of all of Dallas' pro sports teams. When the Mavericks season ends, Don and his family may be found enjoying the action at the Mesquite Championship Rodeo on many weekends. The Carters recently began raising rodeo stock on their ranch with hopes of seeing some of their bucking broncs in competition soon.

RON CARTER

OWNER/EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Ron Carter

Ron Carter is president of Carter-Crowley Corp., a commercial real estate and holding company, and the Mavericks' parent company. He is also the chairman and CEO of Eagle Freightways, an LTL carrier in Dallas. Eagle Freightways operates throughout the Midwest from South Texas to Chicago.

"My commitment is to work with the Carter family to make owning the Mavericks an enjoyable investment for them," says club President & General Manager Norm Sonju. "Don and Linda are fortunate that their son Ron is very capable and already grasps what it takes to be a good owner. He understands that the team truly belongs to our fans and embraces the attitude of service that runs throughout our organization.

"All of the Carters learn at an early age the importance of working hard. Ron Carter is no exception. I've directed the Camp of the Woods Basketball Clinic for 32 years and during college Ron served as a volunteer staff member. I can't remember any staff member working harder than Ron. In spending time with him now, I can see where this same trait has carried on into his business career. The experience he's gaining now will prove invaluable to him in the years to come."

Ron Carter has represented the Mavericks at the NBA lottery the past two years. An alternate governor, Ron has attended NBA Board of Governors meetings the last few years.

Ron participates in relief projects in Central and South America. In 1987, he and his father helped build a school on the Nicaragua border to serve Nicaragua refugees living in the jungle. The Carter family has purchased the farm where the school is located for the River of Life Mission. Ron is on the board of directors for River of Life. A full-time missionary and his family live on the farm. They help run three schools and two churches along the river. For Christmas, the Carters travel to Nicaragua with friends and co-workers to play Santa Claus. They give toys and food to the children along the border.

Ron Carter also serves on the board of directors for the Amazon Mission Organization and has helped build churches and a hospital on the Amazon River in Northern Brazil. The hospital is named for his mother, Clinica Linda AMOR. Ron also sponsors Together Against Drugs, a drug-free program targeted at elementary students in the Dallas area.

Ron Carter earned a BBA in Marketing and Finance at Baylor University in 1984. He and his wife Wanda have two sons, Lee and Clint. Ron enjoys participating in the YMCA Indian Guides program and watching his boys play sports.

Norm Sonju

NORM SONJU
PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

Norm Sonju, among the most experienced executives in the league, is in his 19th season as an NBA general manager. Sonju, who in 1979 spearheaded the Mavericks' expansion drive, is responsible for the overall operation of the club.

"I truly anticipate that the team and organization will build upon last season, a year in which we achieved significant growth," Sonju says. "A year ago our goals included re-earning the respect of the fans and bringing the fun back to Reunion Arena. While we made nice strides in '94-95, those are two areas we will continue to emphasize."

In running the club, Sonju's focus is on serving the fans. "We continually strive to improve and enhance our game presentation," Sonju says. "We try to meet each Monday to openly critique how we put on the past week's games. "

Sonju and Mavericks Owner/Chairman of the Board Don Carter found a unique way of showing appreciation to the season ticket holders who continued to support the team through tough times. In keeping with a commitment made in May 1994, all those who held season tickets in '93-94, were offered '95-96 tickets at the same price they paid in '92-93.

In February 1989 Sonju was presented with the Drug Enforcement Administration's local Administrator of the Year Award for his support of drug awareness programs. Sonju also was a recipient of the 1988 Father of the Year award. A sought-after public speaker, one of Sonju's major themes is the importance of building strength into the family unit.

For the 32nd year last summer, Sonju directed the Camp of the Woods basketball clinic in upstate New York's Adirondack Mountains. He founded the clinic, which combines basketball instruction with outdoor recreational activities, in 1963. "We also emphasize that there's more to life than basketball," Sonju says. "We challenge each of the boys to develop priorities which include faith in Jesus Christ. Against the everyday pressures of school and family, it's important to have a foundation which can be a stabilizing factor when things don't go right."

Included among the 53 pro athletes and executives who have served on Sonju's staff over the years are Football Hall of Famers Willie Davis and Raymond Berry; Basketball Hall of Fame coach John McLendon; New York Knicks Head Coach Don Nelson; as well as many current and former Mavericks. Jason Kidd and Lucious Harris highlighted the 1995 staff. Each year Sonju provides scholarships to inner city kids from around the country, including some from West Dallas, which make it possible for them to attend the camp.

Sonju was president/general manager of the Buffalo Braves from 1976-78. When that team moved to San Diego as the Clippers, Sonju directed the start-up of the new operation, then began his quest for an expansion team in Dallas.

Prior to entering the NBA, Sonju was an executive with ServiceMaster Industries in Downers Grove, Ill. Sonju earned a bachelor's degree at Grinnell (Iowa) College in 1960. In 1967, after serving in the Air Force, Sonju received an MBA from the University of Chicago.

Sonju serves on the board of Correct Craft, a Florida boat company which manufactures the internationally recognized Ski Nautique motor boat. He's also involved with several civic and Christian concerns. Sonju chairs two golf tournament fund-raisers. For the last 12 years, Sonju has chaired the annual Christian Leadership Classic, while chairing the Probe Ministries golf tournament the last three years.

Sonju was born September 30, 1938 in Chicago. He and his wife Carole reside in Dallas with their children, Lynne (5/19/69), a 1991 graduate of Texas A&M, Scott (1/31/72), a 1994 graduate of Texas A&M and David (2/11/77), a freshman at Colorado State University. Carole serves as headmistress of the new West Dallas Community School, a privately-funded school which opened its doors in August 1995.

All His Son Really Wants To Be Is A Reflection Of The Man In The Mirror.

Kids today look for role models in all sorts of places. Hollywood. Music videos. Pro sports. Sneaker commercials.

But the best role model a boy can ever have is a father who shares his life with the people he loves most. A man who faithfully meets his family responsibilities. A dad who shows his boy what it means to be a man.

Devoted fathers rarely attract public attention. But they often attract the watchful eyes of children — even during routine, day-to-day activities.

In the ordinariness of life, a man's true character is revealed. And a child learns who is really worth looking up to.

Doug Adkins

VICE PRESIDENT/COUNSEL

Vice President/Counsel Doug Adkins has been practicing law in Dallas since 1963 and has served as the Mavericks' VP/Counsel since the club's inception in 1980.

He's a partner in the law firm of Gardere & Wynne, where he previously served as co-managing partner. His practice emphasizes the representation of direct sales companies, multi-level marketing companies, entrepreneurs, professional sports organizations and general corporate business. Adkins advises the club on legal matters, including the drafting of advertising, television and league agreements as well as player contracts.

"Doug's real value becomes more and more obvious the more difficult the challenge," says Mavericks President & General Manager Norm Sonju. "He always has a good grasp of the issues, is an excellent listener and when he speaks on a matter, you can be very confident that he has thought it through very thoroughly. He's a real asset to the organization and we appreciate his expertise."

Adkins, along with Norm Sonju, was one of the founders of Pro Basketball Fellowship, an NBA-wide chapel organization. He's a member of the board of directors of Home Interiors & Gifts, Inc., and several other client-related corporations. He is chairman of the Board of EZLife, Inc., Premier Motorsports Consultants and Premier Sports and Entertainment Consultants. He has served as chairman of the Lawyers Council of the Direct Selling Association as well as several subcommittees of the DSA. He is considered one of the premier attorneys representing direct selling companies. Adkins also serves on the board of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes in Dallas. He previously served as chairman of the board of trustees of Dallas Baptist University and continues to serve on the boards of several non-profit corporations.

A native of Shreveport, La., Adkins graduated with highest honors from the University of Southwestern Louisiana in 1960 with a degree in geology. He earned his law degree with highest honors from the Tulane School of Law three years later. He holds an honorary doctorate from Dallas Baptist University.

A deacon at First Baptist Church, Adkins and his wife Carole reside in Dallas. They have two children: daughter Mindy, who is married to former SMU basketball standout and current Rockwall H.S. head basketball coach David Piehler; and son Greg. Doug and Carole also have two grandchildren.

THE NEW KIDD IN TOWN

Jason Kidd, Jim Jackson and Jamal Mashburn starred in the minute-long movie trailer "The New Kidd in Town," which was shown in AMC theaters throughout Dallas/Fort Worth prior to movies last Christmas season. The mini-movie, featuring an Old West motif, also featured cameo performances by Mavericks owner Donald Carter, the Mavericks coaching staff — Dick Motta, Brad Davis and Kip Motta — and former Mavericks All-Stars Mark Aguirre and Rolando Blackman. A possible sequel could hit theaters later this season.

KEITH GRANT
DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Keith Grant

Keith Grant, whose career with the Mavericks began prior to the 1980-81 charter season, is in his second season as director of player personnel. He was elevated to his current position on May 17, 1994. He served from 1990-94 as the team's director of scouting.

"The Dallas Mavericks have had some failures, but we've got some successes in human beings and Keith is one of our success stories," Mavericks owner Donald Carter says. "Our tough times and our bad times were used to an advantage in his growth and development. The Dallas Mavericks have been blessed to be a part of the opportunities in Keith's life.

"Keith has developed in the computer age, but as the computer people say, 'you get out what you put in' and Keith has always put quality in and has gotten quality out. If you want to build something great, you better have knowledge of the foundation and the nuts and bolts. Keith has that knowledge and he got it hands on."

Grant says, "I'm very fortunate because a lot of people have helped me get to this point. I was given an opportunity and was never afraid to do the extra things that had to be done."

Grant, who graduated from Oklahoma City University in 1980 with a bachelor's degree in business management, has served in several positions in the basketball department since joining the Mavericks. He was elevated to the position of administrative assistant/scout in 1984. Grant's responsibilities were expanded to include advance pro scouting prior to the 1986-87 season when Dallas went 55-27 and won the Midwest Division. In 1990 he was promoted to director of scouting.

In the early 1980s Grant helped the Mavericks become one of the NBA's first teams to enter the video era as the club under his guidance amassed an extensive videotape library. He was also an NBA pioneer in the area of computerized scouting and computer videotape editing.

Grant's duties with the Mavericks have included coordinating all scouting assignments (the Mavericks four regional scouts all report to him), coordinating the Mavericks' involvement in summer leagues, scheduling preseason games and assisting Mavericks President & General Manager Norm Sonju in several basketball-related administrative areas.

"We have great confidence in our basketball department because of Keith's leadership," Sonju says. "He's an outstanding evaluator of talent and works closely with Dick (Motta) in putting together our team. Though Keith is young in years, he's long on experience."

Since 1988 Grant has helped run the NBA's Chicago pre-draft camp. "(Grant) is one of the guys who's very vital to the NBA," said the NBA's Director of Scouting Services Marty Blake. "Keith helps us with our final evaluations. I'd hire him in a minute."

Grant, who was born on Jan. 3, 1958, began his career in pro sports at age 12 as a bat boy for the Oklahoma City 89ers AAA baseball team. He spent 12 years with the 89ers manning various positions. He played four years of varsity baseball at Oklahoma City University as well as spending three years in various capacities with the OCU basketball staff.

Grant, who served as the Arlington Stadium organist from 1982-84, is an avid baseball fan and golfer. He and his wife Nancy live in Carrollton with their children, Jennifer (11/17/86), Melissa (6/16/88) and Brian (8/7/92).

Dick Motta

DICK MOTTA
HEAD COACH

On May 17, 1994 the Mavericks announced that Dick Motta, the most experienced coach in NBA history and head coach of the Mavericks during the franchise's first seven seasons, would return to the club as head coach.

In '94-95 Motta guided the Mavericks to a 36-46 (19-22 home, 17-24 road) record, an improvement of 23 wins over the 13-69 club of 1993-94. The 23-game improvement ties as the sixth-best in NBA history. The Mavericks, who combined for 24 wins in '92-93 (13-69) and '93-94 (11-71) as the NBA's worst team both seasons, surpassed 10 clubs in the standings in '94-95. Motta won the IBM/NBA Coach of the Month Award after directing the Mavericks to a 7-4 record in November, despite putting the NBA's youngest starting five on the floor. It was the Mavericks' first winning month since April 1990 and the second time for a Mavericks head coach to win the award (Motta also won it in November 1983 during his first tour of duty with Dallas). Jamal Mashburn called Motta, "the MVP of the league, point blank. He must be 20 at heart, he has so much energy. He knows the game and he knows people. Youngest or oldest, I'm glad to have him."

In a record 23 seasons as an NBA head coach, Motta has won 892 regular season games. Only Hall of Famers Lenny Wilkens (968) and Red Auerbach (938) have won more games. His record in eight seasons with the Mavericks is 303-343 (.462). Motta, who built young teams in Chicago and Dallas into perennial playoff contenders and won a world championship with the 1977-78 Washington Bullets, owns a career record of 892-909 (.495). Motta, 64, is the only coach in NBA history who on two occasions (in Chicago and Dallas) has coached a team to four consecutive seasons of improved wins.

Motta brought instant credibility to the expansion Mavericks when he was named head coach on July 16, 1980. After winning 15 games in their charter season, the Mavericks jumped to 28 wins in 1981-82 and 38 in 1982-83. While building through the draft, the steady improvement continued with 43 wins and a playoff berth in 1983-84. Despite entering the NBA as the lone expansion team in '80-81, the Mavericks posted 124 wins through their first four seasons. By comparison, of the four expansion teams which entered the NBA in 1988-89 and 1989-90, Orlando led with 111 wins through four seasons. Charlotte posted 96 wins, Miami 95 and Minnesota 85.

The Mavericks earned postseason berths in each of Motta's last four seasons, peaking with a club record 55 wins and the team's only Midwest Division title in 1986-87. Motta's Dallas teams were known for their hustle and offensive effectiveness. From 1982-87, the Mavericks averaged better than 110 points per game (three times finishing in the top five in the league in scoring) and committed the NBA's fewest turnovers every season. In Motta's last three seasons, the Mavericks played to better than 98 percent of Reunion Arena's capacity. Motta retired as Mavericks head coach on May 20, 1987.

Motta stayed close to the game in his retirement, serving as a consultant to Carter, doing color analysis on Detroit Pistons television broadcasts during their championship seasons and putting on basketball clinics for the NBA in Europe and Australia. After two and a half seasons away from coaching, the Sacramento Kings hired Motta on Jan. 4, 1990. He remained the Kings head coach until being dismissed on Dec. 24, 1991. Motta rejoined the Mavericks as an unpaid consultant in January 1994.

Motta was largely unknown - despite a 120-33 record in six seasons (1962-68) at Weber State - when the Chicago Bulls named him head coach in 1968. Motta's first game with the Bulls - at New York no less - was the first NBA game he'd ever seen in person. Madison Square Garden security guards refused to believe the 37-year-old Motta was the Bulls coach until the trainer vouched for him. In 1970-71 the Bulls won 51 games - the first in a run of four-straight 50-plus win seasons - and Motta was named Coach of the Year. The Bulls made the playoffs in six of Motta's eight seasons, advancing to the conference finals in 1973-74 and 1974-75.

In 1976-77 Motta was named head coach of the Washington Bullets. His 1977-78 "Fat Lady" team won the world championship after a 44-38 regular season. Motta uttered the now famous line, "The opera ain't over 'till the fat lady sings," as a word of caution after his Bullets jumped ahead of Philadelphia 3-1 in the 1978 Eastern Conference finals. His '78-79 team won a league-best 54 games and returned to the Finals where they lost to Seattle.

Six times Motta has won 50-plus games. He joins Lenny Wilkens (Seattle, Cleveland and Atlanta) as the only coaches to post a 50-plus win season with three different teams. Motta has directed his teams to the postseason 14 times, a figure surpassed only by Auerbach (19) and Jack Ramsay (16). His 56 playoff wins rank 10th on the all-time list. Three of Motta's players went on to earn enshrinement in the Basketball Hall of Fame: Wes Unseld, Elvin Hayes and Nate Thurmond. Unseld is one of eight former Motta players (also Rick Adelman, Allan Bristow, Matt Guokas, Gar Heard, Bob Kauffman, Jerry Sloan and Bob Weiss) who went on to head coaching positions in the NBA. Two other former Motta players - Jim King (Tulsa) and Clem Haskins (Minnesota) went on to major college head coaching jobs. Each of Motta's top assistants through the years (Ed Badger, Phil Johnson, Bernie Bickerstaff, Weiss, Richie Adubato and Rex Hughes) also ended up with head coaching positions. Roger Reid, who Motta coached at Weber State, is now the head coach at BYU.

John Richard Motta was born on Sept. 3, 1931 at Midvale, Utah (pop. 205). He began his coaching career at Idaho's Grace H.S. after a stint in the Air Force. He says winning the 1959 Class AA Idaho high school championship, with current Utah Jazz assistant coach Phil Johnson as his star, is still his biggest thrill. Motta, who says he knew he wanted to be a coach from the time he was 13, originally aspired to coach football or wrestling. He was cut from his high school basketball team as a senior and then four-straight years at Utah State. Ironically, Motta returned to Utah State to teach a class in basketball theory in 1992-93. Motta and his wife Janice celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary in 1994. They have three grown children and two grandchildren. (See page 172 for "Motta-isms")

BRAD DAVIS

ASSISTANT COACH

Brad Davis, the Mavericks' all-time leader in games played, was named assistant coach on May 20, 1994. A veteran of 15 NBA seasons as a player, Davis spent his final 12 seasons with the Mavericks.

This is his second tour of duty as a Mavericks assistant. Davis served as an assistant coach with the Mavericks for the final 48 games of 1992-93 under Gar Heard. Davis, who retired at the end of the 1991-92 season, served as color commentator in 1993-94 on Mavericks road telecasts as well as all home radio broadcasts. He also was a member of the Mavericks radio broadcast crew in '92-93 prior to joining the coaching staff. He has also worked for the Mavericks as a community services/camps representative.

Davis retired as one of only 15 players in NBA history to play 15 NBA seasons. On Nov. 14, 1992, he became the first Maverick to have his jersey retired when his No. 15 was raised to the rafters. Davis was the final member of the Mavericks 1980-81 charter season team to retire. He lasted eight years longer with Dallas than any other member of that squad.

Davis began his career as a Lakers first-round draft pick (15th overall) out of Maryland in 1977. After stints with the Lakers, Pacers and Jazz, Davis was cut by the Pistons in their 1980 training camp. He headed back to the CBA's Anchorage Northern Knights, where he intended to play only until the spring semester began at Cal State Northridge. He had decided to finish his degree in radio/TV/film and enter the business world. Davis was signed by Dallas on Dec. 2, 1980. Bob Weiss, himself a former minor leaguer and a Mavericks assistant coach at the time, persuaded Davis to report to Dallas. Davis quickly found his niche and ended his vagabond basketball existence.

Davis won five-straight Favorite Maverick Awards from 1982-86. He holds Mavericks records for consecutive games played (246, from 10/27/84 through 4/18/87) and most consecutive three-pointers made without a miss (10-straight from 1/23/88 through 2/3/88). For his NBA career, Davis averaged 8.2 ppg on .510 shooting with 4.9 assists in 961 games. As a Maverick, Davis averaged 8.6 ppg on .510 shooting with 5.1 assists in a club record 883 games. He registered career highs with 12.1 ppg in '81-82 and 7.2 assists in '82-83. His .572 field goal percentage in '82-83 was a record at the time for an NBA guard.

Davis, who was born on Dec. 17, 1955 in Rochester, Pa., resides in Arlington with wife Kelli, son Michael (5/11/84), and daughters Erin (3/1/82) and Cara (9/25/94).

Kip Motta

KIP MOTTA

ASSISTANT COACH

Kip Motta, in his second season with the Mavericks, has 14 years of coaching experience, including five years NBA experience as an assistant with Seattle, Portland and the Mavericks. In addition to his work on the Mavericks bench, his duties include advance pro scouting. Motta, who is highly skilled in the area of computerized scouting, joined the Mavericks on July 5, 1994.

Motta, 37, began his coaching career in 1981-82 as a graduate assistant at the University of Cincinnati, where he earned a master's degree in exercise physiology. He spent the 1982-83 season as an assistant coach at Fairlawn H.S. in Sidney, Ohio. From 1983-86 Kip Motta served as an assistant coach at Trinity Valley Community College in Athens, Texas. The 1986-87 season was Kip Motta's first of three seasons as an assistant coach at Washington State.

In 1990, K.C. Jones hired Motta as an assistant coach/scout with the Seattle SuperSonics. Jones and his staff were dismissed midway through the 1991-92 season, but Motta was soon hired by Portland. There he was responsible for the Blazers advance scouting for the 1992 playoffs, which culminated with a trip to the NBA Finals against the Chicago Bulls. Motta was retained by then-Portland Head Coach Rick Adelman as an assistant coach/scout, serving in that capacity for two seasons.

On the subject of coaching under his father, Motta says, "It surpassed all my expectations in terms of on-the-court coaching and professional relationship and even strengthened our father-son bond." Dick Motta calls working with his son "a dream come true. Kip's planned his professional career path very carefully, from high school to junior college to major university to the NBA. It's almost exactly the path I followed, which makes it a little spooky."

Kip Motta was born Oct. 9, 1958 in Grace, Idaho. He holds an undergraduate degree from Western Montana, where he played basketball. An avid runner, Kip and his wife Joanne live in Carrollton with their son Kyle (1/3/85) and daughter Kami Jo (10/5/87).

Doug Atkinson

DOUG ATKINSON

TRAINER

Doug Atkinson, the only trainer the Mavericks have ever had, enters his 16th season with the club. Atkinson was named 1992 NBA Athletic Trainer of the Year by the National Basketball Trainers Association. Atkinson was chosen for the award in part for the professional skill and courage he displayed in performing lifesaving techniques on a 14-month old boy at Love Field on Christmas Eve 1991. The Mavericks had returned to Dallas from Houston, and Atkinson was headed for the baggage claim area when he came upon a screaming mother whose son had stopped breathing. Atkinson took the boy, Offie Wiseman III, and cleared the airway so the boy could breathe. It was the fourth time in Atkinson's 21 years in professional sports that he came to the rescue with lifesaving techniques. "Any person who would take a four-hour CPR course from the American Red Cross can learn how to take care of emergencies like this," Atkinson says. "I think CPR should be a mandatory course in the public schools."

Before coming to Dallas, Atkinson spent five years as Chicago Bulls trainer and had previous experience with baseball's Dodgers and Angels. He has never missed a game in 20 NBA seasons - that's 1,640 games and counting entering '95-96. Atkinson, who served as trainer for the West All-Star team in 1981 and 1986, is responsible for making the club's travel arrangements and also designed the Mavericks first-class locker room and training facilities.

Born Feb. 17, 1949 at Vicksburg, Miss., Atkinson grew up in Longview,Texas. He earned a bachelor's degree and two advanced degrees from Texas-El Paso. While with the Bulls, Atkinson was an instructor at Northwestern University Medical School's Sports Medicine Center. Atkinson, an avid reader, is a fan of western novels. He's also a rodeo fan and avid fisherman.

A registered Hereford cattle and quarter-horse rancher, Atkinson's home is his ranch in Athens, Texas. Atkinson has added emu (exotic Australian birds) to his ranch population. He and wife Elizabeth have a son, Tommy Oron (born 8/29/87), and a daughter, Holley Royan (2/11/89).

Bob King

BOB KING

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

Bob King joined the Mavericks in July 1989 as the club's first strength & conditioning coach. King, a certified strength & conditioning specialist, begins his seventh season with the Mavericks. His goals for a young team like the Mavericks are very different than the goals he had for the veteran group of seasons past.

"With all the young players we have now, the emphasis of our program has changed," said King. "Our emphasis now is in helping the young players to become stronger and faster. We also show the athlete that what he does off the court translates into what he does on the court. We do very basketball-specific workouts."

King's responsibilities include supervising post-game aerobic workouts for players who see less than 20 minutes of playing time at home games.

In addition to his duties with the Mavericks, King also serves as head track coach and football defensive coordinator at Trinity Christian Academy in Addison. He also runs a private one-on-one training business, King's Sports & Fitness, and has acted as a consultant to tennis pros Gabriela Sabatini, Dennis Ralston, Claire Sessions and Dick Stockton, golf pro D.A. Weibring and the tennis and basketball programs of SMU. King is also the center director for the Adidas Performance Training Center in North Dallas and holds the title of assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Dallas Cowboys. King is a frequent guest on KLIF's Weekend Workout program.

King, who was born on August 20, 1954 in Norman, Okla., was raised in Dallas and attended Richardson Berkner High School. He played football at Texas Tech, where he earned a bachelor's degree in history in 1976. He later added a MSBS degree from Dallas Theological Seminary.

King and his wife Heidi reside in Carrollton. They have three sons: Aaron (1/30/85) and twins Brady and Curtis (6/15/87).

Drafted: Not drafted.

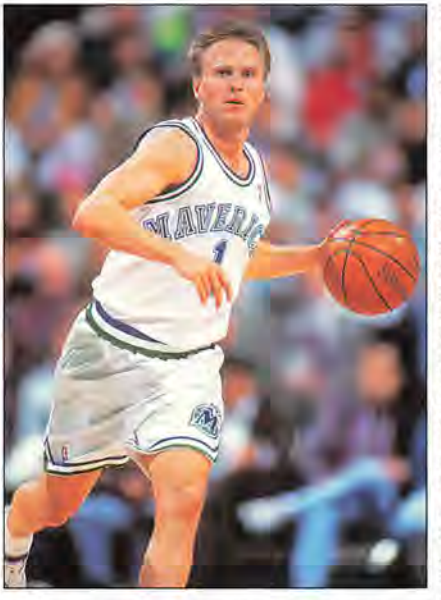
Acquired: From Houston in exchange for Morlon Wiley and the Mavericks 1995 second round draft pick on 2/23/95.

1994-95 Capsule: Played 28 games for the Rockets, averaging 3.4 ppg on .534 shooting (including 8-of-17 three-pointers), before being acquired by Dallas in exchange for Morlon Wiley and a 1995 second-round draft choice just prior to the trading deadline on 2/23/95...while with the Rockets, Brooks scored a career-high 23 points on 9-of-10 shooting 2/14/95 vs. the L.A. Clippers...in 31 games with the Mavericks (won 16), Brooks averaged 7.9 ppg on .433 shooting with 3.0 assists in 20.1 minutes per game...said Dick Motta, "I admire Scott's professionalism. That is the thing we talked about when we were trying to get him. Leadership and great experience is what he brings to our young team."...Jamal Mashburn said of Brooks: "He's scrappy. When Scott comes in for Jason (Kidd), he continues the pace."...Brooks' first game in a Dallas uniform - 2/26/95 at Indiana - was also the Mavericks' first game following Jim Jackson's season-ending ankle sprain 2/24/95 at New Jersey...Lucious Harris, who had been playing behind both Jason Kidd and Jackson in the Mavericks' backcourt, was inserted into Jackson's spot in the starting lineup and Brooks was installed as the backup point guard...in Brooks' second game with the Mavericks, he helped upend his former Houston teammates, 102-101, on 2/28/95...that night Brooks had 12 points (six in the fourth period) on 6-of-9 shooting with five assists, two steals and only one turnover in 23 minutes...in the Mavericks' 130-125 win at Golden State on 3/13/95, Brooks scored his Mavericks season-high 21 points (18 in the second half) on 7-of-9 shooting (4-of-5 three-pointers) in only 23 minutes...that win began the Mavericks' 9-1 run from March 13-30, a stretch in which Brooks averaged 11.4 ppg on 42-of-73 (.575) shooting, with 3.4 assists in 23.4 minutes...Brooks also made 20-of-25 (.800) free throws and 10-of-21 (.476) three-pointers during that streak...had a three-game run from March 13-17 of 15.7 ppg on .692 shooting in 24.0 minutes...scored 10 or more points in 12 of his 31 games with Dallas...his combined 5.8 ppg with Houston and Dallas gives Brooks his second-highest average for a season (averaged 6.3 ppg with the '92-93 Rockets)...had a season-high seven assists on two occasions, including the Mavericks' 102-100 double-overtime win at Cleveland on 3/20/95.

✓ Brooks has fouled out just once (with Minnesota at Portland on 11/29/90) in 530 career games, giving him an active streak of 364 consecutive games without a DQ entering '95-96...

Pro Capsule: Finished '94-95 with 530 career NBA regular season games - the most on the team and more than the combined total of 399 games played by Jason Kidd (79), Jamal Mashburn (159) and Jim Jackson (161)...Brooks' 29 career playoff games are also the most on the team - the only other Mavericks with playoff experience are Roy Tarpley (24 games), George McCloud (7) and Lorenzo Williams (1)...played in 73 games for the Rockets' 1993-94 NBA world championship team, averaging 5.2 ppg on .491 shooting (including 23-of-61 three-pointers)...scored in double figures 10 times in '93-94...during the Rockets' 23-1 start in '93-94, Brooks averaged 5.9 ppg on .495 shooting and 2.6 apg while regularly running the offense in the fourth period in place of starter Kenny Smith...equaled Doc Rivers' NBA record of five consecutive seasons with more steals than turnovers (1988-93)...Rockets' all-time leader in 3-point FG percentage (.407)...is the fourth player in Mavericks' history to have played on an NBA championship team, following Tom LaGarde ('78-79 Sonics), Joe Hassett ('78-79



Sonics), and Tony Campbell ('87-88 Lakers)...played in all 82 games with Houston in '92-93 after being acquired from Minnesota on 9/25/92, averaging 6.3 ppg on .475 shooting (including a career-best .414 three-point FG percentage) and 3.0 apg...played in all 82 games for Minnesota in '91-92, averaging 5.1 ppg on .447 shooting (including a team-leading .356 three-point FG percentage)...played in 80 games with Minnesota in '90-91 after being acquired from Philadelphia on 6/26/90, averaging 5.3 points and 2.6 assists per game...averaged 4.4 ppg and 2.9 apg in 72 games with Philadelphia in '89-90...played in all 82 games with Philadelphia in '88-89, averaging 5.2 ppg and 3.7 apg...signed as an undrafted free agent by Philadelphia on 9/23/88...in '87-88 played in 52 games with the Albany Patroons (CBA), averaging 8.7 ppg and 2.2 apg...earned first team All-CBA honors in '87-88 while leading Albany to the CBA championship...played for the Fresno Flames of the World Basketball League in '88.

▲ Jackson was outscored by the opponents' starting shooting guard just eight times in 51 games in '94-95 (for the season Jackson outscored the opponents' starting shooting guards 1302-764, an average margin of 10.8 ppg)...

Increased scoring average by 6.5 ppg from '93-94 to '94-95, the third-highest improvement in the NBA (Dana Barros led at 7.3 ppg followed by Scott Burrell at 6.7 ppg)...career scoring average stands at 20.8 ppg, third-highest in Mavericks history (trailing Mark Aguirre's 24.6 ppg and Jamal Mashburn's 21.6 ppg)...field goal percentage has risen from .395 in 28 games as a rookie in '92-93 to .445 in '93-94 to .472 last season...also raised rebound average last season from 4.7 rpg to 5.1...11/26/94 at the Nuggets scored a career-high/club-record-tying 50 points (17-28, 0-2, 16-17) with four rebounds and five assists in a career-high 48 minutes...played the entire second half and overtime of that game, scoring 39 points (including 16 points in the fourth period and 8 points in the overtime) to lead Dallas to a club record comeback of 25 points...hit a pair of free throws with :00.5 left in overtime to give the Mavericks the win...the 50 points tie the team record set by Mashburn on 11/12/94 at Chicago...received 35 votes (including two first team votes) for the All-NBA team — trailing Jamal Mashburn (64 votes), Patrick Ewing (51) and Michael Jordan (44) among players who did not make one of the teams...

On 2/21/95 at the Bullets scored a game-high 44 points with 10 rebounds, six assists and two steals in 45 minutes to rally Dallas to a 21-point comeback...scored 30 points on 11-of-15 shooting in the second half...scored 12 of Dallas' final 14 points...personally outscored the Bullets 16-15 in the fourth period...was his third game of 40-plus points in '94-95 (also 40 vs. Boston on 12/15 and a career-high 50 points on 11/26 at Denver)...had 20-plus points in 38 games and 30-plus points in 15 games...in 15 head-to-head matchups against the NBA's premier shooting guards in '94-95 (Hornacek, Rider, Richmond, Miller, Sprewell and Drexler), Jackson held his man to 18.3 ppg on .446 shooting...

His 29.8 ppg in November ranks as the third-highest scoring month in Mavericks history (Mark Aguirre averaged 32.3 ppg in Dec. 1983 and 30.5 ppg in Jan. 1984)...won the Incredible Universe/Dallas Mavericks Player of the Month Award in November and January (24.6 ppg with 5.8 rebounds and 3.3 assists)...led the team in scoring 28 times, rebounding twice and assists eight times...scored double-figures points in each of his first 50 games before seeing that streak snapped when he scored seven points in seven minutes before being injured on 2/24/95 at New Jersey...connected on 35-of-110 three-point attempts, setting career-highs in both makes and attempts (previous high was 21-of-73, .288, in '92-93)...

Jackson and Mashburn combined for 49.8 ppg, the second-highest scoring tandem in the NBA behind Orlando's O'Neal and Hardaway, who averaged 50.2 ppg...Mashburn and Jackson's combined 88 points at Chicago on 11/12/94 are the most two Mavericks have ever combined to score...here's a look at Jackson and Mashburn's biggest combined nights in 1994- 95:

MOST COMBINED POINTS BY JACKSON & MASHBURN

| Combined Points | Individually | Opponent | Date |
|---|---|---|---|
| 88 | Mashburn 50, Jackson 38 | at Chicago | 11/12/94 |
| 85 | Jackson 50, Mashburn 35 | at Denver | 11/26/94 |

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT JACKSON:

Dick Motta: "He's a stud. There are some great shooting guards in the league, but considering the upside of age, strength, height, attitude... if we got a call from anyone in the league on a two to trade for Jim, I don't think I'd take him. That's a pretty strong statement."

Popeye Jones: "Jim brings a lot of things to the court. He really is a professional. He's a leader. It seems like when we need a lift, Jim is always there to provide the scoring."

Joe Dumars, Detroit Pistons guard: "He's improved every year. That's what you want from a guy at that position. He's become one of the premier guards in the league."

Lenny Wilkens, Atlanta Hawks head coach: "The guy comes to play. What is there not to like about him? He can go outside or inside, he pushes the ball, he can defend. He's a guy that coaches notice, because he helps you win. And those guys never go unnoticed by coaches. We know. We see."

Rolando Blackman, Mavericks all-time leading scorer: "You need good players who are also an asset to what you're trying to do in the community. Fans gravitate toward the athlete who wants to do things with them. The Mavericks have a player like that in Jim Jackson."

Dick Motta: "I guess it's old-fashioned to call someone a solid citizen, but that's Jim Jackson — kind of a throwback to another time. I look at Jimmy and I see an individual who cares about his profession, cares about himself, cares about his fellow players and ▲ Jones' increase of 3.1 rebounds per game (from 7.5 as a rookie to 10.6 in '94-95) was tops in the NBA among players who qualified for the league leaders chart (70 games or 800 boards)...

Jones increased his scoring average by 4.5 ppg from 5.8 ppg as a rookie in '93-94 to 10.3 ppg in '94-95...in the wild, 156-147 double-OT win at Houston on 4/11/95, Jones scored 11 points with a game-high 21 rebounds (14 in the fourth period and two OTs) in 37 minutes...was his fifth game of 20-plus rebounds last season (one shy of matching Roy Tarpley's club record set in '87-88)...had 17 games of 15-plus rebounds...led in rebounding a team-best 38 times...posted a team-leading 30 double-doubles after recording a team-high 11 double-doubles in '93-94...had 45 games of double-figure boards, including a career-best run of seven-straight (12.0 rpg) from 2/17/95 through 3/2/95...had 44 games of double figure points...had seven games of 20-plus points (he had none as a rookie in '93-94)...twice he scored 20-plus points in back-to-back games: Dec. 13-15, 1994 vs. the Lakers (21) and vs. Boston (25); and Feb. 24-26, 1995 at New Jersey (20) and at Indiana (20)...

Twice hit game-winning shots, something he says he had never done before at any level of basketball: the first game-winner came on 2/28/95 vs. the Rockets...with Dallas trailing 101-99, Jones rebounded a Jamal Mashburn miss and sank a 10-foot follow shot with 23.9

seconds remaining, despite Chucky Brown hanging on Jones' left arm and Hakeem Olajuwon hitting Jones across the face...Jones converted the free throw to finish the three-point play and put Dallas ahead 102-101...Jones was also the hero on 3/17/95 vs. the Sixers...he hit the game-winner, a five-foot jumper off a pass from Kidd, with 4.5 seconds to play in the Mavericks' 103-101 win...was voted by the media the Incredible Universe/Mavericks Player of the Month for December when he averaged 13.1 ppg on .497 shooting with 11.6 rebounds...also won the award in February when he averaged 11.9 ppg and 11.3 rebounds...missed just two games to injury: Jan. 11-12, 1995 when he was shelved with back spasms.

Pro Capsule: In '93-94, Jones tied Sam Perkins' club rookie rebound record (set in '84-85) by grabbing 605 rebounds...averaged 7.5 rebounds per game in '93-94 - third among all rookies (trailing Chris Webber's 9.1 rpg and Vin Baker's 7.6 rpg)...that 7.5 rebounding average is the highest rookie rebounding average in Mavericks history (was 7.4 by Perkins)...was selected to participate in the inaugural Schick Rookie Game on All-Star Saturday in Minneapolis...in that game, Jones scored four points with seven rebounds and five assists in 19 minutes as his squad, the Sensations (which included Jamal Mashburn), lost to the Phenoms, 74-68...Dallas was the only club with two players in the rookie game...as a rookie, started 39 of the first 40 games (averaging 8.5 rebounds in 25.4 minutes per game) but came off the bench in 33 of the last 41 games (6.5 rpg in 18.5 mpg)...in '93-94, led Dallas with 11 double-doubles and led in rebounding 35 times...had nearly as many offensive rebounds (299) as defensive rebounds (306)...Jones' 18 boards on 12/14/93 vs. Portland were his season high and the most by a Dallas rookie since Roy Tarpley grabbed 18 at Utah on 4/8/87...as a rookie had 17 games of 10-plus points, including a season-high 16 points on 4/16/94 vs. Sacramento...his career-high five blocked shots on 11/9/93 vs. New Jersey were the most by a Maverick in '93-94...played the 1992-93 season in the Italian League, averaging 21.1 points and 13.3 rebounds with Milano Teorematour.

College Capsule: In 1991-92 as a senior at Murray State, Jones led all Division I rebounders with 14.4 rpg...also averaged 21.1 points and 2.4 assists per game...was a three-time All-Ohio Valley Conference first team selection...recorded 25 double-doubles as a senior...finished his career as Murray State's all-time leader in rebounding (1,374), second in scoring (2,057) and third in steals (159) and blocked shots (87)...as a sophomore won first of back-to-back OVC Player of the Year awards after averaging 19.5 ppg and 11.2 rebounds...ranked second in the nation in rebounding as a junior (trailing only Shaquille O'Neal), averaging 20.2 points and 14.2 rebounds...was named OVC Player of the Year and Male Athlete of the Year as a junior...as a senior scored a career-high-tying 37 points and grabbed 19 rebounds against Southern Illinois, and collected 20 points and 20 rebounds against Middle Tennessee State...selected to the OVC All-Freshman team in 1989, averaging 5.8 points and 4.6 rebounds.

Personal Capsule: Given name is Ronald Jerome Jones...was nicknamed "Popeye" by his bother David, when their mother, Anna Bondurant, brought "Popeye" home from the hospital as a newborn. David happened to be watching the Popeye cartoon show on television when his mother and new baby brother arrived at home...Jones, who weighed 310 pounds as a college freshman, has transformed himself into an NBA player through hard work in the weight room and on the court...an accomplished all-around athlete, in high school Jones was all-state in football as an offensive lineman, all-district as a defensive lineman and played shortstop (at 275 pounds) on the state championship baseball team..."I heard some people were surprised that he played shortstop in high school," Dick Motta says. "Not me. He has absolutely great hands and feet. This guy's an athlete." On playing shortstop Jones says, "I didn't cover a lot of ground, but my coach knew how to position me. I was good. If I could get to it, I could make the play."...an avid player of video games, Jones says John Madden Football is his favorite game...says his closest friend in the NBA is Milwaukee's Todd Day...one of Jamal Mashburn's closest friends, Jones says he regularly beats Mashburn in post-practice games of H-O-R-S-E...a fan of NASCAR racing...is 35 hours shy of a degree in Safety and Health Engineering...considered one of the club's best at speaking to youth groups...says Jones: "I want kids to understand I am just a regular human being. I want to be out there and talk to them, shake their hands, laugh with them. I think too often they look at athletes like we are gods or somebody special. I just want them to know that if they work hard enough, they can be like me."...reviewed movies with partner Tony Dumas on the JumboTron scoreboard last season as part of the highly popular Blockbuster Video Players on Film feature...grew up a fan of Chicago's Cubs and Bears...boyhood idol was Julius Erving, but Jones also studied Moses Malone's work on the boards for the Sixers...lists Norman Schwarzkopf as the one person he'd most like to meet...Michael Jackson is his favorite musician...wears a size 15 shoe.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT JONES:

Dick Motta: "Popeye's made more improvement in one year than any player I've ever seen. He's an animal of a worker. He's the type of story you cheer for - the underdog who's not supposed to make it, the fat kid on the block who hasn't got a chance. He's a great testimony to summer workouts. He has a great deal of pride in getting the rebound and now he's developing other parts of his game. I didn't think he'd ever be a shooter, but he is."

Hakeem Olajuwon: "He goes to the offensive boards as hard as anyone. He's young and still learning, but he has the right attitude. Every time a shot goes up, you'd better find him, because he'll end up around the ball."

Hall-of-Famer Bob Lanier: "Popeye Jones. Like him. Hungry. Makes a lot of things happen on the offensive glass. You've gotta really concentrate on him. You cannot sleep on his shot because he can stick that 15-, 16-footer in your face as well. (He's an) up-and-coming young star."

Suns Head Coach Paul Westphal: "He's a relentless rebounder and a perfect complementary piece to the other guys on this team."

Jamal Mashburn: "How can you not be a fan of Pops? He took the hard road to the NBA and he plays every day like a guy who really appreciates his chance. He's our Dennis Rodman, without the other stuff. Popeye has a nose for the ball. A lot of people say rebounding is about getting to the right spot at the right time, but he takes it to another level. It's like a science for him. He knows where the ball is coming off the backboard and he has long arms that help him out a whole lot. A rebound for him is like a basket for me. That's how he looks at it. I wouldn't trade him for the world."

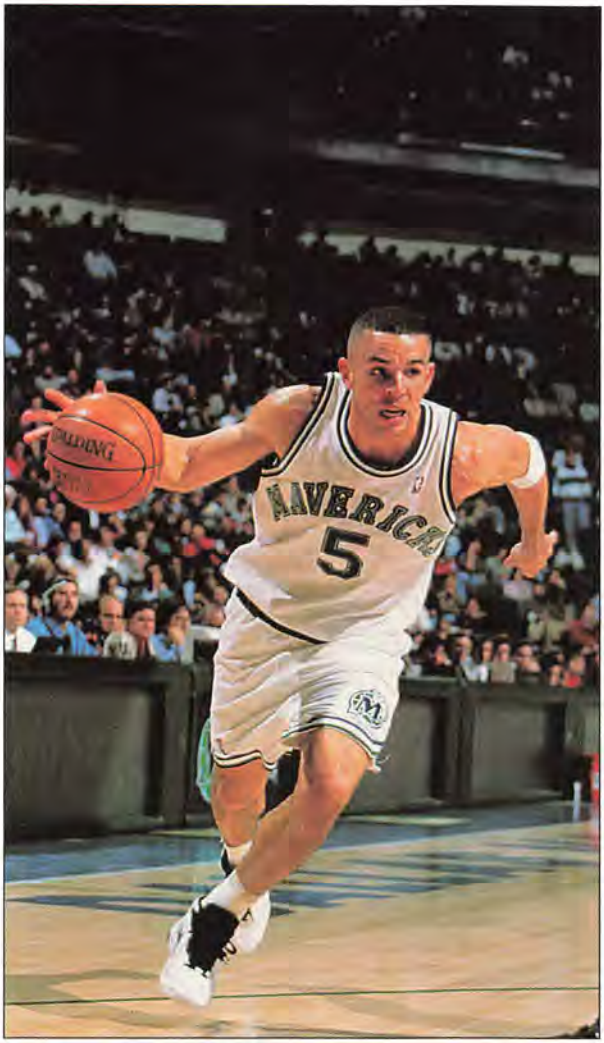
▲ Kidd was the only unanimous selection to the 1994-95 NBA All-Rookie first team...joining Kidd on the first team were Grant Hill, Glenn Robinson, Eddie Jones and Brian Grant...

Had the biggest impact of any rookie in the NBA in '94-95 and tied for fourth on the all-time NBA rookie impact list (see chart on page 36), leading his team to 23 more wins than it recorded the year before, despite playing in the highly competitive Western Conference...impact was felt immediately, posting a near triple-double in his first NBA game (10 points, 11 assists and 9 rebounds), while leading the Mavericks to a 112-103 opening night win over the Nets in Reunion Arena...went on to post an NBA-leading four triple-doubles...finished the season tied for ninth in the NBA in assists (7.7 per game) and seventh in the league in steals (1.91 per game)...he is the only rookie to finish ranked in the top 10 in two statistical categories...3/20/95 was named NBA Player of the Week for the week ending 3/19/95 (averaged 20 ppg with 10.5 assists during the week as the Mavericks went 3-1)...was the only rookie to win the award in '94-95...named NBA Rookie of the Month for March after averaging 16.6 ppg, 7.6 assists and 4.3 rebounds as the Mavericks went 10-6 without Jim Jackson (was also voted by the media as the Incredible Universe/Mavericks Player of the Month)...when Jackson's season ended 2/24/95 at New Jersey (he suffered a third-degree sprain of his left ankle), Kidd took on more of the scoring burden and an increased leadership role...in his 30 full games (not including 4/2/95 at Boston when he played just nine minutes due to injury) after the Jackson injury, Kidd averaged 15.8 ppg with 5.3 rebounds and 8.2 assists as the Mavericks went 16-14 in that span...received 10 All-NBA team votes, twice as many as any other rookie and more than Robinson (5) and Hill (4) combined...

Led the NBA in triple-doubles, tallying four (all in a 16-day span in April)...had three triple-doubles in five games between 4/5/95 through 4/11/95: April 5 vs. the Lakers (19 points, 10 rebounds and 12 assists), April 7 vs. Minnesota (11 points, 10 rebounds and 13 assists) and April 11 at Houston (a career-high 38 points, 11 rebounds and 10 assists)...recorded his final triple-double of the season on 4/20/95 vs. the Spurs (10 points, 12 rebounds and 13 assists)...Dallas was 3-1 when he had triple-doubles (the only defeat was the 112-111 loss to the Spurs in the home finale)...was the only NBA player to have back-to-back triple-doubles in



'94-95 and the first NBA player to have back-to-back points/rebounds/assists triple-doubles since Larry Johnson did it March 18-19, 1993...Kidd is the first point guard to have back-to-back triple-doubles since Magic Johnson Feb. 19-21, 1991 ...he is the first NBA rookie to have back-to-back points/ rebounds/assists triple-doubles since at least '88-89...besides Kidd's four, the Mavericks have only four other triple-doubles in their history...since 1979 only seven other NBA point guards have more career triple-doubles than Kidd...

On 4/11/95 at Houston scored a career-high 38 points (including a club record eight three-pointers) with 11 rebounds, 10 assists and three steals in a career-high 49 minutes...scored 26 points in the fourth period and two overtimes, and hit all six of his three-point attempts in that span...stole a pass and hit a three-pointer with 22.3 seconds remaining in the first overtime to bring Dallas within 139-137 and then (following a Robert Horry free throw) drove the length of the court and hit a double-clutch, off-balance three-pointer to knot the score at 142 with 2.5 seconds remaining and force the second overtime...hit three three-pointers in the final 55 seconds of the first overtime to rally Dallas from a 139-128 deficit...his 38 points ties Glenn Robinson for the most points in a game by an NBA rookie last season...helped lead Dallas to nine comeback wins from double-digit deficits and an 11-9 record in games decided by four points or less...

Had 22 games of 10-plus assists and nine games of 10-plus rebounds...connected on 26 of his final 61 (.426) three-point attempts, including 19 of his final 43 (.442)...4/11/95 set a club record for three-pointers (8, in 12 attempts) — record was seven three-pointers by Lucious Harris on 4/8/95 vs. Seattle and by Derek Harper at Miami on 3/23/90...tied Harper's club record (Harper did it vs. Philly on 1/9/89) for three-point attempts (12)...Kidd's previous career-high for three-pointers was three (several times, most recently 4/5 vs. the Lakers)...connected on 70 three-pointers...had 48 games of double-figures points, nine games of 20-plus points and two games of 30-plus points (38 points at Houston on 4/11/95 and 30 points at Golden State on 3/13/95)...had 151 steals, breaking Harper's club rookie record (95, set in '83-84)...had 607 assists this season (the eighth-most ever by an NBA rookie), breaking Jamal Mashburn's club-rookie-record of 266 assists, set last season...led Dallas in scoring five times, rebounding three times and assists 60 times...participated in the Schick Rookie Game on All-Star Saturday (scoring four points with four rebounds and five assists)...was released from the hospital on 2/2/95 after spending three nights there due to dehydration and the flu (missed two games due to the sickness: 1/31/95 at Milwaukee and 2/1/95 at Minnesota).

| | Player | Season | Increase In Wins |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | David Robinson, S.A.* | '89-90 | +35 |

College Capsule: Entered the 1994 NBA Draft following his sophomore season at California...selected first team All-America by Associated Press and the U.S. Basketball Writers as a sophomore when he led the nation with 9.1 assists per game...was Pac-10 Player of the Year in '93-94...set Cal career steals record (204) in only two seasons...set Cal and Pac-10 season assists record with 272...led Pac-10 in assists and steals...set Cal and Pac-10 season steals record with 110 as a freshman...finalist for Naismith and Wooden awards, honoring the nation's outstanding player in 1993-94...as a sophomore, became first Cal player to earn first team All-America honors since Russ Critchfield in 1968...was also first Cal player and first sophomore ever to win Pac-10 Player of the Year honors...averaged 16.7 points, 9.1 assists, 6.9 rebounds and 3.1 steals per game...set Cal and Pac-10 record with 18 assists at Stanford on 1/20/94...posted four triple-doubles, including 18 points, a career-high 14 rebounds and 12 assists in an upset win over top-ranked UCLA on 1/30/94...in the summer of 1993 played on Team USA, averaging 8.4 points, 4.2 rebounds and 4.0 assists during five-game tour against European national teams...named national freshman of the year by a number of publications, including The Sporting News and USA Today, and Pac-10 Freshman of the Year in '92-93 after averaging 13.0 points, 7.7 assists and 4.9 rebounds per game...set an NCAA freshman steals record with 3.8 spg...set Cal record with eight steals against Washington on 1/28/93...as a freshman was one of only two players in the nation to rank in NCAA's top 10 in both assists and steals...led Cal to 1993 NCAA Tournament upset win over Duke with 14 assists, 11 points, eight rebounds and four steals...became only fifth freshman in conference history to be named All-Pac-10.

Personal Capsule: Sept. 3, 1994, upon signing with the Mavericks, Kidd presented a check in the amount of $46,100 to West Dallas Community Church pastor Arrvel Wilson, who used the money to purchase a basketball floor — a new gym had been constructed at the WDCC, but the church lacked the funds for a multi-purpose floor...Kidd made a similar donation in East Oakland...in a Fort Worth Star-Telegram July '95 poll of over 1,100 readers, Kidd placed second in the "favorite local athlete" category, trailing Troy Aikman and ranking ahead of Emmitt Smith...purchased a block of 30 season tickets ("Kidd's Kids") prior to the season to be used by underprivileged kids...says his biggest thrill of his rookie year was watching Jamal Mashburn and Jim Jackson each erupt for 50-point games ...worked on his backcourt moves with Jim Jackson during the offseason, with Jackson visiting him in Oakland and Kidd returning the favor by flying to Columbus, Ohio (Jackson's offseason home)...for years Kidd kept a Mavericks cap in the back of his mother's car ("I liked it because green is my favorite color, but I also saw myself playing in Dallas for some reason.")...all proceeds from the "Kidd Klub," the official Jason Kidd fan club, benefit the Jason Kidd Foundation, a charitable organization...the Oakland Tribune and University of California Athletic Department produced and sold a Kidd highlight film, the proceeds going to the Jason Kidd Basketball Scholarship Fund at Cal...led St. Joseph of Notre Dame H.S. to consecutive California Division I state titles with a 31-3 record in '90-91 and a 32-3 mark in '91-92...was named state player of the year after both of those seasons...finished his career as the state's all-time prep career assist leader with 1,155...won the Naismith Award as the nation's top high school player after his senior year when he averaged 25 points, 10 assists, seven rebounds and seven steals...was also named high school player of the year by several publications, including USA Today and Parade...played in the McDonald's All-America Game...Kidd also played baseball and soccer as a youth...was a standout centerfielder throughout high school (as a senior he batted .333 with a .500 on-base percentage while adding three homeruns and 20 RBIs on a team which went 27-5) and considered playing at Cal following his freshman year of basketball...a collector of baseball memorabilia, says his most prized possession is an autographed Ken Griffey, Jr. bat...a fan of R&B music, his favorites include Chante Moore and the Isley Brothers...his father, Steve Kidd, a supervisor at TWA before retiring last year, travelled to all but two of his college games and several Mavericks games...says he'll watch "anything with Robert DeNiro"...favorite movie is A Bronx Tale...favorite actress is Julia Roberts...an avid golfer, whose goal is to one day make a hole-in-one...owns a Rottweiler named Mia given to Kidd by former Texas A&M football star Sam Adams...grew up a fan of the Oakland A's and Oakland Raiders...says the one historic person he'd most like to meet is President John F. Kennedy...favorite food is Chinese...is an avid newspaper reader...shoe size is 13 1/2...given name is Jason Frederick Kidd.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT KIDD:

Dick Motta: "Jason is something special. He's one of those players who makes everyone around him a little better. It's no accident that Jimmy and Jamal are putting up the kind of numbers they are. He's the best (rookie) I've ever had, and I've had a bunch of good ones."

Gregg Popovich, San Antonio general manager: "Jason Kidd revitalized that whole city with his enthusiasm, leadership and unselfishness. Every coach would fight to have Kidd on his team because of his character qualities, as well as his ability. Competitively, he's like (Larry) Bird and Magic (Johnson) and Michael (Jordan). No one competes like this guy."

Larry Brown, Pacers head coach: "Jason's as good of a player as there is in this league. The things he does for his team, unfortunately, don't really measure in the stats. It's just like John Stockton, who's probably my favorite in the league. We're so lucky, as coaches, to have someone in the league like Jason. This kid is unique."

Mike Dunleavy, Milwaukee Bucks head coach: "As far as a point guard, (Jason Kidd) has some of the greatest passing skills I have ever seen. I would put him in a class with Magic (Johnson) and (John) Stockton."

Bob Hill, San Antonio Spurs head coach, following Dallas' 124-121 overtime win in San Antonio on Dec. 6: "He's a man. He manhandled us, kicked our butts all night. His stats don't mean a thing. He's special. He played like a veteran."

Magic Johnson: "(Jason) is the NBA's best point guard at making his teammates look good."

Cedric Ceballos, Los Angeles Lakers forward: "I know Grant Hill is the latest flava, spelled with an A, but Jason Kidd has all 31 flavors. Kidd may have more of an impact on the game than either of the other two guys (Hill or Glenn Robinson) because he controls the flow. His impact on the game is amazing, especially for a guy who isn't even shooting lights out. But he does so many other things to kill you that won't show up in the boxscore."

Charles Barkley, Phoenix Suns forward: "I think that Jason Kidd is one of the most advanced and talented players to come into the league in a long time. He and Anfernee Hardaway (last year) might be the best rookies in the last 10 years... They're the only ones who came in with complete games."

Bryan Burwell, USA Today: "(Kidd) owns a smooth, below-the-rim game that is directly descended from such gravity-restricted masters as Magic Johnson, Larry Bird, Oscar Robertson and Isiah Thomas."

Marv Albert, NBC: "I voted for (Kidd) for rookie of the year. I thought what he did to help turn that club around was remarkable. With the departure of Jimmy Jackson, he had to pick up his offense. I admire (Kidd's) type of play. You so rarely see a true point guard. He plays so unselfishly. To me it's back to the days of Bob Cousy — that type of player. (Kidd) is a wonderful player to watch."

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT MASHBURN:

Eight-time NBA All-Star Dominique Wilkins: "Of all the young small forwards in the league, I think he's the best. I think Grant Hill is right behind him, and guys like (Glenn) Robinson. The thing about Mashburn is he can do it inside and outside consistently with no problem, and he handles the ball so well for a big guy. He reminds me of me six or seven years ago."

Dick Motta: "I think Jamal has the complete package. What can you say about the guy? He can do it all. He can post-up, or step outside. He has such great, natural scoring abilities. He has a chance to be a great one."

Indiana Pacers scout Al Menendez: "My main question (before the '94 draft) when everyone was raving about Glenn Robinson was, `How much better than Jamal Mashburn do you think he is?' I don't think he is at all."

Former Pistons and Nets Head Coach Chuck Daly: "He reminds me a lot of (Larry) Bird. He's a passer who has a post-up game and an outside game. I was shocked at his range and his shooting ability for a player his size. He has a chance to be a premiere player in the game."

University of Kentucky Head Coach Rick Pitino: "Jamal is the complete player. He does all the things great players do—shoots it, catches it, passes it and defends. He can post up as well as any player I've coached. But I think the one thing people kind of overlook is that Jamal has a tremendous feel for the game. He makes good decisions. He is a summa cum laude of basketball."

nation's outstanding player...was voted first team All-America by Associated Press, receiving more votes than any other player...was also voted first team All-America by Basketball Digest, Basketball Weekly, NCAA Preview, Street & Smith and Dick Vitale's Basketball...played for the USA Basketball Select Team which scrimmaged against the U.S. Olympic Dream Team during the summer of 1992...finished his three-year career ranked fourth on Kentucky's all-time scoring list with 1,843 points, trailing only Dan Issel, Kenny Walker and Jack Givens...started all 98 games while at Kentucky...selected to All-East Regional and All-Final Four teams during the 1993 NCAA Tournament.

Personal Capsule: In May 1995 Mashburn and Jim Jackson were two of six NBA players recognized by Sports Illustrated in a "Scorecard" item on players who have shown an exemplary commitment to their communities...in conjunction with Fila USA, Mashburn in April 1995 launched a $350,000 campaign to refurbish playground backboards at all 201 Dallas public schools...in May 1994, Mashburn donated $500,000 to endow the Kentucky Excel Incentive Scholarship program...here's how the program works: Each year six eighth grade students are selected on the basis of financial need, written essays, interviews and recommendations from teachers. For each year the student maintains a 2.5 GPA he or she will have one year's tuition paid at Kentucky. "This feels better than winning any championship," Mashburn says. "It's the feeling that you can help people grow. I see this as my chance to give something back to the people who have helped me and to help those students who may not otherwise get a chance. My mother told me at a young age that if I didn't get an athletic scholarship, I probably wouldn't be able to go to college. That's not fair to kids. Everybody should have that opportunity."...for the second consecutive season he has purchased 30 season tickets - a section known as "Mash's Corner" - to be distributed through Texas Special Olympics...says he likes the idea of being a role model: "It's a thing I want to do. It makes me feel good."...Kentucky coach Rick Pitino called Mashburn "a summa cum laude of basketball," referring to the forward's knowledge and feel for the game...a dedicated weight lifter and conditioning buff, Mashburn can bench press over 300 pounds...a video game fan, his favorites include John Madden Football, PGA Golf II and Ms. Pacman...as a senior in 1990, he led Cardinal Hayes High School in the Bronx to its first New York City championship since 1944...as a youth honed his basketball skills at Holcombe Rucker Memorial Playground, the legendary New York street-ball haven, which has produced the likes of Connie Hawkins and Julius Erving...grew up in the Ralph J. Rangel projects in Harlem...beginning at age 13, Mashburn played for the Gauchos, a New York AAU team...while traveling with the Gauchos as a teenager, Mashburn played against Chris Webber and Anfernee Hardaway...Mashburn's father, Bobby Mashburn, is a former heavyweight fighter who fought Ken Norton and Larry Holmes, and sparred against Muhammad Ali (Jamal remembers having his picture taken as a kid with Ali)...Bobby Mashburn retired last year after 20 years with the New York City Police Department...owns a pet golden retriever named Scooby...says Denzel Washington would be his choice to star in a movie of Mashburn's life...lists a cruise to the Bahamas as his favorite vacation...says Arthur Ashe is the one person from history he wishes he could have met...afraid of heights...enjoys playing golf...wears a size 16 shoe.

Personal Capsule: Meyer, who hails from tiny Ruthven, Iowa, watched the draft from the local firehouse: "Our fire department cleared out all the firetrucks," Meyer said. "We only have about 700 people in town. They got the big screen, and they were watching that. I went home when I wasn't getting picked in the teens and in the twenties. I went outside and started playing basketball with my dad and my uncle. We started playing three-on-three. My sister ran out of the house and hugged me and said that I had been picked. Somebody told me that I went to the Mavericks. It's a great feeling to go to a team like that, that's up and coming. Everybody knows that they are going to be a force in the NBA."...wears the No. 40 in memory of University of Iowa player and AAU teammate Chris Street, who was killed in a car accident in 1993...says his closest friend in the NBA is Los Angeles Clippers rookie Brent Barry...majored in speech communications at Iowa State...fan of Dr. J and the 76ers growing up...also rooted for the Dallas Cowboys, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Philadelphia Phillies...while attending a youth basketball clinic in Iowa, Meyer once asked former Iowa Hawkeye and current NBA guard B.J. Armstrong for his autograph...collects baseball cards and compact discs...favorite pre-game meal is spaghetti and chicken breasts...favorite movie is the Shawshank Redemption and lists Clint Eastwood, Chris Farley and Jim Carey as his favorite actors...favorite musician is Jim Morrison...his greatest accomplishment outside of basketball is hitting a grand slam and being selected MVP of a high school baseball tournament as a freshman...claims to be a good singer in the shower...nicknamed "Spike" by citizens in his hometown of Ruthven...single...wears a size 18 shoe, the biggest on the team...given name is Loren Henry Meyer.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT MEYER:

Director of Player of Personnel Keith Grant: "He is a blue collar guy and we really, really like him. I'd like to think he is a big part of our future. He is not afraid of work. We saw him in the Phoenix Classic and we watched a lot of video. We made phone calls with coaches and we were very impressed."

Oklahoma Head Coach Kelvin Sampson: "I've been really impressed with (Meyer) all season. If Bryant Reeves is the No. 1 center in the (Big Eight), then Meyer is a close No. 2. He's athletic, he's a good foul shooter and he gets to the foul line a lot."

Loren Meyer: "I'd rather be labeled a blue-collar, hard worker. I'd rather play against a guy with a lot of talent who doesn't work hard than a guy with average skills that will bust his tail every night."

▲ Parks only missed two games in four seasons, finishing with a streak of 128 consecutive games played...started 96 of the Blue Devils' 97 games his last three seasons, including his final 75...

Personal Capsule: Earned a degree in history from Duke...given name is Cherokee Bryan Parks...his mother Debe chose the name Cherokee after discovering that her husband Larry's great-grandmother was full-blooded Cherokee...eventually, Parks' mom gave him the option of changing his name (he liked the name "Steve"), but he says he's glad he stuck with Cherokee ("I really didn't get picked on a whole lot, because I was bigger than everyone else,"Parks says)...a Parade high school All-America, Parks posed with Jason Kidd on the cover of the November 1990 issue of Cal-Hi Sports magazine...lists Larry Bird as his favorite basketball player...says his secret ambition is to play in a rock band...first job was working in a video store...favorite actor is Harrison Ford and favorite movies are Patriot Games, The Fugitive and The Hunt for Red October...avid reader who lists The Basketball Diaries, Jurassic Park and Gerald's Game as a few of his favorite books...Orange Julius is his favorite drink...enjoys weight training and conditioning work...wears a size 15 shoe...says when he retires he could see himself working for the NBA in Europe...says philosophy was his favorite class at Duke...his mom's chicken soup is his favorite food...bowling is his favorite sport besides basketball...also played baseball, football and soccer while growing up...stood 6-4 in the seventh grade, which is when he first dunked the ball...Egypt is the country he'd most like to visit, "to see the Pyramids"...has two sisters: 9-year-old Madison and 25-year-old Corey, a model...Parks attended nine elementary schools while moving with his mother and sister Corey back and forth between California, Colorado and Nevada...says those nomadic days have provided some of his fondest memories ...credits his mom for instilling in him the importance of respecting others... married his wife Anne-Marie, an MBA student at NYU, on 6/4/95.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT PARKS:

Duke Head Coach Mike Krzyzewski: "All I can say is that in basketball, I thought Cherokee always worked very hard. He was driven, he was a great kid to coach. I think people will be surprised. People think of him as some type of California crazy guy. He's not like that. He has a lot of old fashioned values. I think he gets that from his mom and his grandparents."

Dick Motta: "If you would've told me before the draft we'd walk away with (Parks and Loren Meyer), I'd have told you to go put on a straitjacket. We're floating on air. In every scenario we plotted, Parks went in the top 10. He has a great pedigree. He can be a solid part of our eight-man rotation at both forward and center and eventually be a starter."

Jason Kidd: "We got the player we wanted. He's got a big body, he can shoot and he's another piece to the puzzle, an important piece. He plays very hard. We all want to get to the playoffs and he can help us win."

▲ Williams has played all 116 games since signing with the Mavericks in Feb. 1994, the longest active streak on the team...

Pro Capsule: In 1993-94 went to training camp with Boston, the team he finished 1992-93 with, but was the final player released...was signed by Orlando (his second tour with the Magic) on 11/30/93 when Keith Tower suffered a sprained foot...Williams played three games with the Magic (totalling two points and four rebounds in 19 minutes) before being waived on 12/22/93...on 12/31/93 Williams signed with Charlotte (his second tour with the Hornets) where he played one game (no points, four rebounds, two blocks in 19 minutes) before being waived on 1/5/94...Williams reported to the CBA's Rockford Lightning, where he averaged 8.2 points, 12.6 rebounds and 3.4 blocks in 14 games...was signed by the Mavericks to take the roster spot vacated when Terry Davis (left elbow) went on the injured list for the duration of the season...played 34 games for the Mavericks, averaging 3.2 points on .466 shooting with 6.1 rebounds (second-highest average behind Popeye Jones' 7.5) and 1.21 blocked shots in 19.9 minutes per game...his 41 blocks ranked second on the team to Sean Rooks' 44...made 11 starts at center, all in a 17-game stretch between 2/26/94 and 4/2/94...as a starter averaged 4.6 points on .471 shooting with 7.3 rebounds and 2.09 blocks in 24.5 minutes...was not drafted after completing his career at Stetson in 1991...in the summer of '91 averaged 9.1 points, 8.6 rebounds and 2.2 blocks in 21 games with the USBL's Miami Tropics...spent the 1991-92 season with the Fayetteville Flyers of the now-defunct Global Basketball Association, earning All-Star recognition by averaging 8.5 points, 8.9 rebounds and 2.4 blocks in 68 games...returned to the USBL in the summer of '92, averaging 12.5 points, 10.2 rebounds and 3.7 blocks for the Palm Beach Stingrays...was signed as a free agent by Charlotte on 10/2/92...Williams played two games (totalling two points and nine rebounds in 18 minutes) before being waived on 11/12/92... went to Rockford, but earned the earliest call-up in CBA history when Orlando signed him on 11/25/92...in three games with the Magic, Williams had two rebounds in 10 minutes before being waived on 12/10/92...went back to the Rockford Lightning, where he averaged 9.5 points and 10.9 rebounds with 3.9 blocks (including a league-high 10 blocks vs. Wichita Falls on 12/29/92) on his way to a berth on the American Conference All-Star team...just prior to the CBA All-Star game, the Celtics on 1/11/93 signed Williams to the first of two 10-day contracts...on 2/1/93 Boston signed him for the remainder of the season...in 22 games with Boston (seven starts) in '92-93 Williams averaged 1.5 points on .516 shooting with 2.0 rebounds in 6.9 minutes...he also blocked 14 shots in 151 minutes...Williams' best game with the Celtics was an 11-rebound, 17-minute effort vs. the Lakers on 1/31/93... Williams appeared in one first-round playoff game for the Celtics, a three-minute stint in Game 3 vs. Charlotte.

College Capsule: Played two seasons at Polk Community College in Winter Haven, Fla. before transferring to Stetson...as a senior at Stetson averaged 9.2 points on .540 shooting with 10.1 rebounds per game...that 10.1 rebound average was the highest in school history...left Stetson as the school's fifth all-time leading rebounder, with 581 (9.2 rpg) in two seasons...departed as the Trans America Athletic Conference's all-time leader in blocked shots.

Personal Capsule: Majored in sociology at Stetson...nicknamed "Lo" and "Zo"...says Larry Johnson is the player he most enjoys playing against because of Johnson's charisma and love of the game...enjoys fishing...rooted for Julius Erving and the 76ers as a kid...also a fan of the Miami Dolphins and Atlanta Braves...calls Xavier McDaniel his best friend in the NBA...says Clint Eastwood is the one person he'd most like to meet...lists Jurassic Park as his favorite all-time movie and Luther Vandross as his favorite musical artist...first dunked a ball as an eighth-grader...says the worst thing about being tall is "people measuring themselves on me."...wears a size 16 shoe...is engaged to Janetta Graham, a former Palm Beach Community College basketball player, who met Williams while he was playing for the USBL's Palm Beach Stingrays...the couple has played one-on-one several times, "I've beat him maybe once or twice," said Graham. "He can't beat me off the dribble, but he's such a good shot blocker."

WHAT THEY"RE SAYING ABOUT WILLIAMS:

Dick Motta: "Lo is an underdog. He can play on my team any day of my life. He was a warrior on the court for us this season."

Jamal Mashburn: "He's one of my favorite teammates. What's most special about Lorenzo is how unselfish he is off the court. He'd give you the shirt off his back. He doesn't say much, but you always know what he's thinking. He's a great guy."

Jim Jackson: "Lorenzo is a great asset. He was a steal for us. He makes big plays. He blocks shots and rebounds. He just goes out and does what the coach says. He asks for nothing. Every team needs a player like that."

1995 – Scott Brooks (From Houston for Morlon Wiley and a 1995 second-round draft choice on Feb. 23, 1995)

FUTURE DRAFT CHOICES

The Mavericks, who added two first-round draft choices in 1995, hold three more first-round picks in the next two drafts. In addition to their own selections, the Mavericks hold New York's first-round choice in 1997 (from the January 1994 Derek Harper trade). If the 1997 Knicks choice falls in the top five selections, the Mavericks will receive the pick in 1998. The Mavericks also hold Minnesota's first-round choice in either 1998 (from the November 1994 Sean Rooks trade). If Minnesota's 1996 is a lottery pick, the Mavericks receive the Timberwolves 1997 pick. If the 1-6 in the draft, then the Mavericks receive the pick in 1998 uncondi-Mavericks also have Chicago's second-round pick in 1996 (from the 92 Rodney McCray trade).

REUNION ARENA

One of the truly outstanding arenas when it opened in 1980, Reunion Arena is home for the Mavericks, the Dallas Sidekicks of the Continental Indoor Soccer League, the Dallas Stars of the National Hockey League, and the Southwest Conference Basketball Classic. It was also the site of the NBA All-Star Game and NCAA "Final Four" in 1986. Approximately 160 various events are scheduled for the coming year ranging from truck pulls and ice shows to a circus and numerous concerts.

Reunion Arena is one of the few NBA arenas without luxury suites and other amenities. Nevertheless, the Mavericks and Reunion Arena management have been committed to upgrading the quality of the facilities since Reunion Arena opened. Prior to the 1992-93 season, the Mavericks capacity at Reunion Arena was increased from 17,007 to 17,502 with the addition of 495 seats to the floor and concourse levels. The arena's sound system was also renovated and improved to add high-quality sound to the $5 million Sony JumboTron JTS-16 scoreboard/replay system that was added in 1990-91.

The 1990-91 season was a big year for Reunion renovation. In addition to the Sony JumboTron, the Big "D" Board, which tracks rebounds, blocked shots and steals, was added. Message boards throughout the arena were also upgraded to give fans better access to statistics, out-of-town scores and other information. The concession stand monitors were also upgraded from 19-inch to 27-inch screens.

In April 1987 the Reunion Parking Center opened. The five-level, 2,100-space parking garage expanded parking capacity by 1,500 spaces to 6,400. Additional concession space and restrooms were added to the lower level mall near section 127 that year as well.

Reunion Arena is equipped with the finest safety features. There's an easy-in, easy-out entrance and exit system and each section has its own entrance with the upper level only 51 steps away. Behind the scenes features of Reunion include modern rehabilitation and training facilities specially designed with rather tall athletes in mind. Eight-foot doorways and shower heads were installed to eliminate any off the court bumps and bruises.

MAVERICKS MAKE COMMUNITY SERVICES A PRIORITY

In the spring of 1995, Sports Illustrated selected six NBA players whose commitment to their communities were considered exemplary. Two of those six were Dallas Mavericks: Jamal Mashburn and Jim Jackson. Of those strongly considered for the piece was a third Maverick, Jason Kidd. All three have built exceptional community service resumes.

"This feels better than winning any championship," said Mashburn, after donating $500,000 to establish a scholarship fund for needy students at his alma mater, the University of Kentucky. "It's the feeling that you can help people grow. My mother told me at a young age that if I didn't get an athletic scholarship, I probably wouldn't be able to go to college. That's not fair to kids. Everybody should have that opportunity."

Mashburn made the donation to Kentucky after being drafted by the Mavericks in the summer of 1993. On May 3, 1994 the first six recipients of the Kentucky Excel Incentive Scholarships, endowed by Mashburn, were named. The six eighth-grade students all came from Kentucky's Fayette County and were chosen on essays they wrote, recommendations from teachers and counselors and individual interviews. For each year the students maintain a 2.5 grade point average, they will have one year's tuition at Kentucky paid. "I just want people to have the same opportunity I had," said Mashburn. "I don't want to just give money. I want to see results."

In April 1995, Mashburn reached out to his new home, Dallas. Teaming with Fila USA, Mashburn announced plans to donate at least one new backboard at each of the 201 Dallas public schools. Seven hundred students watched April 4, 1995 as Mashburn and Fila USA representatives unveiled the first new court at Ascher Silberstein Elementary in South Dallas. Total price of the entire program: $360,000.

Jim Jackson has adopted a more subtle approach. True, there was the $100,000 donation he made in October to Ohio State, which was to be split evenly between that university's Frank W. Hale, Jr. Black Cultural Center and the athletic department. But Jackson, who is also a spokesperson for D-FY-IT (Drug Free Youth in Texas) and Unsung Heroes, has also taken a very personal approach to his community work.

Each of the last two years, he has personally delivered Thanksgiving and Christmas gifts to Dallas families selected by the Oak Cliff Bible Fellowship outreach ministry. For Thanksgiving, Jackson supplied food for seven families. At Christmas seven families headed by single mothers were provided with food, toys, clothes for the children, and perfume for the mothers. Jackson had requested no publicity: "I know what I'm doing is right, and I don't need to have it publicized," he said. Fortunately, generosity has a way of publicizing itself.

During the 1993-94 season, Jackson conducted D-FY-IT basketball clinics for 16 schools at four sites. In '94-95, he invited student-athletes to be his guests at Mavericks games. Selected students received two tickets to a game, met Jackson before the game and had their pictures taken with them. "I like to work with kids," said Jackson. "These kids are our next president. Now is the time to reach them when they're young and receptive. If you reach only two or three children, that's an accomplishment."

Kidd's benevolence made headlines when he signed his Mavericks contract on Sept. 3, 1994. Kidd immediately wrote a check in the amount of $46,100 to the West Dallas Community Church to be used to purchase the multi-purpose maple floor the architect had recommended. The church's pastor, Rev. Arrvel Wilson, raised money for a new gym for the church and construction was completed in 1994. However, funds lacked for a basketball court until Kidd's contribution.

"Going over to the church I saw that they had only cement on the gym floor," said Kidd. "It's a great feeling to be able to help them get a basketball floor and give the kids a place to go. Growing up I always had a gym to go to, so this is a great way to give back to my new community, Dallas." The 1994-95 NBA Rookie of the Year has also refurbished a community court in his hometown of Oakland and plans on building a little league baseball stadium in Oakland, which will play host to area teams.

Kidd, who during the offseason has spoken and conducted clinics at Bay Area Boys and Girls Clubs, heads the Jason Kidd Foundation, which raises money for charitable organizations. Last season the Jason Kidd Foundation purchased 30 Mavericks season tickets to be distributed to underprivileged youths. The same was done by Mashburn, who bought 30 season tickets for Texas Special Olympics and became an official spokesperson on that organization's behalf. Lucious Harris has bought blocks of 25 tickets for charitable groups each of his two NBA seasons. At the end of each season, Harris has invited the children who have participated in the program to a picnic in their honor.

Mavericks forward Popeye Jones has also gotten in on the act, becoming, along with Scott Brooks, the club's premier speaker at area youth basketball camps. "Some kids don't have the opportunity to be superstars," said Jones. "I try to make them realize you don't have to be a superstar to make it in the NBA or in life. I tell them to work hard on their books and on their games. Hard work is what got me to the NBA."

In June 1995, the Mavericks kicked off their summer basketball camp program with a free camp held in conjunction with Fellowship of Christian Athletes on the West Dallas Community Center floor donated by Kidd. Jones was there to speak to the 100 youngsters who crammed the facility. Ten-year-old Charles Williams was one of the campers who sat in awe of Jones. "I watch all the games on TV," said Williams. "I recognized Popeye immediately." Charles' 15-year-old sister Charlene volunteered to assist the camp coaches during the week of the West Dallas camp. It was her way of offering support for the camp. "So often when you mention the problems of West Dallas, it seems as though nobody cares. Now with the Mavericks' involvement in our community, those ideas are changing."

Jamal Mashburn gives Carlos Aguirre, 5, an assist at Ascher Silberstein Elementary in South Dallas. Mashburn was on hand to announce a $360,000 backboard replacement program for Dallas public schools, underwritten by Fila USA and Mashburn.

NATIONAL NBA PROGRAMS

The NBA, its teams and players share a commitment to supporting programs dedicated to improving life for all people. For years, the NBA has created and implemented programs league-wide to address important social issues, with special emphasis on helping young people. This year's youth-based education programs will include: the NBA Stay in School program, created to encourage students to graduate from high school through school visits by NBA players and coaches; and conflict resolution workshops designed to train teachers and educate students in methods to resolve conflict without resorting to violence. Public service announcements and educational materials will also focus on the anti-violence/conflict resolution message.

The NBA continues its support of CARE, the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse and Special Olympics through television and radio PSAs and other awareness-building efforts. The NBA also creates PSAs in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Black History Month each year.

In addition, the NBA's 29 teams are making a difference across the United States and Canada, through active involvement in a multitude of outreach efforts pertinent to the needs of their respective communities.

Front Row (L-R): Tricia Covais, Leslie Shaw, Tara Vaughn, Lisa Holt, Wendy Clayton, Joelene Walker, Staci Stephens.*

The 1995-96 season is the seventh for the Dallas Mavericks Dancers. This year's squad of 18 includes nine returning veterans. The Dancers will appear at 24 Mavericks home games over the course of the regular season and will also make public appearances. The Dancers are under the direction of Manager of Game Operations/Merchandising Marty Faulkner. Choreography and dance instruction is under the direction of former Mavericks Dancer Donna Kolberg and Shannon Sheehan, a former Mavericks Dancer and five-year Laker Girl.

DALLAS MAVERICKS DC-9

In March 1994 the Mavericks began using the DC-9 purchased by owner Donald Carter for team travel. The interior of the plane has been completely refurbished and customized to meet the Mavericks' needs. The plane, which seats 46 passengers, is divided into three compartments: The forward cabin has 26 seats to be used by Mavericks staff, broadcasters and sponsors. The second compartment of eight seats, which includes monitors and VCRs for analyzing game tapes, is set aside for the coaching staff. At the aft is the 12-seat players' section and a 10-seat lounge area for watching videos and playing cards.

BROADCAST INFORMATION

TELEVISION

KDFI (Ch. 27), the Mavericks' new television home, will broadcast 30 games this season - the most extensive over-the-air broadcast package in team history. The lineup includes one home game, the Nov. 21 matchup against the Chicago Bulls. The other 29 games on the schedule are road dates. The entire 30-game schedule is listed on the schedule on the back cover.

KDFI-TV is programmed and marketed by KDFW-TV, the local Fox affiliate. The agreement also calls for a series of one-hour Mavericks specials to be run. "Channel 27 has experienced tremendous growth since Channel 4 began programming and marketing the station," said Mavericks President & General Manager Norm Sonju. "What really excites us are the cross-promotion possibilities between Channels 4 and 27. Our ratings were up 90 percent last season and we anticipate having strong ratings on Channel 27 as our team becomes even more competitive."

Five of the road games not included on the Ch. 27 schedule are slated to be televised nationally on either TNT or TBS. Two other road games not appearing on the schedule, April 13 at Houston and April 21 at San Antonio, are under consideration to be televised on NBC. That means, potentially, 36 of the Mavericks' 41 road games this season could be televised.

All 41 regular season home games will be televised. Prime Sports (formerly HSE) will cablecast 38 home games, while Ch. 27 will carry the "event" home against the Chicago Bulls. The other two games will be carried on NBC. The March 3 home game vs. Phoenix will be televised nationally on NBC, while the March 24 home game vs. New York will be regionally televised on NBC.

Overall, the Mavericks could make as many as 10 appearances on national television this season. The eight guaranteed appearances would be a franchise record.

RADIO

All preseason and regular season Mavericks games are broadcast on KLIF 570, in its second season as the club's flagship radio station. Each broadcast begins with a comprehensive 40-minute pregame show. KLIF's Walter Lynn will anchor the pre-game and halftime programming from the KLIF Sports Desk and will host a post-game call-in show. The broadcasts are fast paced with regular cut-aways to other NBA games and sports news updates from the studio. Mavericks Hour, a call-in format with Mavericks President & General Manager Norm Sonju and Director of Player Personnel Keith Grant, is heard on KLIF each Wednesday from 6-7 p.m. The popular Dick Motta Show will be back as a regular weekly feature every Tuesday on Norm Hitzges' morning show. New to the KLIF lineup for 1995-96 will be the Jim Jackson Show, heard each week during Mike Fisher's afternoon program. In 1994, KLIF established the Mavericks' first regular season radio network, which has become one of the NBA's largest. By mid-September the following stations had signed on for 1995-96: KFRO (Longview), KTOD (Conway/Little Rock, Ark.), KKYN (Plainview), KTBB (Tyler), KSST (Sulphur Springs), KYYD (Abilene), KHSP (Texarkana), KGVL (Greenville), KROD (El Paso), KGAS (Carthage), KTNZ (Amarillo), KSEY (Seymour), KBST (Big Spring), KKAM (Lubbock), KLAK (Sherman-Denison), KAND (Corsicana), KBWD (Brownwood) and KKAJ (Ardmore, Okla.).

THE TALENT

Veteran NBA announcer Jim Durham is back for his third season as the television play-by-play voice of the Mavericks. Durham calls the action on both the Prime Sports cablecasts and the KDFI (Ch. 27) games for '95-96. Durham, who served as Chicago Bulls play-by-play announcer for 18 seasons (1973-91), enters his 23rd year as an NBA broadcaster. Durham's extensive national experience includes Olympic Triplecast assignments for NBC in 1992, as well as play-by-play work for NBA Radio, TNT, ESPN and WGN.

Joining Durham once again on both the Prime Sports and KDFI (Ch. 27) broadcasts will be Bob Ortegel, the former head basketball coach at Drake University, in his seventh season as Mavericks TV analyst. Ortegel has 14 years experience as a television basketball analyst, including work on ESPN.

Veteran Dallas broadcaster Ted Davis is in his eighth season as the club's radio play-by-play announcer. Davis, who has also served as the play-by-play voice of Texas A&M and TCU football and basketball, is in his 22nd year as a broadcaster.

JASON KIDD'S OLYMPIC DREAM

Along with teammates Jim Jackson and Jamal Mashburn, Jason Kidd will be one of the NBA players strongly considered when the roster for Dream Team III is rounded out later this season. This past summer 10 of the 12 roster spots on USA Basketball's entry into the 1996 Summer Olympics were chosen.

"To represent the United States, to wear the red, white and blue uniform and to go out there and perform for my country, that's (my) main objective and main goal," said Kidd. "I had an opportunity in college to do that"(in 1993 during a summer tour vs. European teams) and it felt great to wear a jersey that said `USA'. That's the biggest thing. You see all the elite players—Michael Jordan, Larry Bird, Charles Barkley—they all have gold medals and I would love to have that in my repertoire. There are two spots still open. Hopefully my teammates will be on the team, Jimmy Jackson and Jamal Mashburn. I wouldn't mind backing up (Anfernee) Hardaway, Reggie Miller, Grant Hill or Glenn Robinson, I'll play any position. I'll even take Hakeem out if he needs a break."

GLOSSARY OF MEDICAL TERMS

Abrasion: Any injury which rubs off the surface of the skin.
Achilles Tendon: The thick tendon at the distal portion of the calf that connects the gastrocnemius (calf) muscle to the heel.
Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL): A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint. A complete tear of the ACL necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.
Arthroscopy: A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by means of viewing through an arthroscope. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of any damage or confirm a diagnosis.
Cartilage: Smooth, slippery substance preventing two ends of bones from rubbing together and grating.
Contusion: An injury to a muscle and tissues caused by a blow from a blunt object.
Dislocation: Complete displacement of joint surfaces.
Fracture: Break in continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick, incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress or transverse.
Inflammation: The body's natural response to injury in which the injury site might display various degrees of pain, swelling, heat, redness and/or loss of function.
Ligament: Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone or bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.
Lumbar Vertebrae: Five vertebrae of the lower back that articulate with the sacrum to form the lumbosacral joint.
Lumbosacral: Region of low back comprised of lumbar and sacral spine.
Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI): Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react to this pulse and through this process a computer display and permanent film establish a visual image. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc and meniscus injuries.
Meniscus: Crescent shaped cartilage, usually pertaining to the knee joint; also know as "cartilage." There are two menisci in the knee, medical and lateral. These work to absorb weight within the knee and provide stability.
Sprain: A joint injury. A violent twisting, stretching, pulling or tearing of a ligament. 1st Degree–A stretching, but no tear of a ligament. Athlete may be able to continue to play or usually return to play in a few days. 2nd Degree–A partial tear of a ligament. Bracing may be required. Athlete will usually miss one to four weeks. 3rd Degree–A complete tear of a ligament. Depending upon ligament involved, bracing or even surgery may be required. Athlete is usually out from three weeks up to twelve months depending upon course of treatment.
Strain: A muscle injury. The stretching, pulling or twisting of a muscle or tendon. 1st Degree–A stretching but no tear of muscle or tendon. Athlete may be able to continue to play or usually return to play in a few days. 2nd Degree–A partial tear of a muscle or tendon. Athlete will usually miss one to four weeks. 3rd Degree–A complete tear of a muscle or tendon. Depending upon muscle or tendon involved, surgery may be required. Athlete is usually out from six weeks to six months.
Stress Fracture: A hair-line type of break in a bone caused by overuse.
Tendinitis: Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, caused by chronic overuse or sudden injury.
Tendon: Tissue that connects muscle to bone.

TICKET INFORMATION

In addition to the Reunion Arena box office, Mavericks tickets are available at all Dillard's stores.

Reunion's main box office is located on the north side of the arena (near the flagpoles) and is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Tickets may be ordered with Visa, MasterCard and American Express by dialing 214/939-2800. A limited number of tickets will be held to go on sale one week in advance of each home date.

The Target TREATSEAT ticket promotion is back for its third year. Fans who stop by any area Target store can pick up a voucher good for $3 off tickets in the $15 and $19 sections. No purchase is required for the voucher. The vouchers are accepted for selected weekday Mavericks games.

Dr Pepper Family Nights are back for a fourth season. A family of four can purchase four tickets, parking, four regular hot dogs and four Dr Pepper soft drinks for $49.00 for selected home games.

Discounted tickets for groups of 24 or more are available for most regular season home games. For complete group ticket information, call (metro) 214/988-0117.

HOW THE MAVERICKS WERE NAMED

In March 1980, radio station WBAP conducted a Name the Team contest. Over 4,600 entries were received and turned over to a five-person committee. The committee narrowed the choices to Mavericks, Wranglers, and Express, ultimately recommending Mavericks to owner Donald Carter. All 41 persons who suggested the name Mavericks were given two tickets to the charter season opener and in a drawing of those 41, Carla Springer was awarded a pair of season tickets.

1994-95 MAVERICKS NOTES

THE RECORD: The Mavericks finished their 15th NBA season with a record of 36-46, going 19-22 in Reunion Arena and 17-24 on the road...those 36 wins represent a 23-game improvement from 1993-94 (when Dallas went 13-69), the Mavericks' biggest one season turnaround in club history (was a 13-game improvement from 15-67 in '80-81 to 28-54 in '81-82) and the biggest turnaround in the NBA since the Cavaliers improved from 33-49 in '90-91 to 57-25 in '91-92...the Mavericks won 12 more games than they did the previous two seasons combined...the 36-46 mark is Dallas' best since going 47-35 in 1989-90...the Mavericks were 14-10 from March 13 to the end of the season, 18-17 after the All-Star break, 16-15 after the Jackson injury and 20-21 the last half of the season...the Mavericks recorded two winning months: November (7-4) and March (10-6, the first time for Dallas to win 10 games in a month since Feb. 1988)...Dallas' 10 wins in March were more than their last four months of March combined (8-54)...Dallas won 10 of its final 17 home games to register its best home mark (19-22) since going 20-21 in Reunion in 1990-91.

PASSING THE COMPETITION: The Mavericks, who had the worst record in the NBA the previous two seasons, passed 10 teams in wins in '94-95 (Boston, Miami, New Jersey, Philadelphia, Washington, Milwaukee, Detroit, Minnesota, Golden State and the Clippers)...the Mavericks' 18-17 record after the All-Star break was better than 15 teams, including five playoff teams (Boston, Cleveland, Houston, the Lakers and Portland).

BREAKDOWN: The Mavericks season can be broken down into three parts:

♦ After winning 110-107 at the Warriors on Dec. 20, the Mavericks stood 12-8 — one win shy of matching their win total of the 1993-94 season...it was Dallas' best start after 20 games since going 13-7 to begin the 1988-89 season...the Mavericks posted a 7-4 record in November, the Mavericks' first winning month since going 7-5 in April 1990...included in the fast start were overtime wins at Chicago (124-120 on Nov. 12), Denver (124-123 on Nov. 26) and a double-OT win at San Antonio (124-121 on Dec. 6).

♦ From Dec. 22 through Jan. 31, the Mavericks went 4-17 as they went into the teeth of the Western Conference and saw their overall record slip to 16-25...from Dec. 22 through Feb. 14, the Mavericks faced a 27-game stretch (7-20 was Dallas' record) against opponents with a combined final record of 1268-946 (.573)...included in that run was a five-game stretch from Jan. 15-23 where Dallas played at San Antonio, home games vs. Orlando, New York and Seattle and at Utah (those teams had a combined record this season of 291-119, .710).

♦ Beginning with a 104-83 win at San Antonio on Feb. 1, the Mavericks went 20-21 the last half of the season, including 14-10 in their final 24...in that stretch run were wins against the Lakers, the Hornets, the Rockets twice and the Jazz twice...from March 13-30 the Mavericks won nine-of-10, including a season-best six-game winning streak from March 20-30 (Dallas' first six-game winning streak since March 19-29, 1990)...the Mavericks finished March 10-6, the first time for Dallas to win 10 games in a month since going 10-5 in February 1988...Dallas went 16-15 after Jackson's season-ending injury (third-degree sprain of his left ankle) on Feb. 24.

TURNAROUND: The Mavericks won 23 more games than they did in 1993-94...prior to this season, the largest single season turnaround in Mavericks history was 13 games from 1980-81 (15-67) to 1981-82 (28-54)...here's a look at the top eight biggest turnarounds in NBA history:

| Team | Season | Improve | 1st Season | 2nd Season |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1. San Antonio | '89-90 | +35 | 21-61 | 56-26 |
| 2. Boston | '79-80 | +32 | 29-53 | 61-21 |
| 3. Milwaukee | '69-70 | +29 | 27-55 | 56-26 |
| 4. Phoenix | '88-89 | +27 | 28-54 | 55-27 |
| 5. Cleveland | '91-92 | +24 | 33-49 | 57-25 |
| 6. Dallas | '94-95 | +23 | 13-69 | 36-46 |
| Phoenix | '69-70 | +23 | 16-66 | 39-43 |
| Golden State | '88-89 | +23 | 20-62 | 43-39 |

Dick Motta was IBM/NBA Coach of the Month for November as the Mavericks went 7-4 for the month.

Lucious Harris started 30 of the final 31 games last season in place of the injured Jim Jackson and averaged 13.3 ppg.

IMPACT KIDD: Jason Kidd tied for fourth on the all-time rookie impact chart and is the highest ranking point guard on the list...here's a look at the top 10 impact rookies of all-time:

| | Player | Season | Increase In Wins |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | David Robinson, S.A.* | '89-90 | +35 |
| 2. | Larry Bird, Boston* | '79-80 | +32 |

| 10. | Wilt Chamberlain, Phil.* | '59-60 | +17 |

* Won Rookie of the Year

OFFENSE: The Mavericks averaged 103.2 ppg (9th in the NBA), their highest scoring average since 103.5 ppg in 1988-89...in 1993-94 the Mavericks finished last in the NBA in scoring at 95.1 ppg...Dallas scored 100-plus points 50 times, its most since doing it 50 times in 1988-89.

CLOSE GAMES: Dallas won back-to-back one-point games in '94-95 (84-83 Nov. 29 vs. Minnesota and 124-123 in overtime at Denver on Nov. 26) for the first time in club history...overall the Mavericks were 24-22 in games decided by 10 points or less, 11-9 in games decided by four points or less and 10-9 in games decided by three points or less...the Mavericks' 17 wins by six points or less were fifth most in the NBA...Dallas was 5-2 in overtime games, with each win coming on the road against playoff teams — Dec. 6 at SA, Nov. 26 at Denver, Nov. 12 at Chicago, March 20 in double-OT at Cleveland and April 11 at Houston...the five overtime wins are a club record.

MAVERICKS FIVE-0: When Jamal Mashburn (11/12 at Chicago) and Jim Jackson (11/26 at Denver) each scored 50-plus points in '94-95, it marked just the sixth time in NBA history for teammates to each score 50-plus points in a game in the same season (since then Dana Barros and Willie Burton of Philadelphia have done it)...here's the rundown:

Scott Brooks was acquired from the Rockets on Feb. 23, 1995 and stepped right in to back-up Jason Kidd.

The three J's led Dallas' 23 game turnaround.

| Season | Team | Players (times to reach 50-plus) |
|---|---|---|
| 1961-62 | L.A. Lakers | Elgin Baylor (6), Jerry West (2), Rudy LaRusso (1) |
| 1961-62 | St. Louis | Bob Pettit (1), Cliff Hagan (1) |
| 1968-69 | L.A. Lakers | Wilt Chamberlain (2), Jerry West (1) |
| 1979-80 | San Antonio | George Gervin (2), Larry Kenon (1) |
| 1984-85 | Boston | Larry Bird (1), Kevin McHale (1) |
| 1994-95 | Dallas | Jamal Mashburn (1), Jim Jackson (1) |
| 1994-95 | Philadelphia | Dana Barros (1), Willie Burton (1) |

JACKSON & MASHBURN: Jackson (25.7 ppg, 5th in the NBA prior to his injury) and Mashburn (24.1 ppg, 5th in the NBA) combined to average 49.8 ppg, the second-highest scoring tandem in the NBA behind Orlando's O'Neal and Hardaway, who averaged 50.2 ppg...Mashburn and Jackson's combined 88 points at Chicago on Nov. 12 are the most two Mavericks have ever combined to score...here's a look at Jackson and Mashburn's biggest combined nights in 1994-95:

| Date | Opponent | Individually | Combined Points |
|---|---|---|---|
| 11/12 | at Chicago | Mashburn 50, Jackson 38 | 88 |
| 11/26 | at Denver | Jackson 50, Mashburn 35 | 85 |
| 12/8 | vs. Washington | Mashburn 45, Jackson 26 | 71 |
| 12/5 | vs. New Jersey | Jackson 37, Mashburn 30 | 67 |
| 12/15 | vs. Boston | Jackson 40, Mashburn 27 | 67 |

REBOUNDING: Dallas was second in the NBA in rebounding percentage at .543 and tops in offensive rebounding percentage at .389...Popeye Jones averaged 10.6 rpg (tied for 9th in the NBA) while leading the NBA with 329 offensive rebounds...for the season Dallas outrebounded the opposition 48.1 rpg to 41.9 ppg...the Mavericks set club season records in '94-95 in rebounds (3,947 — was 3,836 in '87-88) and offensive rebounds (1,463 — was 1,341 in '87-88).

YOUTH SQUAD: The average age of the Mavericks regular starting five (Jackson/Kidd/Williams/Mashburn/Jones) was 23.4 years — the youngest of any team in the NBA...of that starting five, none had yet played three full NBA seasons and Popeye Jones (161 NBA games) is the most experienced.

SOARING POPULARITY: The Mavericks finished seventh in the NBA in road attendance at 16,953 per game (Orlando led at 18,679)...in 1993-94 the Mavericks ranked 22nd in the NBA in road attendance at 15,572 per game...by contrast, the other teams with high draft picks last season, Milwaukee and Detroit, averaged 16,803 (11th) and 16,401 (17th) respectively...Mavericks merchandise sales increased nationally 280 percent and ratings of their KTVT-TV telecasts jumped 90 percent ...the Mavericks averaged 16,547 fans per home game (94.5 percent of capacity), a 28.9 percent increase over 1993-94's 12,839 average.

POPEYE JONES' ITALIAN RENAISSANCE

Much of the groundwork for the success Popeye Jones experienced last season (when he finished tied for ninth in the NBA in rebounding at 10.6 rpg and led the NBA in offensive rebounding) was laid in 1992-93, when he averaged 21.1 ppg and 13.3 rebounds for Milano Teorematour of the Italian League. "When I got off the plane in Italy," recalls Jones, "the first thing that got me really worried was nothing was written in English. I was just lost.

"I had time to mature when I was over there, though. I realized I wanted a basketball career but I really didn't want to play in Europe. I had a lot of time to think, and I decided if I put all my time into basketball and treated it like a job, I could make something out of this, I could be good."

1994-95: THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Nov. 5 — Dallas 112, New Jersey 103. The Mavericks win their season opener for the first time in seven years, turning back the Nets 112-103 before a sellout crowd of 17,502 in Reunion Arena. Jim Jackson leads the way for Dallas with a then-career-high-tying 37 points and Popeye Jones adds a game-high 11 rebounds (eight on the offensive end). Jason Kidd, making his NBA debut, scores 10 points with 11 assists, nine rebounds and three steals. The game marks the return of Mavericks Head Coach Dick Motta.

Nov. 11 — Dallas 107, Philadelphia 100. Jason Kidd scores 19 points, grabs nine rebounds and hands out five assists as the Mavericks win their road opener, 107-100, over the Sixers before 10,121 in the Spectrum. Record is 2-1.

Nov. 12 — Dallas 124, Chicago 120 (OT). Jamal Mashburn scores a career-high/club-record 50 points and Jim Jackson chips in a then-career-high 38 points as Dallas upends the Bulls in overtime, 124-120, before 22,195 in the recently opened United Center. Mashburn — who scores a club-record 44 points in the first three periods (including 20 in the third) — erases Mark Aguirre's club-record of 49 points in a game, set vs. Philadelphia on 1/28/85. Jackson scores 23 of his points after the third period (16 in the fourth period and seven in overtime). Jackson and Mashburn combine for 88 points, the most points two Mavericks have ever combined for. The win snaps Dallas' 12-game losing streak vs. Chicago (prior to this the Mavericks hadn't beaten the Bulls since winning 111-100 in Chicago on 12/22/87). Record is 3-1.

Nov. 17 — Dallas 96, Sacramento 94. Lucious Harris hits what turns out to be the game-winner — a six-foot follow shot with 59 seconds left after Olden Polynice blocks Harris' first attempt — and the Mavericks hang on to beat the Kings, 96-94, before 13,156 in Reunion Arena. The game marks the return of Roy Tarpley, who sees his first regular season NBA action since 11/9/90 vs. Orlando (Tarpley suffered a season-ending right knee injury that night). Tarpley enters the game with 4:32 to play in the first period to a loud ovation, and goes on to score 16 points on six-of-10 shooting with a team-leading nine rebounds in 26 minutes. Record is 4-2.

Nov. 26 — Dallas 124, Denver 123 (OT). Jim Jackson scores a career-high/Mavericks club-record-tying 50 points as the Mavericks rally from 25 points down (their biggest comeback ever) to beat the Nuggets 124-123 in overtime before 17,171 in McNichols Arena. Dallas trails 62-37 with 1:05 to play in the second period, but Jackson scores 39 points in the second half, including eight points in overtime to lead Dallas. He connects on a pair of free throws with :00.5 seconds remaining in overtime to give the Mavericks the win, which snaps Dallas' seven game losing streak in McNichols Arena. Jamal Mashburn adds 35 points and Lorenzo Williams grabs 11 rebounds. Jackson's 50 ties the club record set two weeks earlier by Mashburn in Chicago. Record is 6-4.

Jason Kidd tied with Detroit's Grant Hill as 1994-95 NBA Rookie of the Year.

Popeye Jones led the NBA with 329 offensive rebounds.

Jamal Mashburn finished fifth in NBA scoring with 24.1 ppg.

Nov. 29 — Dallas 84, Minnesota 83. Dallas scores 84 points and shoots .389 but holds on to win 84-83 over the Timberwolves before 12,810 in Reunion Arena. The win is Dallas' third-straight — its first three-game winning streak since Nov. 3-9, 1990. Dallas finishes the first month of the season 7-4, its first winning month since going 7-5 in April 1990.

Dec. 1 — Denver 89, Dallas 80. In the afternoon, the Mavericks learn that Dick Motta has been named IBM NBA Coach of the Month for December, but Dallas loses that evening 89-80 to the Nuggets before 13,929 in Reunion Arena. The loss snaps the Mavericks' three-game winning streak. Popeye Jones grabs a career-high 22 rebounds, including a club-record-tying 11 in the first period (tying Roy Tarpley's record set vs. Indiana on 1/13/88). It is the first game of 20-plus rebounds by a Maverick since Terry Davis grabbed 21 boards at Detroit on 11/13/92. Record is 7-5.

Dec. 6 — Dallas 124, San Antonio 121 (OT). For the third time this season the Mavericks win on the road in overtime against a team that last season made the playoffs, this time winning 124-121 before 14,007 in San Antonio. Dallas trails 112-108 with 28.4 seconds to play, but Lucious Harris hits a three-pointer with 23.6 seconds remaining to cut the lead to 112-111. After a timeout, Jason Kidd steals San Antonio's inbounds pass and calls for a 20-second timeout while in mid-air before landing out-of-bounds. It was Kidd's season-high fifth steal of the game. Jamal Mashburn, scores a team-high 34 points, then drives to the basket and is fouled with 12 seconds left. He connects on one-of-two free throws to force overtime. Jim Jackson scores five of his 28 points in overtime and Kidd nails a key jumper with 1:20 left (to knot the score at 118). Dallas' bench outscores the Spurs' bench 35-0, the fourth time the Mavericks' bench has outscored the opposition's bench. Record is 8-6.

Dec. 8 — Washington 124, Dallas 121 (OT). The Mavericks fall to 3-1 in overtime games, losing to the Bullets 124-121 before 14,055 in Reunion Arena. Dallas leads 113-111 with 22.8 seconds left after a 17-footer from the right corner by Jamal Mashburn, who finishes with 45 points. But Scott Skiles sends the game into overtime with an off-balance 18-footer (which is partially blocked by Popeye Jones) with 3.1 seconds to play. Record is 8-7.

Dec. 10 — Dallas 99, Charlotte 86. Jamal Mashburn scores 31 points and Jason Kidd adds 13 assists as the Mavericks turn back the Hornets 99-86 before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. The win is Dick Motta's 865th of his career, passing Jack Ramsay for third on the NBA's all-time coaches win list. Record is 9-7.

Dec. 12 — Jamal Mashburn is named NBA Player of the Week. For the three games last week, Mashburn averaged 36.7 ppg on .525 shooting with 5.0 assists in 44.0 minutes. This marks the fifth time in club history for a Maverick to be honored as Player of the Week, and the first time since Roy Tarpley on 2/28/88.

Dec. 13 — L.A. Lakers 115, Dallas 108. Nick Van Exel hits eight three-pointers and scores 35 points as the Lakers down the Mavericks 115-108 before 15,150 in Reunion Arena and a national television audience on TNT. After the game, Roy Tarpley is suspended for one game for conduct detrimental to the team. The suspension comes after a flare up with Dick Motta in the first half over playing time. Tarpley does not play in the second half. Record is 9-8.

Dec. 15 — Dallas 122, Boston 113. Popeye Jones records the first 20-points/20-rebounds game of his career as the Mavericks down the Celtics 122-113 before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. Jones scores a career-high 25 points and grabs 20 boards (the 11th 20/20 in Mavericks history). Dallas leads 93-84 entering the fourth period and staves off the Celtics in the final stanza as Jim Jackson scores 13 of his game-high 40 points. Roy Tarpley sits out the game while serving a one-game suspension by Coach Dick Motta for conduct detrimental to the team in Tuesday's loss to the Lakers. Record is 10-8.

Dec. 20 — Dallas 110, Golden State 107. Jason Kidd returns to his hometown of Oakland for the first time and scores 19 points with five rebounds and 10 assists as the Mavericks upend the Warriors 110-107 before 15,025 in the Oakland Coliseum Arena. The win gives Dallas a 6-2 road mark, the highest road winning percentage in the NBA. Kidd purchases 300 tickets for the game. Record is 12-8.

Dec. 22 — Seattle 103, Dallas 101. The Sonics outscore the Mavericks 13-2 in the final 4:43 as Seattle rallies to beat the Mavericks, 103-101, before 14,763 in the Tacoma Dome. However, the Sonics tie the game on a Gary Payton layup with 30.6 seconds to play, and then take a 103-101 lead on another Payton layup with 7.7 seconds remaining. The Mavericks manage just two Jason Kidd free throws in the final 4:57. Record is 12-9.

Dec. 27 — Phoenix 119, Dallas 118. Kevin Johnson hits a 17-footer with 3.7 seconds to play to propel the Suns to a 119-118 victory before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. Dallas leads 118-113 following a Jamal Mashburn 14-footer with 52.8 seconds to play. Jim Jackson has a chance to win it for the Mavericks, but his nine-footer at the buzzer bounces off the back of the rim. Dallas is paced by Jackson's 31 points and Mashburn's 30. Record is 12-12.

Dec. 30 — Dallas 110, Golden State 94. Roy Tarpley scores 22 points and grabs 11 rebounds as the Mavericks down the Warriors 110-94 before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. The win is Dallas' 13th of the season, equalling its win total of 1993-94. Jason Kidd barely misses his first triple-double, finishing with 11 points, 12 rebounds and nine assists. Kidd also holds Tim Hardaway to just nine points on 3-of-15 shooting. Dallas enters the New Year with a winning record for the first time since 1989-90. Record is 13-12.

Jan. 15 — Dallas 108, San Antonio 103. Jim Jackson hits a turnaround 10-foot jumper in the lane and is fouled by David Robinson with 16.6 seconds left as the Mavericks down the Spurs 108-103 before 16,019 in the Alamodome. After Jackson completes the three-point play to put Dallas ahead 106-103, the Spurs have a chance to tie, but Sean Elliott's three-pointer comes up short, and Jamal Mashburn is fouled after Jason Kidd grabs his 10th rebound of the game. Mashburn connects on both free throws to give the Mavericks their final margin. Jackson leads Dallas with 37 points and Lorenzo Williams adds 12 rebounds. Record is 16-17.

Jan. 20 — New York 106, Dallas 93. Derek Harper makes his first return to Reunion Arena since being traded by the Mavericks, and his Knicks prevail, 106-93, before a sellout crowd of 17,502. Harper, who is greeted by a standing ovation, scores seven points on 1-of-9 shooting with 11 assists in 39 minutes. Record is 16-19.

Jan. 23 — Utah 116, Dallas 111. Dallas loses a nine-point lead in the final 4:38 and falls to the Jazz 116-111 before 19,911 in the Delta Center. The Mavericks lead 107-98 with 4:38 to play following a dunk by Jim Jackson, who leads all scorers with 34 points. However, the Mavericks, who shoot a season-high .573 from the field, manage just one field goal attempt the rest of the way while committing six of their 17 turnovers. The Jazz score on each of its final 12 possessions, and take just its second lead of the game when Antoine Carr hits an 18-footer with 41.4 seconds left. The loss ends a five-game stretch (1-4) against teams with a combined winning percentage of .690. Record is 16- 21.

Jan. 24 — Sacramento 110, Dallas 109 (2 OT). Walt Williams hits the game-winner, a 10-foot runner in the lane with :00.4 seconds remaining, as the Kings down the Mavericks 110-109 in double-overtime before 17,317 in ARCO Arena. Dallas sends the game into the second overtime when Jason Kidd, who scores 23 points with 12 assists, hits a three-pointer with 28.1 seconds to play to knot the score at 97. The Mavericks go ahead 106-103 on a Jamal Mashburn three-pointer with 1:36 to play, but Sacramento ties it on a three-pointer by Mitch Richmond with 30.8 seconds remaining. The Kings take a 108-106 advantage on a pair of Spud Webb free throws with 12.2 seconds to play. The Mavericks take the lead back at 109-108 on a Mashburn three-pointer with 5.3 seconds remaining. Record is 16-22.

Jan. 31 — Milwaukee 107, Dallas 105. Vin Baker hits a three-pointer with 2.8 seconds remaining to send the Mavericks to their eighth-straight loss, a 107-105 decision to the Bucks before 15,398 in the Bradley Center and a national television audience on TNT. In what is billed as the first matchup between the first two picks in last summer's draft (Glenn Robinson and Jason Kidd), the Mavericks are forced to play without Kidd, who does not make the trip and remains hospitalized in Dallas with dehydration and the flu. Record is 16-25.

Feb. 1 — Dallas 104, Minnesota 83. The Mavericks score the first 12 points of the game and never look back en route to a 104-83 win over the Timberwolves before 14,202 in the Target Center. The win will equal Dallas' largest of the season. The loss ends a season-long eight-game losing streak. For the second-straight game, the Mavericks are without Jason Kidd, who is hospitalized in Dallas with dehydration and the flu. Record is 17-25.

Feb. 4 — Dallas 119, Utah 98. The Mavericks snap their seven-game home losing streak in style, beating the Jazz (who enter with a 34-11 record) 119-98 before 17,051 in Reunion Arena. The win will equal Dallas' largest of the season. Three Mavericks score 20-plus points: Jim Jackson (30 points), Jamal Mashburn (25) and George McCloud (22). Record is 18-26.

Feb. 7 — Phoenix 114, Dallas 113. For the second time this season the Suns provide the Mavericks with a heartbreaking one-point loss in Reunion Arena, this time 114-113 before a sellout of 17,502. Elliott Perry connects on a driving layup with 13.8 seconds remaining to put the Suns ahead, 114-113. Dallas leads 111-105 with 1:58 to play following two free throws by Popeye Jones. Dallas goes ahead 113-110 with 49.4 seconds remaining on a seven-foot jumper by Jones. Record is 18-27.

Feb. 11 — Jason Kidd and Tony Dumas both participate in the All-Star Saturday festivities in Phoenix. Kidd plays in the Schick Rookie Game, scoring four points with five assists as his Green Team falls to the White Team 83-79 in overtime. Kidd connects on a driving layup at the end of regulation to knot the score at 79 and force OT. Dumas becomes the first Maverick to compete in the slam dunk competition.

Feb. 21 — Dallas 102, Washington 97. Jim Jackson scores 44 points to lead a 21-point comeback as the Mavericks win at Washington, 102-97, before 16,053 in the USAir Arena.

The Mavericks trail 74-53 with 6:19 to play in the third period before rallying. Jackson scores 12 of Dallas' last 14 points and 20 points in the final 18 minutes (the Bullets score just 23 points during that span). Jackson personally outscores Washington 16-15 in the fourth period. Dallas takes the lead for the first time since 35-34 with 9:29 to play in the first half on a Jackson basket from the paint with 41.5 seconds remaining. Dallas receives a scare with 2:21 to play in the first half, as Jason Kidd gets tangled up with Gheorghe Muresan and goes down in a heap. The injury turns out to be a sprained left ankle, and Kidd is held out for the second half. Record is 20-29.

Feb. 24 — New Jersey 114, Dallas 104. Jim Jackson suffers a third-degree sprain of his left ankle with 4:45 to play in the first period — an injury which will end his season — and the Mavericks go on to lose to the Nets 114-104 before 20,049 in the Meadowlands. Jackson finishes the season averaging 25.7 ppg, 91 points shy of qualifying as the fifth-leading scorer in the NBA. Jason Kidd returns to the lineup after missing the previous game at Atlanta due to a sprained left ankle. Kidd scores eight points and hands out seven assists in 40 minutes. Record is 20-31.

Feb. 28 — Dallas 102, Houston 101. Popeye Jones converts a three-point play in the final seconds to lift the Mavericks to a 102-101 win over the Rockets before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. Dallas trails 101-99 when Jamal Mashburn misses a 10-foot runner, but Jones taps in the miss with 23.9 seconds remaining, despite Chucky Brown hanging on Jones' left arm and Hakeem Olajuwon hitting Jones across the face. Jones converts the free throw to finish the three-point play and put Dallas ahead 102-101. The Rockets have a chance to win, but Jones bats the ball away from Olajuwon on the ensuing possession, and after a scramble for the loose ball, Sam Cassell feeds Olajuwon, who misses a 14-footer at the buzzer. Earlier in the day, Roy Tarpley (sore right knee) is activated from the injured list after missing 20 games. Record is 21-32.

March 13 — Dallas 130, Golden State 125. Jason Kidd returns to his hometown of Oakland and scores 30 points with a career-high/Mavericks rookie record 17 assists as the Mavericks down the Warriors 130-125 before 15,025 in the Oakland Coliseum. The win snaps a four-game Mavericks losing streak. Record is 23-36.

March 14 — Dallas 91, Sacramento 90. In one of the wildest finishes of the season, the Mavericks hang on to defeat the Kings 91-90 before 17,317 in Sacramento. The Mavericks lead 91-88 when Mitch Richmond hits what appears to be a game-tying three-pointer with 4.2 seconds remaining. However, Richmond's foot is ruled to be on the line, and Jason Kidd calls for the inbounds pass and runs out the clock as the Kings argue over the call and the rest of the Dallas team, thinking the score is tied, tries to call timeout. Record is 24-36.

March 17 — Dallas 103, Philadelphia 101. For the second-straight game the Mavericks pull out a squeaker, this time defeating the Sixers 103-101 before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. The game is tied at 101, when Jason Kidd penetrates the lane and hits Popeye Jones for a five-footer to put Dallas ahead 103-101 with 4.5 seconds to play. The Sixers have a chance to tie, but after Dana Barros stumbles, he passes to Clarence Weatherspoon whose game-tying shot attempt is after the buzzer. Record is 25-36 — one win more than the last two seasons combined.

March 20 — Dallas 102, Cleveland 100 (2 OT). The Mavericks run their overtime record to 4-2 with a 102-100 double-overtime win over the 36-29 Cavaliers before 20,562 in Cleveland's new Gund Arena. The win is the Mavericks fourth in five games and gives the Mavericks a 2-0 sweep of the season series. Jamal Mashburn hits a three-pointer with 45.1 seconds to play in the second overtime to tie the score at 100 and then connects on a driving layup with 2.9 seconds remaining to put Dallas ahead 102-100. Mashburn, who scores a team-leading 28 points, scores 16 points in the two overtimes, including a club overtime record 11 of Dallas' 12 points in the second overtime (on four-of-six shooting). Jason Kidd, who earlier in the day is named NBA Player of the Week, finishes with 20 points on 8-of-16 shooting with five rebounds, nine assists, a season-high-tying five steals and two blocked shots. Record is 26-37.

March 25 — Dallas 117, Utah 110. The Mavericks extend their winning streak to a season-best four-straight with a 117-110 win over the Jazz before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. The Jazz enters the game with a 50-18 mark, tops in the Western Conference. The Mavericks lead 63-48 at the half, but Utah — which shoots .587 for the night — draws within 89-82 at the end of the third period and takes a 100-96 lead with 6:26 to play in the fourth period. However, the Mavericks outscore the Jazz 21-10 from that point on, as Jason Kidd scores nine points in the final 4:42 and four points in the final 20.6 seconds. Record is 29-37.

March 28 — Dallas 114, Milwaukee 93. The Mavericks winning streak hits five-straight games with a 114-93 routing off the Bucks before 16,138 in Reunion Arena. The win ties Dallas' largest margin of victory of the season (also a 104-83 at the Timberwolves on Feb. 1 and 119-98 vs. Utah on Feb. 3). Record is 30-37.

March 30 — Dallas 125, Charlotte 107. The Mavericks win their season-best sixth-straight (their longest win streak since March 19-29, 1990), with a 125-107 win over the Hornets (who entered with a 25-9 home mark) before 23,698 at the Charlotte Coliseum. The Mavericks shoot a season-high .580 (season-high was .573 at the Jazz on Jan. 23), the eighth time for Dallas to shoot .500-plus this season. Record is 31-37.

April 3 — Jason Kidd is named NBA Rookie of the Month for March. Kidd becomes the first Maverick to win the award since Jay Vincent in March 1982. Kidd averaged 16.6 ppg, 4.3 rebounds and 7.6 assists as the Mavericks went 10-6 in the month.

April 5 — Dallas 130, L.A. Lakers 111. Jason Kidd records his first career triple-double and the fifth in Mavericks history, as Dallas turns back the Lakers (who enter with a 46-26 record), 130-111, before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. Kidd scores 19 points, grabs 10 rebounds and hands out 12 assists. The win is the Mavericks' fourth-straight in Reunion Arena — their longest home winning streak since winning four-straight here from Feb. 5-16, 1991 — and 10th in 13 games. Record is 32-39.

April 7 — Dallas 111, Minnesota 94. Jason Kidd tallies his second-straight triple-double (11 points, 10 rebounds and 13 assists) as the Mavericks turn back the Timberwolves 111-94 before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. The win is the Mavericks' 11th in 14 games. Kidd becomes the first NBA point guard to register back-to-back triple-doubles since Magic Johnson, Feb. 19 and 21, 1991. The win is the Mavericks' fifth-straight in Reunion Arena — their longest home winning streak since winning 10-straight in Reunion from 1/19/90 through 3/7/90. Record is 33-39.

April 11 — Dallas 156, Houston 147 (2 OT). The Mavericks play one of the wildest games in franchise history, defeating the Rockets 156-147 in double-overtime before 16,431 in The Summit. The Mavericks, who trail 85-73 entering the fourth period, lead 111-103 with 52.9 seconds remaining. However, the Rockets hit four three-pointers in the final 35.9 seconds (they trail 112-105 when Clyde Drexler hits the first of those threes), including a Sam Cassell three-pointer with 1.9 seconds to play to force overtime. Overall, 24 points are scored in the final 53.9 seconds (16 by the Rockets). Houston takes a 139-128 lead with 1:00 remaining in the first overtime, but Jason Kidd (who hits his final six three-point attempts, all in the fourth period and overtimes) connects on three three-pointers in the final 55 seconds. With Dallas trailing 139-134 following a Scott Brooks free throw with 28.3 seconds to play, Kidd steals the Houston outlet pass and hits a three with 22.3 to play to cut the lead to 139-137. Then after Robert Horry makes one of two free throws to put the Rockets ahead 142-139 with 7.3 seconds to play, Kidd drives the length of the floor and hits an off-balance, double-clutch three-pointer with 2.5 seconds to play to force a second overtime. In the second overtime Mashburn scores seven of the Mavericks' 14 points. Kidd finishes the game with his third triple-double in five games: a season-high 38 points (including 8-of-12 three-pointers), 11 rebounds, 10 assists and three steals. Kidd's eight three-pointers is a club record. Mashburn scores a game-high 42 points (while adding a career-high five steals) and Popeye Jones adds 11 points and 21 rebounds. The Mavericks' 156 points are a club record and the most in the NBA this season and the combined 28 three-point attempts is an NBA record. Record is 34-41.

April 15 — Dallas 102, Portland 90. The Mavericks play their final game in Portland's Memorial Coliseum, and walk away victors with a 102-90 win before a sellout crowd of 12,888. The Mavericks lead wire-to-wire, the fourth time this season for them to do so. The Mavericks enter the game second to the Blazers in NBA rebounding, but outboard them 48-38. Record is 35-42.

April 20 — San Antonio 112, Dallas 111. The Mavericks finish their home schedule with a heartbreaking 112-111 loss to the Spurs before 17,502, the 27th Reunion sellout of the season (following seven full houses the previous two seasons). With the Spurs trailing 111-110, Sean Elliott is fouled by Jamal Mashburn with :00.5 seconds to play as Mashburn attempts to block Elliott's shot from the baseline. Elliott converts a pair of free throws to give San Antonio the one-point win. The Mavericks take a 111-110 lead with 1.7 seconds to play when Jason Kidd's shot, which is blocked by David Robinson, is rebounded and put back in by George McCloud. The win clinches the Midwest Division title and the NBA's best record for the Spurs. Kidd registers his fourth triple-double in the last 10 games (and first in a loss) with 10 points, a season-high-tying 12 rebounds and 13 assists. Record is 36-44.

April 23 — L.A. Clippers 124, Dallas 102. The Mavericks conclude their 15th NBA season with a 124-102 afternoon loss to the Clippers before 16,021 in the Sports Arena. Final record is 36-46, a club-record 23-game improvement over the previous season and tied for the sixth-biggest turnaround in NBA history.

1993-94 SEASON RECAP

Won 13, Lost 69 (sixth, Midwest)...the Mavericks finished their 14th NBA season 13-69...Dallas was 6-35 in Reunion Arena and 7-34 on the road — the first time for Dallas to have a better road record than home mark...Dallas won its final two games, four of its last seven and five of its last 11...after starting the season 3-40, the Mavericks were 5-8 in February...however, Dallas followed that with an 0-13 March (the first month in franchise history without a win) before rebounding to go 5-8 in April...the Mavericks were one of just two clubs with two players in the top 18 in scoring (the Clippers were the other) as Jim Jackson and Jamal Mashburn each averaged 19.2 ppg to tie for 18th in the NBA...Mashburn's 19.2 ppg was the highest scoring average last season by a rookie and is the highest scoring average ever by a No. 4 overall pick...Dallas set a club record last season with 767 steals, breaking the club record of 688 steals by the 1986-87 Midwest Division Championship club...Mashburn and Popeye Jones each participated in the Schick Rookie Game on All-Star Saturday...Dallas was the only club with two participants in the Rookie Game...Jones' 7.5 rebounds per game last season is the highest rookie rebound average ever by a Maverick...Dallas - which allowed 114.5 ppg in 1992-93 - allowed 103.8 ppg in '93-94, an improvement of 10.7 ppg...that's the second-biggest improvement in the NBA (Atlanta improved on defense by 12.2 ppg)...the Mavericks used 15 different starting lineups in '93-94, down from 28 starting lineups in '92-93...the lineup of Mashburn/Jones/Morningstar/Harper/Jackson started the opener and was the most frequently used lineup at 14...Mashburn/Jones/ Rooks/Lever/Jackson started the finale.

1993-94: THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Nov. 5 — Utah 102, Dallas 86. Quinn Buckner debuts as Mavericks head coach, but the Mavericks fall to the Jazz, 102-86, before 19,911 in the Delta Center.

Nov. 12 — Dallas 115, Minnesota 99. Jamal Mashburn scores a game-high 36 points to lead Dallas to a 115-99 win before 18,346 in the Target Center. Record is 1-3.

Dec. 3 — Milwaukee 107, Dallas 106. Ken Norman connects on a three-pointer with 2.7 seconds remaining to give the Bucks a 107-106 lead before 11,690 in Reunion Arena. Record 1-14.

Dec. 23 — Dallas 93, Minnesota 89. The Mavericks end a four-game pre-Christmas road trip with a 93-89 win over the Timberwolves before 17,940 in the Target Center. The win snaps Dallas' club-record 20-game losing streak (tying the NBA record for longest single-season losing streak - also Philadelphia from 1/9/73 through 2/11/73). Record is 2-23.

Jan. 6 — The Mavericks trade Derek Harper to the New York Knicks in exchange for Tony Campbell and New York's 1997 first-round draft pick.

Jan. 29 — Dallas 108, Sacramento 101. The Mavericks win their first home game of the season (breaking a club-record 19-game home losing streak) and snap an overall 16-game losing streak with a 108-101 victory over the Kings before 12,157. Record is 3-39.

Feb. 12 — Jamal Mashburn and Popeye Jones participate in the inaugural Schick Rookie Game on All-Star Saturday in Minneapolis.

Feb. 21 — Dallas 98, Detroit 88. Dallas wins for the fifth time in the last 11 games with a 98-88 win over Detroit before 16,427 in The Palace of Auburn Hills. Record is 7-45.

Feb. 24 — Dallas 115, Charlotte 110. Jamal Mashburn matches his season-high with 37 points as the Mavericks down the Hornets 115-110 before 23,698 in Charlotte Coliseum. Record is 8-46.

March 16 — Orlando 100, Dallas 98. Donald Royal hits an 18-foot fall-away jumper over Donald Hodge and Jamal Mashburn as time expires to send the Magic to a 100-98 win over the Mavericks before 15,291 in the Orlando Arena. Record is 8-55.

April 5 — Dallas 88, Sacramento 80. The Mavericks hold the Kings 20 points under their season scoring average and win 88-80 before a sellout crowd of 17,317 in the ARCO Arena. The win snaps a 17-game Mavericks losing streak (since a 115-110 win at Charlotte on Feb. 24). Record is 9-63.

April 12 — Dallas 108, Portland 107. The Mavericks register their first win of the season against an opponent with a winning record as they down the Trail Blazers 108-107 before 12,888 in the Portland Memorial Coliseum. The Blazers enter the game with a 30-8 home mark. The game comes hours after it's announced Mavericks Vice President/Basketball Operations Rick Sund is relieved of his duties. Record is 10-66.

April 15 — Dallas 99, Denver 97. Jim Jackson hits a six-foot running jumper with 3.4 seconds to play to give Dallas a 99-97 win over the Nuggets before 12,048 in Reunion Arena. Record is 11-66.

April 22 — Dallas 107, Houston 95. Jamal Mashburn scores 28 points as Dallas avenges its loss the night before in Houston with a 107-95 win over the Rockets before 13,865 in Reunion Arena. Record is 12-69.

April 24 — Dallas 116, Minnesota 102. In the season finale, Tony Campbell scores a season-high 22 points to lead the Mavericks to a 116-102 win over the Timberwolves before 11,843 in Reunion Arena. Final record is 13-69.

1992-93 SEASON RECAP

Won 11, Lost 71 (sixth, Midwest)...the Mavericks finished their 13th NBA season 11-71 — their worst record ever (was 15-67 in the 1980-81 charter season)... after starting the season 4-57, the Mavericks showed improvement after the March 4 signing of first-round draft pick Jim Jackson, who joined Shaquille O'Neal and Alonzo Mourning as the only rookies with streaks of seven or more consecutive games with 20-plus points... the Mavericks were 7-14 over their final 21 games, the same record as New Jersey and a better record than five teams during the same stretch...Dallas' improvement was no more evident than on the road...after starting the season 0-29 away from Reunion Arena with an average margin of defeat of 21.8 ppg, the Mavericks finished the season 4-8 away from Reunion Arena and were outscored by just 8.7 ppg in those 12...included in that stretch was a 109-107 win at Seattle on April 6 and a 128-123 win at Houston in the season finale on April 24...Houston and Seattle ended the season with home records of 31-10 and 33-8 respectively and were the Nos. 2 and 3 seeds in the Western Conference playoffs...overall, six of Dallas' 11 wins came against clubs which finished the season with winning records...on March 4 the Mavericks introduced 10-year NBA veteran Quinn Buckner as head coach beginning at the end of the '92-93 season...Gar Heard took over as Mavericks head coach following the Jan. 13 dismissal of Richie Adubato...under Heard, Dallas was 9-44 (.205), including the 7-14 stretch to end the season...Dallas was 2-27 (.069) in '92-93 under Adubato...the Mavericks set club records for three-pointers made (273) and attempted (817) - the records were 268-of-797 in '91-92...the Mavericks set a club-record for player-games lost to injury/illness with 246, the third-straight season for Dallas to set a club record in this area...the Mavericks used a club-record 28 starting lineups (breaking the club record of 18 in '91-92)...13 different Mavericks started at least one game...the most frequently used starting lineup was Smith/Davis/Rooks/Harper/Bond, which was used 14 times...the lineup of Smith/Howard/Rooks/Harper/Bond started the opener and Cambridge/Howard/Davis/Harper/Jackson started the finale.

1992-93 HIGHLIGHTS

Nov. 7 — Utah 122, Dallas 106. The Mavericks open their 13th NBA season with a 122-106 loss to Utah before 12,514 in Reunion Arena. Sean Rooks and Walter Bond start - the first time ever for Dallas to start two rookies in an opener (prior to this Dallas had not started a rookie in an opener since Sam Perkins started against Houston on 10/27/84). Unsigned first-round draft pick Jim Jackson misses the first of what will be a 54-game holdout. Record is 0-1.

Nov. 14 — Dallas 113, Atlanta 105. The Mavericks break into the win column, with a 113-105 win before 13,488 on "Brad Davis Night" in Reunion. At halftime, Davis' No. 15 is retired in a special ceremony. Terry Davis finishes the night with a game-high/career-high 35 points and a game-high 17 rebounds. Record is 1-3.

Dec. 16 — Dallas 102, L.A. Lakers 95. The Mavericks hold the Lakers scoreless in the final 2:41, and snap their 12-game losing streak, 102-95 before 13,358 in Reunion Arena. The loss snaps the Lakers' five-game winning streak. Record is 2-15.

Dec. 29 — Sacramento 139, Dallas 81. The Mavericks, playing without the injured Derek Harper and Sean Rooks, suffer their worst loss ever, a 58-point setback, as the Kings down Dallas 139-81 before 17,317 in Sacramento. The game is the Kings' biggest win ever. Record is 2-21.

Jan. 13 — Detroit 112, Dallas 96. On the day Richie Adubato is dismissed as Mavericks head coach, the Pistons beat the Mavericks 112-96 before a sellout of 21,454 in the Palace of Auburn Hills. Adubato is dismissed in the morning before shootaround, and Assistant Coach Gar Heard is elevated to head coach. Record is 2-28.

Jan. 15 — New York 107, Dallas 93. Rolando Blackman returns to Reunion Arena for the first time since being traded in June, and the Knicks defeat the Mavericks 107-93 before 14,445 in Reunion Arena. Record is 2-29.

Jan. 19 — Dallas 113, Detroit 103. Gar Heard wins his first game as Mavericks head coach, and the Mavericks snap their 15-game losing streak with a 113-103 win over the Pistons before 11,498 in Reunion Arena. Record is 3-30.

March 4 — The Mavericks introduce 10-year NBA veteran and current NBA studio analyst Quinn Buckner as head coach. Buckner signs a five-year contract, officially takes over his coaching duties upon completion of the 1992-93 NBA Finals. In a surprise move - totally unbeknown to reporters gathered at the Buckner news conference - the Mavericks also announce the signing of holdout first-round pick Jim Jackson to a six-year contract.

March 5 — Houston 105, Dallas 86. Jim Jackson makes his Mavericks debut - scoring six points on three-of-eight shooting with four assists and two steals in 26 minutes - but the Rockets beat Dallas, 105-86 before 14,450 in Reunion Arena. Record is 4-51.

March 17 — Dallas 102, Orlando 96. The Mavericks rally from a 12-point third period deficit (59-47 with 9:15 remaining) to end their club-record 19-game losing streak, with a 102-96 home win over Shaquille O'Neal and the Magic before 17,502 in Reunion Arena (Dallas' third sellout of the season - also Chicago on Jan. 26 and Phoenix on March 6). Record is 5-57.

March 24 — Dallas 101, Washington 98. The Mavericks win for the third time in five games with a 101-98 win over the Bullets before 6,241 in the Capital Centre. Record is 7-59.

April 6 — Dallas 109, Seattle 107. The Mavericks jump out to a 13-2 lead and go on to win their eighth game, beating the Sonics - who enter the game with a 49-23 record (fourth-best in the NBA) and a 29-6 home mark - 109-107 before 13,503 in the Coliseum. Record is 8-64.

April 23 — Dallas 103, Minnesota 100. The Mavericks win their 10th game of the season and lead from wire-to-wire for the first time since Dec. 21, 1991 vs. Sacramento, beating the Timberwolves 103-100 before a sellout crowd of 17,502 in Reunion Arena. Record is 10-71.

April 24 — Dallas 128, Houston 123. The Mavericks conclude the season with a 128-123 win at Houston - which enters the game with a record of 55-25 - before a sellout of 16,611 in the Summit. Record is 11-71.

1991-92 SEASON RECAP

Won 22, Lost 60 (fifth, Midwest)...the Mavericks finished their 12th NBA season 22-60 - their second-worst record ever (Dallas was 15-67 in its charter season of '80-81)...Dallas lost a club-record 240 games to injury/illness, as five players spent time on the injured list and 17 different players saw action for the Mavericks (most since 21 in 1980-81)...the Mavericks used a club-record 18 different starting lineups (record was 14 in '80-81)...12 different players started at least one game for Dallas...the Mavericks started three rookies (Mike Iuzzolino, Doug Smith and Donald Hodge) in each of the final 21 games - the first time for Dallas to start three rookies since Jay Vincent, Kurt Nimphius and Elston Turner started vs. San Diego on 2/3/82...there were two games (April 8-9) when four rookies started, a franchise first...Dallas ended the season with eight players (Terry Davis, Brian Howard, Randy White, Tracy Moore, Hodge, Iuzzolino, Smith, and Brian Quinnett) 26-years-old or younger...Dallas had five rookies (Howard, Moore, Hodge, Iuzzolino and Smith), the most in the NBA...the Mavericks lost a club-record-tying 15-straight games from March 1-26 and a club-record 26-straight road games from Dec. 23 through April 11...the Mavericks were 268-of-797 (.336) from behind the three-point stripe...the 268 three-point makes and 797 attempts are both club records (were 231 makes in '86-87 and 797 attempts in '88-89)...five different Mavericks made 25 or more three-pointers...Dallas averaged an NBA-low/club-record-low 97.6 ppg (club record low was 99.9 ppg in '90-91)...the Mavericks shot an NBA-low/club-record-low .439 (club record low was .462 in '80-81)...Dallas was held under 90 points a club-record 19 times (was 14 in '90-91) and failed to shoot at least .400 a club-record 19 times (was eight in '89-90)...Dallas committed just 14.7 turnovers per game (sixth-best in the NBA)...seven times the Mavericks committed fewer than 10 turnovers in a game, including a season-low five turnovers Nov. 12 vs. Houston - tying as the fewest turnovers by any team in the NBA in '91-92...the most frequently used starting lineup was McCray/T. Davis/Donaldson/Harper/Blackman which was used 24 times, including the opener...the lineup of McCray/Smith/Hodge/Blackman and Iuzzolino started the finale.

1991-92 HIGHLIGHTS

Oct. 16 — Roy Tarpley is dismissed from the NBA under terms of the Anti-Drug Agreement between the league and The National Basketball Players Association.

Nov. 2 — L.A. Lakers 114, Dallas 113 (OT). Sam Perkins hits a free throw with 0.5 seconds remaining to give the Lakers a 114-113 win to ruin Dallas' home opener before 17,502 in Reunion Arena. Earlier in the day, first-round draft choice Doug Smith is signed to a four-year contract, and Herb Williams (sprained left ankle) is placed on the injured list. Record 0-2.

Nov. 23 — Dallas 121, Utah 109 (OT). Fat Lever scores a game-high/Mavericks career-high 32 points and the Mavericks score the first 10 points of overtime to defeat the Utah Jazz, 121-109 before 17,333 in Reunion Arena. Derek Harper scores 30 points and Rolando Blackman adds 24 points as Dallas' top three guards combine for 86 points. The game marks the first time in 64 all-time meetings for the two clubs to play an overtime game. Record is 5-7.

Nov. 30 — Dallas 79, Minnesota 78. The Mavericks score the final eight points of the game (over the final 1:30) to down the Timberwolves 79-78 before 16,155 in Reunion Arena. The 157 combined points are the lowest ever in a Mavericks game. Record is 7-8.

Dec. 11 — Dallas 106, Charlotte 103. The Mavericks win their second-straight as Derek Harper scores 35 points to lead Dallas to a 106-103 win over the Hornets before 23,698 in Charlotte Coliseum. Harper scores 11 of Dallas' final 13 points over the final 4:44 to help Dallas hang on. Richie Adubato is fined $3,000 for his comments concerning the officiating in a Dec. 7 loss at the Sonics. Record is 9-12.

Dec. 21 — Dallas 109, Sacramento 85. On the 100th anniversary of the invention of basketball, the Mavericks record their largest margin of victory of the season, downing the Kings 109-85 before 15,134 in Reunion Arena. The loss is Kings coach Dick Motta's 856th of all-time - breaking the NBA record for most losses by a coach. Record is 11-15.

Dec. 23 — Dallas 105, Houston 85. The Mavericks post their largest regular season victory ever in the Summit, blitzing the Midwest Division-leading Rockets 105-85 before 15,508. It will be Dallas' last road win until winning at Houston on April 11. Dallas outscores Houston 20-2 over the final 9:22 while holding the Rockets to 10 fourth period points. Dallas' 68th point of the night is the 100,000th point in club history. Record is 12-15.

Jan. 14 — New Jersey 97, Dallas 88. In what proves to be the final game of Brad Davis' career, the Nets win their eighth game in 11 tries, downing the Mavericks 97-88 before 7,165 in the Meadowlands. Davis is scoreless in one minute. A lower back ailment will keep him out of action for the rest of the season. Record is 12-24.

Jan. 22 — Dallas 118, Milwaukee 116. Doug Smith scores a game-high/season-high 26 points - converting five dunks - and grabs a team-leading nine rebounds to lead the Mavericks to a 118-116 home win over Milwaukee before 14,299, snapping the Mavericks' 11-game losing streak. Derek Harper goes over the 10,000-point mark in career scoring with a layup with 5:55 to play in the third. Record is 13-26.

Jan. 29 — San Antonio 108, Dallas 93. In the morning James Donaldson is suspended for one game without pay following an altercation in practice the day before, and in the evening the Mavericks drop a 108-93 decision to the Spurs before 15,218 in Reunion Arena. Prior to game time it is decided that Fat Lever will undergo arthroscopic surgery on his left knee (which has been experiencing swelling) - Lever will miss the rest of the season. Record is 13-29.

Feb. 20 — As the NBA's 8 p.m. trading deadline approaches, the Mavericks send center James Donaldson to the Knicks in exchange for forward Brian Quinnett.

Feb. 28 — Dallas 115, Phoenix 107. Dallas' rookies lead the Mavericks to a 115-107 upset of the Suns before 17,148 in Reunion Arena. Four of the Mavericks' rookies (Doug Smith, Donald Hodge, Mike Iuzzolino and Tracy Moore) combine to score 61 points and connect on 23-of-37 (.622) shots. Record is 17-39.

March 1 — Boston 101, Dallas 91. Larry Bird returns after missing two months with a back injury and scores a game-high 26 points with 13 rebounds and nine assists to lead the Celtics to a 101-91 win over Dallas before a Boston Garden sellout of 14,890. Record is 17-40.

March 22 — Seattle 113, Dallas 105. The Mavericks lose their largest lead ever - a 26-point bulge - and fall to the Sonics 113-105 before 14,345 in Reunion Arena. The Mavericks lead 53-37 with 9:43 to play in the second period and 71-55 at halftime. The Mavericks shoot .762 in the first half (scoring 71 points in the process), but shoot just .222 in the second half (scoring 34 points) - Dallas' lowest shooting half ever. Mike Iuzzolino plays all 48 minutes - becoming the first Maverick rookie ever to play every minute of a game.

April 11 — Dallas 99, Houston 92. The Mavericks snap their club-record 26-game road losing streak with a 99-92 win before 14,501 in Houston. Rodney McCray registers his fifth career regular season triple-double (his first as a Maverick), scoring 13 points with a team-leading 13 rebounds and a season-high/team-leading 11 assists.

1990-91 SEASON RECAP

Won 28, Lost 54 (sixth, Midwest)...after averaging 48.3 wins in the previous four years, the Mavericks lost a club-record 199 player-games to injury/illness in 1990-91 and won just 28 games to match the 1981-82 squad for second-fewest wins in club history...Dallas, which got off to a 4-1 start before losing Roy Tarpley and Fat Lever for the season due to right knee injuries, dropped 53 of its final 77 games, including 13 of the final 16 games...other than two games John Shasky missed due to a bruised right heel, all of the Mavericks' injuries came to members of what would have been Dallas' top nine player rotation...39 times Dallas was without the services of three or more players, including five games in which four or more players were sidelined...the Mavericks committed just 14.5 turnovers per game - fourth in the NBA and sixth-lowest turnover total in NBA history...Dallas came back seven times from deficits of 12-plus points to win, including twice from 16 points down (Nov. 6 at New York and Feb. 18 at the Warriors)...the Mavericks were 15-16 in games decided by six points or less, including 9-6 in games decided by three points or less...those nine wins tied Golden State and Washington for third most in the league (only Philly and Houston had more)...the Mavericks were 3-2 in overtime games in '90-91 - making them 12-5 (.706) in overtime games the last four seasons...Dallas averaged a club-record-low 99.9 ppg in '90-91 (was 101.5 ppg in '80-81), 25th in the NBA...the Mavericks were held under 100 points 40 times - breaking the club record of 39 set in '89-90...Dallas was held under 90 points a club-record 14 times (was 12 set in '89-90)...the Mavericks gave up 104.5 ppg (12th in the NBA) in '90-91 - up 2.3 ppg from the club record-low 102.2 ppg (fourth in NBA) in '89-90...the Mavericks were 21-21 when scoring 100-plus points and 7-33 when held under 100 points...Dallas shot .500-plus 31 times (won 7), while allowing the opponent to shoot .500-plus 29 times (won 2)...the Mavericks finished 24th in NBA rebounding, losing the boards 44 rpg to 40.8 rpg...after a 19-2 start against Charlotte, Miami, Minnesota and Orlando, Dallas was 3-11 against those teams in '90-91...the most frequently used starting lineup was McCray/Williams/Donaldson/Harper/Blackman, which was used 20 times...the lineup of Tarpley/McCray/Donaldson/Harper/Blackman started the opener and Williams/White/Donaldson/Harper/Blackman started the finale.

1990-91 HIGHLIGHTS

Nov. 2 — Minnesota 98, Dallas 85. The "new look" Mavericks open their 11th NBA season by dropping a 98-85 decision to the Timberwolves before a sellout crowd of 19,006 in Minnesota's new $93 million facility, The Target Center. Rodney McCray, Fat Lever and Alex English make their first Mavericks appearances.

Nov. 6 — Dallas 96, New York 91. Roy Tarpley scores 29 points and grabs 10 rebounds to lead Dallas to a 96-91 come-from-behind victory over the Knicks before a crowd of 14,056 in Madison Square Garden. Record is 2-1.

Nov. 7 — Dallas 104, Philadelphia 101. The night after defeating the Knicks in New York, the Mavericks win in Philadelphia, 104-101, before a crowd of 10,525 in the Spectrum. Record is 3-1, best start since 1987-88.

Nov. 9 — Dallas 111, Orlando 99. Led by a game-high 34 points by Rolando Blackman, the Mavericks win their fourth-straight, defeating Orlando 111-99 before a crowd of 16,760 in Reunion Arena. Roy Tarpley suffers what is believed to be a slipped right kneecap with :27.5 to go in the first period and does not return. Prior to tip-off, the club announces Fat Lever, whose right knee has been inflamed since training camp, will undergo arthroscopic surgery. Record is 4-1.

Nov. 13 — Orlando 109, Dallas 103. Hours after learning Roy Tarpley will be lost for the season, the Mavericks' four-game winning streak is snapped with a 109-103 loss at Orlando before a crowd of 14,588. In an arthroscopic procedure performed by Mavericks team physician J. Pat Evans at Baylor Medical Center, ligament damage is found in Tarpley's knee. Prior to Tarpley's procedure, an arthroscopy is performed by Evans on Fat Lever's right knee, which has been inflamed since training camp. The loss to Orlando snaps the Magic's NBA record-tying 16-game home losing streak. Record is 4-2.

Nov. 28 — Dallas 107, L.A. Clippers 88. Rolando Blackman passes Mark Aguirre to become Dallas' all-time leading scorer as the Mavericks snap their three-game home losing streak, 107-88, over the Clippers before a crowd of 15,790. Record is 6-6.

Dec. 12 — Dallas 112, L.A. Lakers 97 (OT). The Mavericks end their five-game losing streak and seven game Forum losing streak (counting the '88 conference finals) with a 112-97 win at the Lakers. The Mavericks score the first 13 points of the overtime and outscore the Lakers 23-8 in the extra period. Record is 7-11.

Jan. 16 — San Antonio 100, Dallas 94. Roughly two hours after Operation Desert Storm is launched - signifying the beginning of the Persian Gulf War - the Spurs down the Mavericks 100-94. Record is 12-23.

Jan. 25 — Detroit 84, Dallas 82. Bill Laimbeer hits an off-balance running banker at the buzzer to give Detroit - which enters with an 18-1 home record - an 84-82 win before a sellout crowd at the Palace of Auburn Hills. Record is 13-26.

March 13 — Dallas 98, Seattle 96. Brad Davis connects on an off-balance, driving layup at the buzzer to propel the Mavericks to a 98-96 win before 15,813 in Reunion Arena. Record is 23-38.

March 18 — Dallas 104, Sacramento 86. The Kings suffer their NBA record-tying 28th-straight road loss as the Mavericks prevail 104-86 before 15,827 in Reunion Arena. Record is 24-40.

March 30 — Seattle 115, Dallas 102. Ricky Pierce scores nine of his 17 points in the fourth period, including a three-point shot and a three-point play, to lead the Sonics to a 115-102 win over Dallas before 11,756 in the Seattle Coliseum. Earlier in the morning the Mavericks learn injured forward Roy Tarpley had been stopped by Dallas Police the night before and charged with suspicion of driving while intoxicated. Record is 25-45.

April 5 — Utah 93, Dallas 87. The Mavericks lose 93-87 before 16,777 at Reunion Arena, and are eliminated from playoff contention in the Western Conference. Earlier in the day the Mavericks learn injured forward Roy Tarpley has been suspended indefinitely without pay by ASAP for non-compliance with his personalized aftercare program. Record is 26-47.

April 10 — Utah 97, Dallas 91. The Mavericks lead by 19 points (60-41) with 11:04 to play, but go on to lose 97-91 to the Jazz before 12,616 in Utah. On the bright side, by scoring a season-high 34 points, Harper is assured of becoming the first player in NBA history to increase his scoring average in each of his first eight NBA seasons. Record is 26-50.

April 15 — L.A. Lakers 112, Dallas 106. Magic Johnson passes Oscar Robertson to become the NBA's all-time leader in assists and the Lakers go on to beat the Mavericks, 112-106, before 17,505 in the Great Western Forum. Record 26-53.

April 21 — San Antonio 135, Dallas 101. The Mavericks end their 11th NBA season with their largest loss of the season, a 135-101 defeat before a sellout in San Antonio. The Mavericks finish the season 28-54, tying for the second-worst record in franchise history, also 1981-82 (Dallas was 15-67 in 1980-81).

1989-90 SEASON RECAP

Won 47, Lost 35 (third, Midwest) . . . after missing the playoffs in 1988-89 for the first time since 1982-83, the Mavericks returned to postseason action in 1989-90 . . . Dallas was swept, 3-0, in the first round by the eventual Western Conference Champion Portland Trail Blazers . . . on Nov. 29 Richie Adubato replaced John MacLeod as head coach (Dallas was 5-6 under MacLeod) and guided Dallas to a 42-29 (.592) record the rest of the way . . . the Mavericks finished the regular season strong, winning four-straight, 13-of-19 and 30-of-45 since beating the Knicks 117-103 on Jan. 19 in Reunion Arena (Dallas entered that game at 17-20) . . . the Mavericks won 19 of their final 22 at home and broke even (10-10) in their final 20 road games . . . Dallas improved its home record from 24-17 in '88-89 to 30-11 in '89-90, the fourth-best home record in club history . . . the Mavericks allowed just 102.2 points per game, fourth in NBA defense (same ranking as in 1988-89), behind Detroit, Minnesota and Utah . . . was the third-straight year Dallas broke the club defense record . . . Dallas held a club-record 35 opponents under 100 points and a club-record 12 opponents under 90 points . . . the Mavericks averaged just 102.2 points per game (22nd in the NBA), their second-lowest scoring average in club history (club-record low is 101.5 ppg in 1980-81) . . . the Mavericks were held under 100 points a club-record 39 times and under 90 points a club-record 12 times . . . Dallas was 12-27 when held under 100 points, but 35-8 when scoring 100-plus points . . . Dallas won a club-record 15 games when trailing after three periods . . . the Mavericks committed just 15.0 turnovers per game for the second-straight season, tying for fifth in the NBA in that category . . . the Mavericks lost 108 games to injury/illness . . . of those 108 games, Blackman, Dantley, Davis, Donaldson, Perkins, Tarpley and Williams combined for 98 . . . the most frequently used starting lineup was Dantley/Perkins/Donaldson/Harper/Blackman, which was used 31 times . . . the lineup of Dantley/Tarpley/Donaldson/Harper/Blackman started the opener and Tarpley/Perkins/Donaldson/Harper/Blackman started the finale.

1989-90 HIGHLIGHTS

NOV. 15 — Roy Tarpley is arrested in North Dallas for driving while intoxicated and resisting arrest.

NOV. 16 — Dr. Dave Lewis, medical director of the ASAP Family Treatment Program, suspends Roy Tarpley indefinitely without pay following Tarpley's arrest the night before.

NOV. 25 — Seattle 117, Dallas 70. The Mavericks suffer their second-worst defeat in club history, a 117-70 loss to Seattle in Reunion Arena. The game will turn out to be John MacLeod's last as head coach of the Mavericks. Record is 5-6.

NOV. 29 — John MacLeod is dismissed as head coach.

NOV. 29 — Dallas 102, Charlotte 83. Following the release of John MacLeod, Richie Adubato takes over as the interim head coach. Record is 6-6.

DEC. 4 — Richie Adubato is named coach for the remainder of the season.

DEC. 29 — Portland 144, Dallas 140 (3 OT). The Mavericks play the first triple-OT game in club history and 28 club and arena records fall or are tied in the Mavericks' 144-140 loss to Portland in Reunion Arena. James Donaldson finishes with 19 points and sets club records/career highs with 27 rebounds and 58 minutes. At 3:10 the game ranks as the longest in Mavericks history. Record is 14-13.

JAN. 19 — Dallas 117, New York 103. Brad Davis starts in place of the injured Rolando Blackman (sprained right ankle) and scores 25 points to help propel Dallas to a 117-103 upset over the Knicks, who enter the game with a 26-12 record. Record is 18-20.

JAN. 23 — Dallas 129, Washington 106. Roy Tarpley is removed from the suspended list by Dr. Dave Lewis and sees his first game action since Nov. 14 against Seattle. He plays 12 minutes of the final period, scoring 11 points on five-of-eight shooting. Record is 20-20.

JAN. 26 — Dallas 106, Sacramento 93. Former Mavericks coach Dick Motta makes his return to Reunion Arena as coach of the Sacramento Kings, but the Mavericks spoil it with a 106-93 victory. Record is 21-20.

FEB. 3 — Portland 131, Dallas 100. Adrian Dantley suffers a non-displaced fracture of his right fibula 35 seconds into the game, as the Trail Blazers go on to rout Dallas 131-100 in the Portland Coliseum. Dantley's injury proves to be season-ending. Record is 24-22.

MARCH 25 — Dallas 98, Detroit 96 (OT). Derek Harper scores five points in the last 16.8 seconds to lead the Mavericks to a 98-96 overtime victory over the Detroit Pistons, who enter with the league's best record at 51-16. Harper hits a three-pointer with :16.8 remaining to tie the score at 96. Then, Harper and Herb Williams trap Isiah Thomas. Williams flicks the ball away with :15.5 to go. Harper picks up the loose ball and races downcourt to score the winning basket with 8.1 seconds to play. Record is 38-29.

MARCH 29 — Dallas 109, San Antonio 105. The Mavericks overcome a 16-point deficit and go on to win in San Antonio, 109-105. The comeback ties the second-largest road comback ever. Record is 40-29.

APRIL 4 — Dallas 104, San Antonio 98. The Mavericks tie the biggest comeback in club history — coming from 19 down — to defeat the San Antonio Spurs, who enter with a 48-24 record, 104-98 in Reunion Arena. Record is 42-31.

APRIL 7 — Chicago 109, Dallas 108. John Paxson hits a three-pointer as time expires to give the Bulls their sixth-straight win, a 109-108 decision over the Mavericks in Reunion Arena. Dallas plays without Roy Tarpley, who serves the first game of a two-game suspension (without pay) for missing practice on April 6. Record 42-32.

APRIL 12 — Dallas 140, Golden State 133. Sam Perkins scores a career-high 45 points, including 22 in the first period and 30 in the first half, to lead Dallas to a 140-133 win at Golden State. Record 43-34.

APRIL 15 — Houston's 113-102 loss at the L.A. Lakers allows Dallas to clinch its sixth playoff berth in the last seven seasons.

APRIL 22 — Dallas 118, Charlotte 107. The Mavericks announce before the game that Richie Adubato would be the Mavericks head coach on a permanent basis. Record is 47-35.

1988-89 SEASON RECAP

Won 38, Lost 44 (fourth, Midwest)...was Dallas' first losing season and first season not to make the playoffs since going 38-44 in 1982-83...the Mavericks won their final three games and four of their last five, but were eliminated from the playoffs on the last night of the season when Portland won at home 126-120 in overtime vs. Sacramento... that Portland-Sacramento game was the final installment of the NBA's 1,025-game regular season schedule...Dallas dressed a full complement of 12 players in just 23 of 82 games and only three times in the final 36 games (the period after the Feb. 15 Aguirre/Dantley trade)...the club lost 141 player-games to injury/illness...that's 104 more than 1987-88's total of 37 missed player-games...the regular lineup of Dantley, Perkins, Donaldson, Blackman and Harper started just two games...attendance averaged 16,953, the fourth-straight season of 99 percent-plus capacity...Dallas finished fourth in NBA defense, its best defensive ranking ever, allowing a club record-low 104.7 ppg...Dallas also set season club records for lowest defensive shooting percentage (.469, sixth best in the NBA), most games holding the opponent under 100 points (29), and blocked shots (476)...the Mavericks started the season 9-3 (the best start in club history) and owned the best record in the Western Conference when they stood 17-9 on Dec. 19 (the latest point in any season for the Mavericks ever to have the best record in the conference)...however, by Jan. 11 Dallas had tumbled to eighth in the conference...overall Dallas was: 17-32 during Roy Tarpley's suspension, 26-37 in all games without Tarpley, 13-23 after the Aguirre/Dantley trade, 7-17 after Donaldson's knee injury (counting the Houston game he was injured) and 9-21 in all games without Donaldson...the lineup of Aguirre, Perkins, Donaldson, Harper and Blackman started 41 games (the most of any unit), including the opener...Dantley, Tarpley, Perkins, Harper and Blackman started the finale.

1988-89 HIGHLIGHTS

NOV. 4 — Dallas opens its ninth NBA season by losing 116-113 to the team which defeated it in the 1988 Western Conference Finals, the Los Angeles Lakers. The loss means Dallas opens 0-1 for the first time since 1984.

NOV. 16 — Roy Tarpley undergoes surgery to repair torn cartilage in his left knee. The surgery is performed by team physician J. Pat Evans at Baylor Medical Center.

DEC. 13 — Roy Tarpley returns after missing 14 games (Dallas was 9-5) with cartilage damage to his left knee and leads Dallas to a 117-111 home win over the Warriors. Despite the win, the Mavericks finish their opening stretch of the schedule, where 15 of the first 19 games were at home, with a disappointing 12-7 record.

DEC. 29 — The Mavericks score their season-high in points as Dallas defeats the Celtics for just the second time in club history, 131-115. The Mavericks' record stands at 17-9, the best record in the Western Conference. This is the latest point in any season Dallas has had the best record in the Western Conference.

JAN. 5 — Mavericks forward Roy Tarpley is suspended indefinitely without pay by NBA drug counselors for non-compliance with the aftercare program they had established for him. This is Tarpley's second "strike" under the provisions of the leagues' anti-drug program.

JAN. 12 — The Mavericks absorb their second-largest loss of all-time, 130-95 in Seattle. The loss drops Dallas to 0-6 in January — its worst start ever to begin a month — and is its seventh-straight road loss (its longest road losing streak since April 1983). Record is 17-15.

JAN. 20 — The Mavericks drop their ninth-straight road game, this time a 115-99 loss to the Lakers in the Great Western Forum. The loss assures Dallas of a losing January — the Mavericks' first losing month since Feb. 1986 (breaking a run of 17-straight .500-plus months). Record is 19-17.

JAN. 29 — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar makes his final regular season appearance in Reunion Arena as the Lakers hand Dallas its second-worst home loss ever, 118-93, as a national CBS television audience looks on. Record is 21-19.

FEB. 15 — The Mavericks trade Mark Aguirre to the Detroit Pistons in exchange for forward Adrian Dantley and the Pistons' 1991 first-round draft choice.

FEB. 21 — Dallas trades Detlef Schrempf and its second-round draft choice in either 1990 or 1991 to Indiana in exchange for Herb Williams.

FEB. 23 — Adrian Dantley ends his eight-day holdout by reporting to Dallas. Dantley, who arrives at approximately 10 p.m., holds a news conference at Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport.

MARCH 10 — Only 3:41 into the Mavericks' 96-86 loss at Houston, Mavericks center James Donaldson ruptures the patellar tendon in his right knee, and is carried off the floor on a stretcher. Donaldson is injured after rebounding a missed shot by Sam Perkins. He will miss the rest of the season. Record is 31-28.

MARCH 31 — The Mavericks receive a clutch three-pointer from a wide-open Rolando Blackman with :11 remaining to hold off Indiana, 105-102, and snap the club's 12-game losing streak. Record is 32-39.

APRIL 12 — In Roy Tarpley's first game back after being suspended for the previous 49 games for non-compliance with his individual aftercare program, the Mavericks fall behind early and are never able to catch up as the Suns beat Dallas 109-94. Record is 34-43.

APRIL 23 — The Mavericks finish the regular season with a 113-96 win in Denver, but see their playoff chances dashed when Portland wins at home several hours later vs. Sacramento, 126-120 in the 1,025th and final game of the 1988-89 NBA schedule. Final record is 38-44.

1987-88 SEASON RECAP

Won 53, Lost 29 (second, Midwest) . . . advanced to the conference finals for the first time in club history, losing to the eventual world champion Lakers in Dallas' first-ever 7-game series . . . ousted Houston and Denver in the first two rounds of the playoffs, winning four road games in the process . . . the Denver series was the first ever won by Dallas without the benefit of home court advantage . . . in his first year as head coach, John MacLeod became the eighth man in NBA history to inherit a 50-win team, and post 50-plus wins . . . he also became the eighth coach to reach the 600-win milestone (Jan. 13) . . . Aguirre and Donaldson played in All-Star Game in Chicago . . . averaged 16,966, the third-straight year of 99 percent-plus capacity . . . Roy Tarpley won the NBA Sixth Man Award by averaging 13.5 ppg and 11.8 rpg in 28.5 minutes . . . ranked seventh in NBA rebounding, the first non-starter ever among the leaders . . . improved upon the club defense record by 4.1 ppg, allowing just 104.9 ppg — sixth in the NBA (two years ago Dallas placed 21st) . . . also set club records for FG percent defense (.470), rebounding (46.8, tops in NBA) and blocks (446) . . . won a club record 11-straight games from Feb. 14 through March 4 . . . only NBA team to use just 12 players . . . the lineup of Aguirre, Perkins, Donaldson, Harper and Blackman started 56 games, including the opener and finale.

1987-88 HIGHLIGHTS

NOV. 6 – Derek Harper's 25-foot three-pointer with 0:01 left gives the Mavericks a strange, 95-93 opening night win over Utah before their 36th-straight Reunion full house. The Mavericks' .347 shooting percentage is the lowest ever in a Dallas win. Record is 1-0.

DEC. 9 — Rolando Blackman's eight points key a club record game-opening 17-0 run to highlight Dallas' 125-98 victory over Sacramento. Dallas has the best record in the conference at 10-5.

JAN. 4 — Rolando Blackman goes out in the third period with a second-degree sprain of the medial collateral ligament in his left knee as the Mavericks lose 117-107 to the Rockets - Dallas' seventh-straight defeat in the Summit. Record is 18-9.

JAN. 13 — Roy Tarpley grabs a then-club record 23 rebounds as the Mavericks survive a homecourt scare to defeat Indiana 110-108 and give Head Coach John MacLeod his 600th career victory. Record is 21-10.

FEB. 1 — Behind a John Bagley triple-double and two key steals by Dudley Bradley in the final 1:37, the Nets stun the Mavericks 108-103 in Reunion and end their 26-game road losing streak. Record is 28-13, the best start in franchise history.

FEB. 6 — On All-Star Saturday in Chicago, Detlef Schrempf places fourth in the 3-point contest and Mark Aguirre is married to Angela Bowman at Grace Episcopal Church in Oak Park, Ill. His wedding party includes Herb Williams, Magic Johnson and Isiah Thomas.

FEB. 7 — Mark Aguirre joins James Donaldson, who replaced the injured Steve Johnson, as a member of the Western Conference All-Star team in the 38th annual All-Star Game. Their efforts are to no avail, however, as the East prevails 138-133.

FEB. 9 — Dallas snaps a four game losing streak and records its largest margin of victory of the season, 124-93, against the Jazz in Reunion. Record is 29-15.

FEB. 12 — Larry Bird cans a 3-pointer with :04 left to give Boston a 105-104 victory. The Mavericks led by 11 with 7:22 to play, but Boston outscores Dallas 22-10 in the last 7:06. Record is 29-17.

FEB. 24 — Rolando Blackman scores his 10,000th career point on a 19-foot jumper at the 11:15 mark of the fourth period as Dallas extends its win streak to six, 93-89 over Cleveland. Record is 35-17.

FEB. 29 — On the day he learns he has been chosen NBA Player of the Week for averaging 17.3 points and 16.8 rebounds, Roy Tarpley contributes 15 points and 21 rebounds to lead Dallas to its club record ninth-straight win, 123-96 over the Nuggets. Record is 38-17.

MARCH 6 — Before the national television cameras of CBS, the Mavericks see their club record 11-game overall winning streak and eight-game home winning streak snapped by the Lakers, 108-97. Record is 40-18.

MARCH 9 — The Mavericks are idle, but clinch their earliest playoff berth in club history when Phoenix and Sacramento lose their games.

MARCH 22 — Roy Tarpley, starting his third-straight game in place of Mark Aguirre (thigh), scores 29 points with a club record/career-high 24 rebounds to lead Dallas to a 124-105 home victory over the Knicks. Record is 44-21.

APRIL 15 — Dallas' 110-day reign as Midwest Division leaders ends as Seattle downs Dallas 115-88 in the Seattle Coliseum. The loss, coupled with Denver's 132-125 victory against the Rockets, puts Denver in first place in the Midwest Division - knocking Dallas out of first for the first time since December 21. Record is 50-27.

APRIL 20 — Magic Johnson hands out 23 assists, breaking the Reunion Arena record and tying the Lakers club record and his regular season career high as the Lakers beat the Mavericks 114-107. Reocrd is 51-29.

APRIL 22 — Dallas finishes its home schedule at 33-8 - the second-best home record in franchise history behind last season's 35-6 - with a 127-96 win against San Antonio. Record is 52-39.

APRIL 23 — Dallas is idle, but Denver defeats the Clippers 134-109 to clinch the Midwest Division and deny the Mavericks their repeat bid.

APRIL 24 — Dallas ensures itself of third place in the Western Conference with a 119-109 road victory over the Spurs in the regular season finale. Final record is 53-29, two games behind last season's 55-27 - the first season in franchise history that Dallas has not bettered or equalled its record from the season before.

1986-87 SEASON RECAP

Won 55, Lost 27 (first, Midwest) . . . a disappointing four-game first-round elimination to Seattle followed a year of many milestones: most wins, first division title (won by 11 games, the biggest margin in the Midwest since 1980-81), winningest month ever (12-4 March), best road trip ever (4-1 through the Atlantic and Central in March), first-ever wins in Philadelphia and Milwaukee . . . club never lost more than two in a row in regular season, but dropped three-straight in playoffs to Seattle after setting 11 records in a 151-129 Game One win . . . for the first time two Mavericks (Aguirre, Blackman) played in All-Star Game . . . the 11-win improvement over '85-86 was the NBA's third-biggest jump and the Mavericks' biggest step-up since '81-82 . . . for the fifth-straight year Dallas committed the fewest turnovers in the NBA (14.7) . . . 55-27 was fourth-best record in NBA . . . club best 35-6 at home while selling out all but three games and 954 tickets . . . 20-21 away tied club record . . . attendance of 16,984 is club record . . . defense improved from 21st in NBA to 14th (110.4 ppg) and club records were set for FG% defense, steals, blocks and rebounds . . . for the third-straight year Dallas led the NBA in three-pointers made and attempted with NBA record totals of 231-of-653 . . . James Donaldson shattered the club rebound record averaging 11.9 per game, best in the West and among NBA centers . . . only team to win the season series with the Lakers (3-2) . . . the lineup of Aguirre, Perkins, Donaldson, Harper and Blackman started 70 of 82 games, including the opener and the regular season finale.

1986-87 HIGHLIGHTS

OCT. 31 — The Mavericks record their biggest opening night win, 103-77 vs. Utah as the Jazz shoots an opponent record low .311. Donaldson is the seventh opening night starting center in seven years.

NOV. 6 — The Mavericks drill Seattle 147-124 in the Coliseum. Dallas has a club-record nine players in double figures. Record is 3-1.

NOV. 26 — The Mavericks tie their own club and NBA record with just four turnovers in a 129-117 home win over Sacramento. Record is 8-5.

DEC. 27 — Dallas reaches 10 games over .500 with an easy 123-97 win over Phoenix. The Mavericks complete the month as full-time residents of first place (since 11/29). The home record of 12-1 matches '83-84's start for best ever. Record is 19-9.

JAN. 5 — The home win streak ends at nine with a 144-135 loss to the Indiana Pacers. The 144 points ties the opponent high and is the most points ever allowed by Dallas at home. Record is 21-10.

JAN. 16 — The Mavericks post their first-ever win in Milwaukee, 124-122 in OT as four players score 20-plus points for Dallas. Record is 24-13.

JAN. 26 — It's a big day for headlines as Aguirre and Blackman are named to the All-Star team and Derek Harper signs a 10-year contract.

JAN. 29 — Dallas gets its biggest win ever against Denver, 132-102 in McNichols. It's the biggest home loss in Denver's NBA history, and Dallas' first back-to-back wins in Denver since '82-83. Record is 27-15.

JAN. 30 — The Mavericks earn the first-ever sweep of Milwaukee with a wild 133-117 home win. Detlef Schrempf records the third triple-double in club history. Record is 28-15.

FEB. 2 — In what's perhaps the most significant regular season win ever, the Mavericks earn the season series by beating the Lakers for the third-straight time, 103-99 in the Forum. Record is 29-16.

FEB. 8 — Blackman's two FTs with no time left force OT and the West goes on to win the highest scoring All-Star Game, 154-149 in Seattle.

FEB. 27 — The Mavericks get a 123-110 win over Philadelphia on Julius Erving's last visit to Reunion. Record is 37-19.

MARCH 6 — Despite leading by as much as 15 points in the third period, the Mavericks lose to Detroit for the seventh-straight time, 125-115. James Donaldson grabs 20 rebounds and surpasses Jay Vincent's 1984-85 single season record of 704 boards. Record is 39-21.

MARCH 13 — The Mavericks set the NBA single-season three-point field goal record at 178, but lose for the third time in four games and end a 7-game home winning streak, 113-105 to Atlanta. Record is 40-23.

MARCH 17 — The Mavericks celebrate St. Patrick's Day by wearing their green warmups and by clinching their fourth-straight playoff berth with a 114-96 home win over Chicago. Record is 42-23.

MARCH 23 — The Mavericks get their first win in seven games in the Spectrum by defeating Philadelphia, 103-100. Record is 45-23.

MARCH 24 — Aguirre scores a Meadowlands record-tying 43 points as Dallas wins its sixth-straight, 119-107 over NJ. Record is 46-23.

MARCH 28 — Dick Motta gets his 800th NBA win as the Mavericks defeat Washington 114-107 in the Cap Centre. Record is 47-24.

APRIL 3 — History is made as the Mavericks beat GS 136-116 for their 50th win and wrap up their first Midwest Division title. Record is 50-24.

APRIL 7 — Dick Motta is suspended for the April 8 game at Utah by the NBA and the Mavericks are fined $5,000 for Motta's recent public statements which suggested the Houston Rockets didn't try to win in a 117-104 loss April 1 at Phoenix.

APRIL 18 — Dallas closes out its most successful season by beating the Sacramento Kings 125-121 in Reunion. The win closes the season at 55-27, giving the Mavericks 11 more victories than last season.

1985-86 SEASON RECAP

Won 44, Lost 38 (third, Midwest)...a repeat of the 1984-85 record and fourth place playoff seed...club failed in its bid to become just the fourth team in NBA history to improve five straight years...eliminated Utah in the first round of the playoffs 3-1, then lost to the Lakers 4-2 in the conference semi-finals...averaged 16,904 fans per game, second in the league to Detroit (16,957)...Dallas sold out 31 of 41 dates and filled Reunion Arena to 99.4 percent of its capacity — an NBA record for a building of Reunion's size...home record was 26-15, with seven losses coming against teams which finished the year with losing records...on Nov. 25 Dallas traded Kurt Nimphius to the Clippers for 7-2 center James Donaldson...Donaldson's strength gave the Mavericks a new dimension and he finished ninth in NBA boards (9.6) — the first Maverick ever among rebound leaders...Dallas was 12-22 vs. teams which posted winning records and 3-12 vs. the division winners...regular season highlight was March 10th's 116-115 home win over Boston...that night, Dallas playing, without Mark Aguirre (ill), overcame 50 points from Larry Bird, and a 13-point deficit in the last 5:37 for first-ever win vs. Celtics...Dallas averaged 115.3 ppg, second to the Lakers but allowed 114.2 ppg — 21st in defense...the Mavericks averaged 15.7 turnovers, the fewest in the NBA for the fourth-straight year...for the second-straight year Dallas led the NBA in 3-pointers made and attempted with 141-of-446...Dallas was the only team to place two scorers in the top 15: Aguirre 12th (22.6) and Blackman 15th (21.5)...Mark Aguirre was suspended for two games on Dec. 21 after refusing to play the second half of the Dec. 19 win at Atlanta...Blackman made his second-straight All-Star Game appearance, this time before the Reunion faithful...Brad Davis won his fifth-straight Favorite Maverick Award...

opening game starters: Perkins, Aguirre, Bryant, Davis, Blackman . . . final game starters: Aguirre, Wennington, Donaldson, Ellis, Harper . . . most frequently used starting lineup: Aguirre, Perkins, Donaldson, Harper (who replaced Davis on Jan. 22), Blackman.

1985-86 HIGHLIGHTS

OCT. 26: The Mavericks open their sixth season with their sixth different center, as Wallace Bryant starts in the middle vs. Seattle. Dallas comes from 11 down to win 101-95.

NOV. 7: The Mavericks are decimated 131-99 in Denver. The defeat is the biggest loss of the year. Record is 2-4.

NOV. 23: Aguirre has the second triple-double in club history (25 pts., 13 rebounds, 12 assists) as Dallas handles Indiana 117-104 in Reunion. Record is 6-7.

NOV. 29: The Mavericks drill Sacramento 133-111 in Reunion, and play the last 4:17 with a lineup which averages nearly 6-11. Record is 6-11.

DEC. 10: After a storm knocked out the Sports Arena lights, Dallas squandered a 17-point third period lead to lose 120-118 at the L.A. Clippers. Record is 11-10.

DEC. 14: The Mavericks clobber Denver 127-100 in Reunion. Newly acquired center James Donaldson pulls down a career-high and club-record 22 rebounds. Record is 12-11.

DEC. 19: Dallas wins in Atlanta 120-108. Motta pulls Aguirre with 4:19 left in the second after Aguirre fails to get back on defense. The day before in Boston, Motta and Aguirre had agreed that lapses in concentration would result in Aguirre's benching. Aguirre chooses to sit out the second half which results in a two game suspension. Record is 13-12.

JAN. 11: Sam Perkins scores a career-high 32 points as Dallas beats Golden State 127-123 at home in a see-saw overtime battle. Record is 17-16.

JAN. 19: The year's biggest Maverick win: 131-96 over Houston. Record is 19-18.

JAN. 22: Dallas loses at home to the Clippers 131-118. Harper starts in place of Davis. Until then, Davis had started 120-straight games since being rested in the April '84 finale. Record is 19-20.

FEB. 9: The Mavericks and Reunion Arena play host to the 36th annual NBA All-Star Game before 16,573. The East wins 139-132 in a game that's close all the way. The Mavericks' Blackman receives a tremendous ovation during the intros and goes on to score 12 points in 22 minutes while adding eight assists.

FEB. 17: Dallas comes from behind to win 126-124 at New Jersey. Blackman sets club records for free throw makes and attempts with 22-of-23 and the Mavericks set team records and NBA season-highs with 51-of-58. Record is 29-23.

FEB. 28: The Mavericks lose 123-120 at home to Philadelphia on a 50-foot shot by Julius Erving with no time remaining on the clock. Record is 29-29.

MARCH 3: The Mavericks open up a four game road trip with a 139-138 double-OT win at Phoenix. Blackman's driving slam with eight seconds left proved to be the game winner. Aguirre scored 42 to give him back-to-back 40 point games (2nd time in career). It was also the longest game in Maverick history, taking 3:06 to play. Record is 31-29.

MARCH 10: The Mavericks, playing without Mark Aguirre, beat the Celtics for the first time, 116-115 despite a Reunion Arena record-tying 50 points by Larry Bird. Dallas, which now has beaten all 22 NBA opponents, came back from 13 points down in the final 5:37. Record is 34-30.

MARCH 27: The Mavericks clinch their third-straight playoff berth with a 110-105 win at New York. Aguirre scores three of the Mavericks' Madison Square Garden record six three-pointers. Record is 40-33.

APRIL 13: The Mavericks close out the season with a 127-104 win, boosted by a season-high 74 points in the 2nd half, at the Lakers to finish 44-38, identical to last year's record. Eight players scored in double figures to tie the club record while also committing a season-low eight turnovers.

1984-85 SEASON RECAP

Won 44, Lost 38 (3rd, Midwest) . . . Mavericks improve their record for the fourth-straight year — only the 10th time that's ever happened in the NBA . . . 20-21 road mark set franchise record and was fifth-best in NBA . . . mysteriously, club fell from 31-10 at home in '83-84 to 24-17 . . . 11 of 17 home defeats came by 10 points or more and nine of the losses were to losing teams . . . the Mavericks averaged 16,694 fans per game, 98 percent of Reunion's capacity and second in the NBA to Detroit . . . it was a "streakless" year — the longest winning streak was four-straight and the longest losing streak was three in a row . . . for the third-straight year, the Mavericks made the fewest turnovers in the NBA, this time with an NBA record low of 14.4 per game . . . Mavericks became first NBA team to have four players make at least 20 three-pointers (Davis 47, Ellis 42, Aguirre 27, Harper 21) . . . the Mavericks' 152 three-pointers led the NBA and were the third-most since the NBA adopted the three-pointer in '79-80 . . . whenever the Mavericks scored 125-plus at home and won, everybody got a coupon from Pizza Hut for free pizza . . . it happened four times in the regular season and on each occasion Dale Ellis hit the "pizza bucket" . . . Sam Perkins made the all-rookie team . . . Brad Davis won his fourth-straight Favorite Maverick Award . . . Dallas was 30-1 when outshooting the opponent . . . 5-5 vs. Atlantic and 19-11 vs. Pacific were club's best records ever against those divisions . . . Dallas was the NBA's healthiest team, losing only six player-games to injury . . . carried 11 players after waiving Howard Carter in December . . . opening game starters: Aguirre, Vincent, Perkins, Davis, Blackman . . . final game starters: Vincent, Perkins, Bryant, Davis, Blackman . . . most frequently used starting lineup: Aguirre, Vincent, Nimphius, Davis, Blackman.

1984-85 HIGHLIGHTS

OCT. 27: A national CBS audience watches Houston hand Dallas a 121-111 opening day loss as Akeem Olajuwon debuts with 24 points.

NOV. 13: Dallas stages its biggest comeback ever, rising from 19 down to win in Portland, 101-94. The Mavericks trail 36-17 with 9:11 left in the second and outscore the Blazers 34-20 in the fourth. Record is 6-5.

DEC. 15: With Aguirre out with a sore knee, Dallas falls 117-115 in Houston. The Mavericks shoot 4-of-5 3-pointers and would make at least one 3-pointer in all but four of the final 58 games. Record is 12-12.

DEC. 18: Aguirre's pulled for not hustling in Dallas' 110-96 loss at Milwaukee as Ellis (23 points) starts the second half. Record is 12-13.

JAN. 3: Dallas loses at San Antonio 116-115 as Ellis misses a free throw at 0:03 which would have completed a 4-point play. Ellis was fouled by Moore while making a 24-footer with Dallas trailing, 116-112. Record is 15-16.

JAN. 7: Dallas beats Seattle 102-84 in a game which took just 1:40 — the club's quickest game ever. Seattle was 2-of-4 from the line as Dallas made just 8 personals — one off the NBA record low. Record is 17-16.

JAN. 13: Dallas' 124-101 win over Portland is highlighted by Ellis' club record six 3-pointers. Dallas (7-of-12) and Portland (4-of-12) combine to set NBA records for 3-pointers made and attempted by two teams in a game. Ellis has 27 points in 20 minutes. Record is 20-17.

JAN. 15: Dallas' 149-104 win at GS is the biggest in club history and club records for points in a half (87, 2nd) and quarter (51, 4th) are set. The 149 points ties for the club scoring record. Record is 21-17.

JAN. 28: Aguirre learns he's not on the all-star team and takes it out on Philly with a club record 49 points in Dallas' 111-109 home win. It's decided when Cheeks misses a 22-footer at the horn. Record is 24-21.

FEB. 3: Motta's new lineup leads Dallas to a 114-106 home win over Denver. Perkins is inserted at big forward with Vincent accepting the sixth man role. Wallace Bryant who has played in just 21 of the first 47 games, starts at center in place of Nimphius. Perkins has 18 points and 16 rebounds while Vincent has 24 and 13. Record is 25-23.

FEB. 10: Blackman has 15 points in 23 minutes as the West All-Stars defeat the East 140-129 before 43,146 in the Hoosier Dome.

FEB. 25: Aguirre (28.8 ppg) is player of week as Dallas goes 4-0.

MARCH 1: Denver comes from 23 down in the last 17 minutes of regulation to win 141-140 in OT in Reunion. Dallas leads 91-68 with 5:23 left in the third and 100-85 entering the fourth. Mike Evans scores 16 of his career-high 38 (he made 5-of-7 3-pointers for the game) as Denver outscores Dallas 41-26 in the fourth. Elston Turner haunts his old team in the last 40 seconds of OT with two freebies and a jumper. Aguirre scores 46. Record is 32-27.

MARCH 10: Dick Motta becomes the fourth head coach to win 700 games, as Dallas wins at NJ 126-113. Record is 35-29.

MARCH 23: The long-awaited Michael Jordan Show turns out to be the Steve Johnson Show, as Chicago defeats Dallas 107-97 in Reunion. Johnson scores a season-high 31 points on 12-of-13 shooting. Jordan has 20 points, 9 rebounds, and 10 assists, but shoots 5-of-17. Record is 40-32.

APRIL 6: In a wild home finale, Dallas loses 139-127 in double-OT to Houston. Seven technicals are called — and all six of Earl Strom's are on Dallas. Mark Aguirre is ejected at the half and Dick Motta with 4:18 to play in regulation. Harper, Blackman, and Lionel Hollins are also whistled, and luckily the Chicken is on hand to divert the crowd's attention. Vincent misses a jumper at the buzzer in regulation. Davis misses a shot at the horn of the first OT. After a 121-all tie with 3:59 left in the 2nd OT, Houston runs off 13 unanswered points. Record is 42-36.

SEPT. 28: NBA and Players Association sign anti-drug agreement.

OCT. 30: Mavericks lose 123-101 at SA . . . Jay Vincent tears his right calf muscle, misses the next five games, and doesn't return to form until April.

NOV. 15: David Stern named to succeed Larry O'Brien as commissioner.

NOV. 28: Mark Aguirre named NBA player of the week after 28.7 ppg and 6.7 ppg while Dallas went 3-0.

DEC. 1: Dick Motta named NBA/Haggar coach of the month for 11-4 start.

DEC. 2: Dallas wins 133-115 at LA behind Aguirre's 42 . . . Lakers lead 101-100 after three before Dallas outscores them 33-17 in fourth.

DEC. 3: Club record winning streak reaches eighth and final game with a 110-100 home win over Chicago. The streak, which began Nov. 17, will end with a 112-103 loss at KC on Dec. 6.

DEC. 7: Mavericks lose first home game, 114-112 to Washington, after an 11-0 beginning in Reunion.

DEC. 9: Referee labor dispute is settled.

DEC. 11: Aguirre follows a Dec. 10 40-point game at GS, with 40 more in a 118-116 loss at SD. Is first Maverick to score 40-plus in consecutive games.

JAN. 6: Aguirre has 38 points (16-of-25 FGs) and adds 10 assists in a 123-106 win at SD. Motta: "In my career I have had one other player play like that for me. It was Elvin Hayes one night in Washington when he scored 52. I don't know of many guys who score that many points and take so few shots and still get 10 assists." . . . the win is 100th in club history.

JAN. 15: Dallas runs its home record to 17-2 with a 126-107 Sunday afternoon win over Denver — one of two 19-point wins in '83-84 . . . next 11 home dates, Dallas will go 5-6.

JAN. 24: Dallas beats Utah 123-115 in Las Vegas . . . Motta upstages the Chicken while the mascot is performing his referee "Whip It" routine . . . during a timeout, Motta walks out on the floor and kicks the Chicken's referee doll.

JAN. 25: Mavericks go to all-star break 25-19 after Pat Cummings' beats GS with a baseline jumper at the buzzer . . . final at Reunion was 112-110 in OT.

JAN. 29: Aguirre is first Maverick to play in the All-Star Game, scoring 13 points in 13 minutes in Denver.

FEB. 1: Bernard King scores a Reunion record 50 points (20-of-28 FGs), his second-straight 50-point outing, as NY prevails 105-98.

FEB. 15: Dallas beats Philly for first time ever, 119-116 in double-OT in Reunion . . . Aguirre leads with 33.

FEB. 25: Mavericks win at Utah 97-95 as Blackman tips in an Aguirre 3-point miss at the horn.

MARCH 7: The 0-7 Cleveland jinx ends with a 115-103 Reunion win.

MARCH 10: Blackman scores a career-high 43 in 120-103 home win over GS.

MARCH 13: For the fourth time in 28 days, Dallas goes into double-OT . . . for the third time the Mavericks lose, this time 137-131 at SA.

MARCH 24: Aguirre sets club records with 24 first quarter points, 32 first half points, and 46 in the game in a 119-101 home win over Denver . . . Blackman adds 38, so he and Aguirre combine for a club record 84.

APRIL 1: Mavericks lose fourth-straight, 102-98 at Washington, but earn their first playoff berth when GS loses to LA.

APRIL 6: Dallas ends a five-game losing streak with a 131-118 win over SA . . . for the second time in club history, four players, led by Aguirre's 33, score 20-plus.

APRIL 12: Mavericks lose 119-118 at Phoenix as Pat Cummings misses a lay-in at the buzzer . . . a win would have locked up the playoff homecourt advantage.

APRIL 13: Mavericks beat Lakers 104-103 to take the season series 3-2 and clinch the homecourt advantage in the playoffs.

1982-83 HIGHLIGHTS

NOV. 17: Mavericks sneak up on the defending world champion Lakers to win 118-117 after trailing by 16 points midway through the third period. Mark Aguirre hits three-point shots with 17 seconds left and one second left.

DEC. 29: Mavericks lose to the Philadelphia 76ers in overtime by a 126-116 score in Reunion. Brad Davis ties the game by dropping in a 30-foot three-pointer at the buzzer in regulation. Mavericks miss their first eight shots in the overtime and the Sixers score the first 10 points of the extra period.

JAN. 12: Mavericks break a streak of 12 losses in 14 games, edging San Diego 112-110 behind Aguirre's five points in the final 23 seconds. His three-pointer ties it, and his jumper from the corner with one tick left wins it.

JAN. 14: Mavericks break virtually every club offensive record in 149-139 win over Denver. Records fall with 149 points, 85 first-half points, 65 field goals, 45 assists, and 64 percent shooting. The two teams combine for Mavericks game records 288 points and 62 percent shooting. Dallas leads 85-75 at halftime. Ten days ago the Mavericks totaled 84 points in a loss at Washington. Aguirre scores the first "triple-double" in franchise history with 30 points, 11 rebounds, and 16 assists. Blackman leads in scoring with 31 points but suffers a sprained ankle which will sideline him for three games.

JAN. 18: Dick Motta becomes the fifth coach to log 600 wins as Dallas knocks off Golden State 112-102 in Oakland.

JAN. 22: Mavericks pound Utah 126-88. The 38-point win is biggest ever.

JAN. 26: Dallas finishes off a club-record five-game winning streak by beating the Kings in Kansas City 125-115. Aguirre leads with 35 points.

FEB. 2: Deja vu in Reunion. The Lakers return only to be victimized by Jay Vincent's buzzer-beating jump shot over Kareem. Vincent makes the shot after rebounding a Brad Davis miss, and Dallas wins 122-120. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar leads the Lakers with 34 points on 14-of-16 shooting. Game is Abdul-Jabbar's first since his $1 million Bel-Air home burned down.

FEB. 6: Mark Aguirre scores a team-record 44 points to lead the Mavericks to their first-ever win at Portland. Final is 112-105.

FEB. 8: Mavericks win for the first time in Phoenix, 112-100. This game marks the only occasion all season when the Mavericks win after trailing going into the fourth quarter. The Suns led 76-73 after three periods.

FEB. 9: Mavericks hit the all-star break with a 122-113 win over the Detroit Pistons. This is the 12th win in the last 15 games and catapults the Mavericks into second place in the Midwest Division.

FEB. 23: Mavericks are shown how far they are from the league's elite teams as they are pasted by the 76ers 133-101 at the Spectrum. The loss is the worst of the season and third-worst all-time.

MARCH 2: Mavericks withstand a one-man assault by Gus Williams to edge the SuperSonics 108-105. Observers feel Williams' 38 points may be the best individual performance against Dallas this season.

MARCH 4: Bucks rally behind Sidney Moncrief to pull out a 108-102 win over Reunion before the season's sixth and final sellout. Marks the first capacity crowd for an opponent other than Boston, Philly, or Los Angeles.

MARCH 26: Kansas City Kings break Dallas' back 114-111 before 14,574 in Reunion. This game starts the Mavericks' seven-game tailspin that took the club out of the playoff hunt. The game was decided on a critical call by referee Ed Middleton. With eight seconds left and Dallas trailing 112-111, K.C.'s Joe C. Meriweather tied up the driving Brad Davis. A jump ball was whistled, the 6-10 Meriweather controlled it, and the Kings completed a come-from-behind win 114-111. Dallas had led 99-89 with 8:19 to play.

APRIL 9: Mavericks snap a seven-game losing streak by surprising the Midwest Division champion Spurs in San Antonio 122-111.

APRIL 16: Mavericks close it out before 14,453 Reunion fans who give the club the now-traditional pregame standing ovation. Unfortunately, losing these emotional home finales is also becoming tradition. For the third straight year the Mavericks aren't even in the final home game and lose this one 132-120. San Antonio shoots an NBA record .707 from the floor.

END QUOTE: "I want to thank our fans for accepting us for what we are, a third-year expansion team that scrapped and hustled and overachieved our way to a pretty-nice season." — Head Coach Dick Motta

1981-82 HIGHLIGHTS

OCT. 30: The Mavericks open their second season at Utah, but the debut of the new-look Mavericks (they premiered the green road uniforms after wearing blue the first year) is spoiled. Adrian Dantley (39 points) does his usual routine on Dallas and Utah bounced back from a 15-1 first period deficit to bomb Dallas 105-89. Mark Aguirre leads Dallas with 19 points in his first regular season game.

NOV. 14: Mark Aguirre scores 42 points, then a club record, but the script remains the same. Dallas falls for the seventh-straight time, 118-112 to Golden State at home and the season record slips to 1-8.

NOV. 28: The Mavericks break their 12-game losing streak (will be the longest of the year) with a 111-107 homecourt win over New Jersey. The victory comes after losing 12 of the first 13 games of the season. Jersey City native Jim Spanarkel becomes the first veteran to lead Dallas in scoring with 20 points. Record is 2-13.

DEC. 8: Mavericks enjoy their first blow-out at home, spanking Utah 128-103 (at the time the largest margin of victory ever). The club shoots 62 percent from the floor (at the time a club record) and Aguirre leads seven double figures scorers with 24 points. Record goes to 4-15.

DEC. 9: Aguirre breaks the fifth metatarsal bone in his right foot in the fourth quarter of the Mavericks' 113-109 overtime loss at Kansas City. The injury will sideline Aguirre for two months (31 games). Dallas squanders a three-point lead in the last 20 seconds. Rolando Blackman leads Dallas with 23 points. Record is 4-16.

DEC. 15: Mavericks grab their first of 12 road wins, 107-102 at Washington. Jay Vincent, starting in place of Aguirre, leads the way with 31 points and 13 rebounds. This is the first of 15 games with 30 or more points for Vincent. Record is 5-18.

DEC. 29: Mavericks close out '82 by drubbing KC 104-92 in Reunion. Vincent scores a career-high 41 points on 15-of-22 shooting. Dick Motta gets tossed for the second time this season. Assistant Coach Bob Weiss' record goes to 2-0 as the club improves to 7-22.

JAN. 20: Mavericks come back from 15 points down in the third period to upset eventual Midwest Division champion Milwaukee 109-104 in Reunion. Vincent's 21 leads six Mavericks in double figures. Record is 10-28.

JAN. 26: Dallas wins fourth-straight game (at the time a club record) by beating the Hawks 90-88 in Atlanta. The Vincent and Bristow show is becoming popular. Jay has 30 points, Allan has 15 points, 10 boards, and eight assists. Record is 13-28, and 12-15 since the 1-13 start.

FEB. 15: NBA office announces Jay Vincent is the first Maverick ever to receive an NBA/Pepsi Challenge player-of-the-week award. The first rookie to earn the honor this season, Vincent averaged 32.3 ppg, 7.3 rebounds, and shot 58 percent as the Mavericks gunned down Seattle, and won at New Jersey.

FEB. 20: Mark Aguirre returns after missing 31 games with a broken bone in his right foot. He scores seven points in 15 minutes off the bench as Cleveland beats the Mavericks 116-109 in Richfield. Aguirre will come off the bench the rest of the season. Record is 17-35.

FEB. 21: Mavericks blister the Bulls 113-97 in Chicago as General Manager Rod Thorn takes over for fired Head Coach Jerry Sloan. Brad Davis scores a career-high 32 points on 14-of-17 shooting. At one point Davis makes 11 straight field goals. Aguirre returns home for the first time with 14 points and seven assists in 21 minutes. Record is 18-35.

MARCH 17: Brad Davis' 80-foot basket to end the first-half is the only highlight as Chicago gets 102-92 revenge in Reunion.

MARCH 23: Mavericks pull off perhaps the biggest win in franchise history when Aguirre's three-pointer with seven seconds left gives Dallas a 118-116 win over the eventual world champion Lakers in the Forum. The victory ends the Lakers nine-game domination over Dallas.

APRIL 17: Mavericks finish 28-54, 13 games better than the charter season, after losing 130-124 in Denver. McNichols Arena is stuffed with 17,004 playoff-crazed fans. Vincent leads Dallas with 26 points.

END QUOTE: "Our team is a credit to the league in the way they play. They are a credit to our sport. I don't mean to sound corny, but they are."

— Dick Motta following the 100-94 win on January 21 at Kansas City

DID YOU KNOW?

The Lakers have never had a player score 40 points or grab 20 rebounds vs. the Mavericks...George Gervin is the only player to ever score 40-plus points against Dallas with two teams. The "Iceman" did it with San Antonio and Chicago...four ex-Mavericks, Geoff Huston (Texas Tech), Clarence Kea (Lamar), Dennis Nutt (TCU) and Dexter Cambridge (Texas) played their college ball in Texas...the all-time Mavericks "big shoe" record is held by Clarence Kea (1980-82), who wears size 18 1/2 EEE shoes.

1980-81 HIGHLIGHTS

OCT. 11: Mavericks win their historic charter season opener by stunning eventual Midwest Division champion San Antonio 103-92. Winford Boynes leads Dallas with 21 points. Tom LaGarde adds 19 points and 14 rebounds. An opening-night crowd of 10,323 on Texas-OU football game day watches George Gervin lead all scorers with 33 points.

OCT. 15: Mavericks get a rough indoctrination to life on the NBA road, losing 133-98 to Denver in first away game.

OCT. 22: Mavericks win their first of four charter-season road victories, 107-102 before 14,125 disbelieving fans in the Seattle Kingdome. Richard Washington's 24 points off the bench (including 12 in the third quarter) provide the punch.

NOV. 8: Dick Motta joins Red Auerbach, Red Holzman and Gene Shue as the fourth coach to log 1,000 career NBA games. Ironically, Motta gets ejected by referee Tommy Nunez and misses most of the fourth quarter. Mavericks lose to Detroit in the Silverdome 101-73.

DEC. 2: Mavericks sign guard Brad Davis off the Anchorage Northern Knights roster (CBA). Soured after stops in several NBA and CBA outposts, Davis had to be coaxed into signing with the Mavericks by Assistant Coach Bob Weiss, a former 12-year NBA pro who did some time in the minors. Davis had planned on retiring from basketball in the spring to pursue his education. He goes on to play in 56 games, starting the final 26. Davis leads the Mavericks in assists and field goal percentage. Terry Duerod is released to make room for Davis.

DEC. 10: Mavericks trade unsigned 1980 first-round draft choice Kiki Vandeweghe and Dallas' 1986 first-round draft choice in exchange for the Nuggets' first-round picks in 1981 and 1985. Kiki suits up for Denver against Dallas that night and scores six points in 19 minutes as the Nuggets beat the Mavericks 116-107 in Denver.

JAN. 16: Mavericks win back-to-back games for the first time, knocking off the Knicks 118-110 before 10,473 in Reunion. Fourth-quarter specialist Abdul Jeelani personally outscores the New Yorkers 21-20 in the final period.

FEB. 4: On the most forgettable night of the charter season, the Houston Rockets clobber the Mavericks 116-68 in the Summit. Dallas shoots 32 percent on the way to its worst loss.

FEB. 22: Mavericks snap a 15-game losing streak (their longest of the season) by drubbing New Jersey 132-109 at Rutgers. The 23-point win is the biggest of the season.

MARCH 12: Golden State's Purvis Short scores a Reunion Arena record 45 points before fouling out with better than seven minutes left in the Mavericks' 120-118 win.

MARCH 17: Kareem, Magic, and the defending NBA champion Lakers attract an NBA home expansion record 17,828 fans to Reunion Arena. The bad guys win 114-109.

END QUOTE: "This is the best group of pros I've ever worked with. I don't think in 20 years I'll be able to look back and say I've ever had a better bunch. None of you knew you belonged before this season started, and now that you know you do, you have a reason to be proud of yourselves."

— Dick Motta to the Mavericks after the 105-95 come-from-behind win over Utah on March 21, 1981

DID YOU KNOW?

Academy Award-winning actor Louis Gossett, Jr. was the Mavericks unofficial good luck charm in 1993-94. While in Dallas filming Curse of the Starving Class, Gossett attended two Mavericks games - both wins: 108-105 over Minnesota on 2/8/94 and 87-77 over Washington on 2/10/94. Gossett, who predicts stardom for Jamal Mashburn and Jim Jackson, was given an autographed team ball on an engraved base by Mavericks GM Norm Sonju.

Norm Sonju, Donald Carter, NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien and Mavericks VP/Counsel Doug Adkins sign the franchise charter agreement on May 1, 1980.

KEY DATES IN FOUNDING OF THE MAVERICKS

April 1978: Dallas Mayor Robert Folsom and Buffalo Braves President/GM Norm Sonju meet regarding the possibility of moving the Braves to Dallas.

July 11, 1978: The Buffalo Braves move to San Diego and become the Clippers, ruling out the possibility of Dallas landing an established NBA franchise. Sonju directs the Braves' move to San Diego.

October 1978: Sonju travels to Dallas to investigate the possibility of NBA expansion.

February 18,1979: Carter hires Sonju as general manager. Sonju begins the full-time push to bring an NBA expansion team to Dallas.

June 18, 1979: Carter, Sonju and attorney Doug Adkins travel to New York City to meet with the NBA expansion committee. The $8 million cash offer is not accepted by the NBA.

July 18, 1979: Carter, Sonju and Adkins meet and decide that Sonju should continue the quest for an expansion team utilizing a 24-unit ownership model.

September 27, 1979: Sonju meets with the NBA expansion committee in Chicago. The terms are basically agreed upon: If Sonju gets the financial backing, Dallas gets the franchise.

January 8, 1980: Sonju meets with the expansion committee in New York City again. He is told Dallas will receive the 11th draft choice, not the first as was originally planned.

February 2, 1980: Sonju travels to Washington, D.C. for the All-Star Game meetings with all 24 units sold. He is told each team will be permitted to protect eight players in the dispersal draft, not seven as originally planned. The financial terms also are changed substantially.

April 15, 1980: Carter, Sonju and Adkins meet a Coco's at LBJ & Midway. They write the deal on a napkin and send the proposal to Portland Trail Blazers Owner Larry Weinberg, chairman of the expansion committee.

April 28,1980: Reunion Arena opens its doors. Mayor Folsom, Lamar Hunt and Sonju speak at the dedication.

April 28, 1980: The check is sent and the league notifies Carter, Sonju and Adkins that Dallas has a team.

May 1, 1980: A news conference is held at Union Station to sign the franchise agreement and announce the team name, colors and logo.

May 28, 1980: The dispersal draft is conducted during the league meetings in Los Angeles.

June 10, 1980: Kiki Vandeweghe is the first player selected by Dallas in the college draft. On Dec. 10, 1980 the unsigned Vandeweghe was traded to Denver in a deal which eventually brought Rolando Blackman to Dallas.

July 17, 1980: A news conference is held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel to introduce Head Coach Dick Motta and Assistant Coach Bob Weiss.

September 8, 1980: Seven rookies and seven veterans take part in the first organized workout. The camp is held at Royal Haven Baptist Church.

September 20, 1980: The Mavericks win their first-ever preseason game, defeating Denver 122-98 at Oklahoma University's Lloyd Noble Center. Jerome Whitehead leads the Mavericks with 13 points.

September 26, 1980: The Mavericks make their Dallas debut in the second game of an NBA preseason doubleheader, losing to Philadelphia 113-108 before 15,634 fans. The twin bill marks the first basketball ever played in Reunion Arena. Houston stops Kansas City 128-106 in the opener.

JAMAL MASHBURN: MONSTER OF THE WEIGHT ROOM

Jamal Mashburn has earned the reputation as the Mavericks' most dedicated weight room enthusiast. Over the last two summers Mashburn has significantly increased his muscle mass while decreasing his body fat. Mashburn has gone so far as to add a weight room to his home. Says Mavericks Strength and Conditioning Coach Bob King: "Jamal has unlimited potential and ability. We've gotta get it all out. He can be an incredible athletic force. Just read the list of athletic attributes — speed, strength, agility, quickness, stamina, power — Jamal has them."

"Jamal has a frame that allows him to get big. He is so exciting to work with because he can do so many things and he does it so easily. The fans only see him on the court but I love watching him because I know the work he has put into his body."

MOTTA-ISMS

- "The most unique person I've ever been around is Jerry Sloan. Before he walked on the floor he knew he could contribute before he ever shot a field goal. He'd plan to hold his man 10 points under his average, beat him to three loose balls, draw four offensive fouls, and get three more rebounds. I marvelled at his love for the game and his diligence."
- "There's nothing a coach likes better than finding a diamond in the rough and polishing it. It may sound cruel but a project player is like a half-built house. At some point, the house has to be completed so you can get your investment back, or you have to treat it as a business that failed."
- "I despise sloppy play. When you're not a starter in this league—but want to be one—there is no such thing as garbage time."
- "I know the things I teach will work if executed properly. They are time-tested, solid, fundamental. My offense has won at every level. It gets the ball inside first, and what's more basic than that? There's an area on the floor where you should make 60 percent of your shots. I want my team to take half its shots from there."
- "The defense should start with the last phase of your offense. If you execute your offense properly you'll always have people in position to stop the other team's fast break."

ATTENDANCE NOTES

The Mavericks sold out 27 of 41 home games in 1994-95 after selling out a total of seven the previous two seasons combined. The 27 sellouts are Dallas' most since selling out 32 games in 1989-90. Overall, the Mavericks averaged 16,547 fans per home game, a 28.9 percent increase over the 12,839 average in '93-94. The Mavericks ranked seventh in the NBA in road attendance in '94-95 at 16,953 per game (Orlando led at 18,679). In '93-94 the Mavericks ranked 22nd in the NBA in road attendance at 15,572.

The Mavericks have sold out Reunion Arena 282 times in the regular season, including 164 of 205 dates from 1986-87 through 1990-91. The club record for consecutive regular season home sellouts is 38 from Nov. 28, 1986 through Nov. 14, 1987. The Mavericks have also sold out each of their 23 all-time home playoff games.

Reunion Arena's capacity was 17,772 in 1980, 17,134 in '81-82 and '82-83, 17,007 from '83-84 through '90-91, and 17,502 beginning in '91-92. On Feb. 16, 1989 vs. Miami, the Mavericks drew their 5 millionth all-time fan, reaching that milestone faster than any club in NBA history. The 1986-87 team drew a club record 693,052 fans, an average of 16,984 per game and the Mavericks topped 98 percent of Reunion Arena's capacity from 1984-85 through 1990-91. The Mavericks make single-game tickets available one week in advance of each home date. Discounted group tickets are available for each regular season home game.

The largest home crowd in Mavericks history is 17,828 (capacity was 17,772) for a 114-109 Dallas loss vs. the Lakers on March 17, 1981. The largest road crowd in Mavericks history is 35,888 at San Antonio's Alamodome on March 18, 1995.

MAVERICKS BUS KEEPS ON ROLLING

The 1994-95 season was the first for the Mavericks/Dallas Area Rapid Transit (DART) bus. The bus, the first of its kind in the Dallas/Fort Worth metroplex, is literally covered (including the windows) with large likenesses of Jamal Mashburn, Jim Jackson and Jason Kidd. The bus looks like a rolling billboard. The company which arranged the bus art, Transportation Display, Inc., created similar art for busses featuring Suns' players in Phoenix.

DID YOU KNOW?

Mavericks owner Don Carter's CB handle is "Cat Skinner"...the first Maverick ever to hand out 10-plus assists was not Brad Davis. It was not even a guard. It was 6-10 center Scott Lloyd. He dished out a career-high 10 assists vs. the Lakers in the Forum on Nov. 16, 1980 and never reached double figures in that category again...Norm Sonju, while attending Grinnell (Iowa) College, played trumpet in a band with Grammy- and Oscar-winning keyboardist Herbie Hancock...as a boy Sonju aspired to be a pro athlete (Cubs star Hank Sauer and broadcaster Bert Wilson were two of his heroes).

GAME-BY-GAME IN MAVERICKS PLAYOFF HISTORY

1984 FIRST ROUND

GAME ONE (APRIL 17, 1984) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 88, SEATTLE 86. Rolando Blackman misses a 10-footer, but grabs his own rebound and follows it in from seven feet in traffic with 11 seconds left to propel the Mavericks to an 88-86 win over the Sonics in Dallas' first ever playoff game. Dallas leads 87-86 after Blackman's shot. Seattle has a chance to win, but Blackman and Bill Garnett bother Jack Sikma enough to force the 6-11 center to miss a driving layup. Blackman adds a free throw with one second remaining to give Dallas its final margin. After leading 83-78 with 6:48 to go, the Mavericks are shut out 8-0 until a Pat Cummings layup brings Dallas within 86-85 with 58 seconds remaining. Gus Williams, who scores an NBA playofff record 23 points in the first period and finishes with 31 points, misses with 35 seconds remaining, and Dallas works the ball to Blackman. Dallas misses the first seven shots of the game and the Sonics jump out to leads of 15-2, 21-6, and their largest lead of the game, 27-11 with 4:15 to play in the first period. Seattle enters the game with 2,280 minutes of playoff experience compared to the Mavericks' 146.

GAME TWO (APRIL 19, 1984) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — SEATTLE 95, DALLAS 92. Gus Williams hits a 25-foot three-pointer at the buzzer before a shocked crowd at Reunion Arena, as the Sonics even the series 1-1 with a 95-92 win. Dallas ties the game at 92 when Pat Cummings hits a jumper with 46 seconds left. Dallas trails by as many as 17 points twice (last time at 52-35 with 3:24 left in the second). The Mavericks become the second team in NBA playoff history to make all its free throws by shooting 24-of-24. Mark Aguirre leads Dallas with 27 points and 17 rebounds. Tom Chambers leads all scorers with 30 points.

GAME THREE (APRIL 24, 1984) @ SEATTLE COLISEUM (10,229) — SEATTLE 104, DALLAS 94. The Sonics outscore the Mavericks 52-37 in the second half and take a 2-1 advantage in the series with a 104-94 win. Dallas shoots just nine-of-40 (.225) in the second half. Dallas leads 57-52 at the half behind .500 shooting and 20 points by Mark Aguirre. Aguirre, however, is held to five points on one-of-nine shooting in the second half.

GAME FOUR (APRIL 24, 1984) @ SEATTLE KINGDOME (11,893) — DALLAS 107, SEATTLE 96. The Mavericks take the lead early and even up the series with a 107-96 win in Seattle. Dallas leads from the 7:10 point of the first period. The Mavericks lead by as many as 14 points (79-65) at the end of three periods — the first time in the series Dallas is not trailing after three periods. Mark Aguirre has 12 of his 29 points in the third period and Jay Vincent has 11 of his 21 points in the fourth period. Vincent also chips in 11 rebounds.

GAME FIVE (APRIL 26, 1984) @ MOODY COLISEUM (9,007) — DALLAS 105, SEATTLE 104 (OT). In one of the most memorable games in franchise history, the Mavericks clinch their first ever playoff series with a 105-104 overtime win over the Sonics. For the fourth-straight game the series moves to a new building as World Championship Tennis is booked into Reunion Arena. The capacity crowd at SMU's Moody Coliseum is exactly 8,000 fans less than a Reunion full house. Seattle has its biggest lead at 93-86 with 2:08 left and leads 95-89 with 48 seconds showing. Jack Sikma fouls out with 1:29 left. A pair of Pat Cummings free throws cuts the lead to 95-91 with 47 seconds left. With 22 seconds left, Rolando Blackman steals a Steve Hawes pass and takes it in for a dunk, drawing Dallas within 95-93. With 21 seconds left, Hawes (replacing Sikma) is unable to get off the inbounds pass after a Seattle timeout and Dallas gets the ball back. Blackman makes a jumper at the top of the key with 15 seconds left to tie the score at 95. Danny Vranes misses a tip-in at the buzzer and the game goes to overtime. Blackman scores 13 of his game-high 29 points in the fourth period. Dallas never trails in the overtime and leads 103-97 with 1:37 left. Seattle then outscores Dallas 7-2 with Tom Chambers' tip at 0:01 cutting the Mavericks' lead to 105-104. After a Dallas timeout, Jay Vincent is to inbound the ball at half-court with Chambers defending. Vincent, figuring Chambers couldn't get a shot off in one second, lines the ball off Chambers' chest. Referee Mike Mathis signals the game over and the Mavericks leave the court in celebration despite 0:01 still showing on the clock. For the next 14 minutes Mathis, Jake O'Donnell and alternate Tommy Nunez discuss the remaining second. O'Donnell's ruling is that Mathis' whistle was inadvertent and the Sonics are given the ball out of bounds with one second. The Mavericks return to the floor and when Mark Aguirre and Kurt Nimphius keep Chambers from getting a lob pass, the game ends.

1984 WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMI-FINALS

GAME ONE (APRIL 28, 1984) @ THE FORUM (13,512) — LOS ANGELES 134, DALLAS 91. Less than 48 hours after the thrilling win over Seattle at Moody Coliseum, the Mavericks come out flat and are flattened by the Lakers, 134-91. The Lakers jump out to leads of 10-2 and 30-10. After that, the Mavericks never get closer than 14 points. At the time, the Mavericks only worse defeat was a 48-point loss at Houston in February 1981. Mike McGee's 25 points leads seven Lakers in double-figures. Unfortunately, the game is seen nationally on CBS.

GAME TWO (MAY 1, 1984) @ THE FORUM (15,298) — LOS ANGELES 117, DALLAS 101. After the humiliation of Game One, the Mavericks show more resolve but still fall to the Lakers, this time 117-101. The loss gives the Lakers a 2-0 advantage in the best-of-seven matchup. Dallas falls behind 7-0, but unlike Game One, responds to the Lakers' run with an 11-5 spurt of its own. Nonetheless the Mavericks trail the entire way, falling behind 55-50 at halftime and 90-72 after three periods. Magic Johnson has 27 points and 11 assists, while Kareem Abdul-Jabbar adds 22 points and 10 rebounds. Rolando Blackman leads Dallas with 27 points.

GAME THREE (MAY 4, 1984) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 125, LOS ANGELES 115. The Mavericks shoot .567 and down the Lakers 125-115. Dallas assumes the lead for keeps at 27-25 with 2:17 left in the first period. The Mavericks lead by as many as 19 points on three occasions. Blackman leads the hot shooting with 31 points on 12-of-20 shooting. Dale Ellis and Brad Davis, both mired in playoff shooting slumps, each shoot eight-of-10. One major key comes in the rebounds column, where Pat Cummings outboards Kareem Abdul-Jabbar 14-7. Ellis' 16 points prove to be the most by a Dallas reserve in the '84 playoffs.

GAME FOUR (MAY 6, 1984) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — LOS ANGELES 122, DALLAS 115 (OT). In the game that is remembered for Derek Harper dribbling out the clock, the Lakers take a 3-1 series advantage with a 122-115 overtime win. With the Mavericks' screaming fans getting their first national exposure on CBS, Dallas begins the fourth period by outscoring the Lakers 15-6 to pull within 96-94 with 7:32 left. Derek Harper ties the game at 98-all with a driving layup at 5:42. The Lakers pull ahead 105-100 with 3:50 left before a Harper jumper, a Dale Ellis layup, and two Harper free throws give Dallas a 106-105 lead with 2:15 to go. A pair of Michael Cooper free throws give the Lakers a 107-106 lead with 1:58 left. At the 0:54 mark, Mark Aguirre leaves the game for good with a badly bruised hip, suffered when he dives after his own missed shot. With 31 seconds remaining, Pat Cummings ties the score at 108 apiece by making an acrobatic finger roll while successfully trying to draw a foul from Magic Johnson. When Cummings steps to the line he has made all 14 of his playoff free throw attempts, but he misfires and the score remains tied. With 12 seconds left in regulation, Kareem misses a sky hook and Blackman grabs the rebound. He passes the ball to Ellis who sends it over to Harper with six seconds left. Harper, believing the Mavericks are up 109-108, dribbles out the clock. Harper shows his toughness by sinking a long jumper to give the Mavericks a 110-108 lead to begin overtime. Dallas leads 112-108 with 3:43 left in overtime, but when Vincent fouls out with the score 112-all at 3:04, the Lakers regain control. Bob McAdoo scores six points and the Lakers go on to a 10-3 run.

GAME FIVE (MAY 8, 1984) @ THE FORUM (15,644) — LOS ANGELES 115, DALLAS 99. Mark Aguirre, bothered by the hip injury suffered in Game Four, does not start and the Lakers win easily 115-99 to close out the series. Dale Ellis starts in place of the injured Aguirre. Aguirre enters the game with 1:23 left in the first period and the Lakers leading 30-17. Aguirre finishes with nine points in 14 minutes — the first time he is held under double-figures points all season. Mike McGee leads the way for the Lakers with 27 points.

1985 FIRST ROUND

GAME ONE (APRIL 18, 1985) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 139, PORTLAND 131 (2 OT). Rolando Blackman breaks Dallas' single-game playoff scoring record with 43 points as Dallas takes a 1-0 lead in the series, 139-131 in double-overtime. The Blazers seemingly have the game won (they hold a two-point lead with 17 seconds remaining and possession of the ball), but an errant pass by Mychal Thompson allows Blackman to hit a 13-foot jumper with six seconds remaining in the first overtime. The Mavericks take control in the second overtime, as Blackman scores seven points. Portland takes its largest lead of the game, 53-38, with 2:35 to play in the first half, but the Mavericks retake the lead (88-85) entering the fourth period after an explosive 40-point third period which is highlighted by 12 points by Mark Aguirre. Following a 27-18 fourth period run, Portland takes a two-point lead with 10 seconds remaining in regulation. Blackman, however, hits a four-foot jumper in the lane with four seconds remaining to knot the score at 112 and send the game into overtime.

Rolando Blackman averaged 32.8 points in the 1985 playoffs vs. Portland, including the only two games of 40-plus points by a Maverick in Dallas playoff history — 43 points in Game One and 41 points in Game Two.

Jay Vincent struggled in the 1985 playoffs, shooting just .357 for the four games.

Mark Aguirre averaged 29 points in the 1985 playoffs vs. the Blazers, including a game-high 39 points as Dallas was eliminated 117-113 at Portland in Game Four.

GAME TWO (APRIL 20, 1985) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — PORTLAND 124, DALLAS 121 (OT). The Blazers make up a 10-point deficit in the final 2:06 of regulation to force overtime en route to a 124-121 victory which ties the series, 1-1. Clyde Drexler, who watches Rolando Blackman go for his second-straight outing of 40-plus points in the playoffs (Blackman finishes with 41 points), gets revenge by drawing Sam Perkins away from the basket and then hitting a wide-open Mychal Thompson for a layin with one second remaining in regulation which knots the score at 110 and forces overtime. Portland takes control in the extra period, as the Blazers gain a split in Reunion Arena. Portland outboards Dallas 62-38.

GAME THREE (APRIL 23, 1985) @ PORTLAND MEMORIAL COLISEUM (12,666) — PORTLAND 122, DALLAS 109. Kiki Vandeweghe's 10 points down the stretch leads a 22-9 Portland run which breaks open a tight game, and gives the Blazers a 122-109 win and a 2-1 advantage in the series. The Mavericks hold their largest lead, 70-61, with 9:09 to play in the third period, but the Blazers storm back, going on a 30-17 run to take a 91-87 lead entering the fourth period. Once again Portland's victory is keyed by board work — the Blazers outrebound the Mavericks 51-39. Sam Bowie (11 rebounds) and Clyde Drexler (10 rebounds) lead the Blazers. Rolando Blackman and Mark Aguirre each score 30 points in the losing effort. Vandeweghe scores 24 points to lead the Blazers.

GAME FOUR (APRIL 25, 1985) @ PORTLAND MEMORIAL COLISEUM (12,666) — PORTLAND 115, DALLAS 113. Seldom-used Blazers reserve Audie Norris finishes off the Mavericks with a 10-foot baseline jumper with one second remaining, giving the Blazers a series-clinching 115-113 win. Norris, who had just six points in the previous three games combined, also hits a key shot with 22 seconds remaining to put the Blazers up 113-111. Norris ends the game with nine points in 17 minutes off the bench. Dale Ellis makes his first start in the playoffs, replacing Jay Vincent, who is mired in a shooting slump. Mark Aguirre leads Dallas with 39 points, 24 of which come in the first half. Rolando Blackman, who has carried the Mavericks for most of the series, shoots only two of 13 from the floor, but still manages 17 points.

1986 FIRST ROUND

GAME ONE (APRIL 18, 1986) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 101, UTAH 93. The Mavericks off-set three-of-13 shooting in the fourth period by holding the Jazz scoreless in the final 4:40 and win Game One, 101-93. The win marks the first time for Dallas to hold a playoff opponent under 100 points since beating Seattle 107-96 in Game Four of the 1984 playoffs. Although Mark Aguirre and Sam Perkins combine for just 10-of-29 shooting, Utah's starting forwards, Karl Malone and Thurl Bailey, aren't much better, combining for 14-of-34. The Jazz play (as they will for the remainder of the series) without forward Adrian Dantley (back), who finishes the regular season as the NBA's second-leading scorer at 29.8 points per game and Darrell Griffith (left foot stress fracture).

GAME TWO (APRIL 20, 1987) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 113, UTAH, 106. Following the same script as Game One, the Mavericks go cold from the field in the fourth period (shooting just five-of-16), but hold Utah to equally dismal six-of-17 shooting as Dallas takes a 2-0 lead in the series, 113-106. This marks the first time the Mavericks have ever won the first two games of a playoff series. The Mavericks grab the lead quickly in this one, jumping out to a 10-point lead with 6:44 to play in the first period. Mark Aguirre, who was stricken by back spasms in the final 18 seconds of Game One, plays and contributes 27 points.

GAME THREE (APRIL 23, 1986) @ THE SALT PALACE (11,635) — UTAH 100, DALLAS 98. The Jazz avoid a first-round sweep when rookie Karl Malone hits a turnaround jumpshot with 50 seconds to play to put Utah up for good, 100-98. The Mavericks have a chance to tie, but Rolando Blackman's shot rolls off the rim with one second remaining and Rickey Green grabs the rebound as time expires. The loss marks the Mavericks' sixth-straight road playoff defeat. James Donaldson grabs 20 rebounds, becoming the first Maverick to reach that mark in the postseason.

GAME FOUR (APRIL 25, 1986) @ THE SALT PALACE (12,683) — DALLAS 117, UTAH 113. Brad Davis sets an NBA playoff record by shooting five-of-five from three-point range to lead Dallas to a series-clinching 117-113 victory. The Mavericks take a four-point lead into the fourth period and stretch it to as many as 13 points thanks mostly to Davis, who scores 15 of his career-playoff-high 26 points in the final period. Sam Perkins, who had shot just 38 percent in the first three games of the series, explodes from his doldrums by scoring 19 first half points as the Mavericks forge a 55-54 halftime lead. Perkins finishes with 29 points and 12 rebounds.

1986 WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMI-FINALS

GAME ONE (APRIL 27, 1986) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 130, DALLAS 116. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 28 points to lead the Lakers to an easy 130-116 victory in the first game of the Western Conference Semi-finals. The Lakers lead 66-48 at the half and by as many as 25 points midway, through the third period. With Kareem scoring 10 first period points, the Lakers score the game's first six points and jump out to a 16-6 lead with 6:58 to play in the first period. The Mavericks, who are outshot 61 percent to 44 percent for the contest, enter having dropped four-of-five regular season meetings between the two clubs. Jay Vincent paces Dallas with 18 points off the bench, but shoots just six-of-14 in the process.

GAME TWO (APRIL 30, 1986) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 117, DALLAS 113. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scores 26 points as the Lakers fight off the Mavericks 117-113 to take a 2-0 lead in the series. With the score tied at 108, Kareem takes over, connecting on three skyhooks in the final 3:17. Dallas builds momentum early, leading by as many as 12 points after Rolando Blackman connects on a 17-foot jumper with 1:29 remaining in the first half. Mark Aguirre scores 28 points, grabs 12 rebounds and hands out seven assists, but fouls out with 5:33 to play in the fourth period and the score knotted at 100.

GAME THREE (MAY 2, 1986) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 110, L.A. LAKERS 108. Derek Harper connects on a three-pointer with three seconds left in the game to propel the Mavericks to a 110-108 win and cut the Lakers' lead in the series to 2-1. After a Rolando Blackman layup cuts the Lakers' lead to 108-107 with 24 seconds remaining, Blackman immediately fouls Michael Cooper. Cooper misses both free throws with 19 seconds remaining. Mark Aguirre's shot to put Dallas up is short, but when James Worthy attempts to rebound the miss, he looses his balance and hurls the ball over his shoulder to keep from falling out of bounds with it. The ball goes straight to Harper, who connects on a three-pointer with three seconds remaining. Harper, who finishes with 24 points, ties the game with a three-pointer with 1:46 to play, but Byron Scott promptly answers with a three of his own. Harper's heroics are almost two years to the date after he inadvertently dribbled out the clock in Game Four of the 1984 playoff series against the Lakers. Mark Aguirre finishes with 27 points, nine rebounds and eight assists.

GAME FOUR (MAY 4, 1986) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 120, L.A. LAKERS 118. Mark Aguirre hits a turnaround jump shot from the left baseline in the final seconds to give the Mavericks a 120-118 win over the Lakers and even the series at 2-2. Aguirre, who scores a game-high 39 points on 19-of-30 shooting, comes out blazing. He scores 21 points in the first period (mostly on long jumpers) as Dallas puts together a 21-5 run in the final 4:20 of the period to take a 45-33 advantage into the second period. Those 45 first period points tie an NBA playoff record for most points in the first period. The Mavericks take an 11-point lead into the fourth period after Bill Wennington beats the third period buzzer and connects on his first career three-pointer. Aguirre also dishes out 10 assists.

GAME FIVE (MAY 6, 1986) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 116, DALLAS 113. The Mavericks shoot just 20-of-32 from the free throw line as the Lakers take a 3-2 series advantage with a 116-113 win. Dallas shoots 20-of-33 from the free throw line for the game. The Lakers seemingly have the game salted away in the fourth period, leading 115-110 with five seconds to play, but Brad Davis connects on a three-pointer to bring the Mavericks within a bucket. Following a Mark Aguirre foul with one second to play, James Worthy connects on one-of-two free throws to put the Lakers up 116-113. Aguirre's desperation heave, however, misses the mark and the Lakers take a 3-2 series advantage. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar leads all scorers with 34 points, while Mark Aguirre paces Dallas with 27.

GAME SIX (MAY 8, 1986) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — L.A. LAKERS 120, DALLAS 107. The Lakers close out the series 4-2 with a 120-107 win in Reunion Arena. The Lakers lead by as many as 20 points early in the third period, but Mark Aguirre scores 12 of his game-high 28 points to lead the Mavericks to within 81-79 with 1:39 to play in the third period. However, with Kareem Abdul-Jabbar tossing in 27 points, the Lakers gradually build the lead back up in the fourth period, and win going away. Aguirre hurts his ankle with 3:09 left in the third, and is able to play only a few minutes in the fourth period before limping off.

1987 FIRST ROUND

GAME ONE (APRIL 23, 1987) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 151, SEATTLE 129. Dallas sets 11 club records - including most points scored in a game (151) — and wins Game One going away, 151-129 over the SuperSonics. The Mavericks, who shoot .598 for the game, lead by as many as 32 points (120-88) in the fourth period, before Seattle's offense finally gets on track, scoring 41 points in the final stanza to shave the margin. Rookie Roy Tarpley gets Dallas off to a good start, scoring 12 points on five-of-six shooting with five rebounds in the first half. Tarpley finishes with 25 points and 11 rebounds in 32 minutes off the bench. Ten Mavericks players finish in double figures, tying the NBA playoff record for most players in double figures in one game. Prior to the game the Mavericks raise their 1986-87 Midwest Division Championship banner.

GAME TWO (APRIL 25, 1987) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — SEATTLE 112, DALLAS 110. Former Maverick Dale Ellis hits two free throws with two seconds left and the Sonics even the series 1-1 with a 112-110 win before a shocked crowd at Reunion Arena. The score is tied at 110 when, with four seconds remaining in regulation, Derek Harper is called for traveling as he attempts to trigger an inbounds pass from the backcourt. Seattle takes control of the ball on their end of the court, and Ellis is fouled by Sam Perkins. Ellis finishes with 32 points, six rebounds and six assists. The Mavericks look as if they are going to take control of the game when they hold an eight point lead with 2:53 remaining in the first half, but Dale Ellis and Xavier McDaniel bring the Sonics to within 64-63 at the intermission.

GAME THREE (APRIL 28, 1987) @ THE HEC EDMUNDSON PAVILION (8,150) — SEATTLE 117, DALLAS 107. Dale Ellis scores 43 points and grabs 14 rebounds to push the Mavericks to the brink of elimination as the Sonics prevail 117-107. Due to a scheduling conflict — an agricultural show at the Seattle Coliseum and the Mariners are occupying the Kingdome — Game Three (as well as Game Four) moves to the Hec Edmundson Pavilion on the campus of the University of Washington. The Sonics build a lead early — leading 26-15 after one period — as the Mavericks go ice cold, going the final 8:55 of the period without a field goal touching the bottom of the net (Brad Davis has a shot goaltended with 40 seconds left). That lead expands to 55-37 at halftime and 89-73 entering the final period. Derek Harper, who leads Mavericks scorers with 30 points, leads a comeback attempt in the fourth period. Harper scores 12 points to cut the Seattle advantage to six points. But free throws by Xavier McDaniel and Nate McMillan ice the game for the Sonics. James Donaldson, who is suffering from a stress reaction in his right leg (aggravated in Game One), is held scoreless with one rebound in 15 minutes.

GAME FOUR (APRIL 30, 1987) @ THE HEC EDMUNDSON PAVILION (8,150) — SEATTLE 124, DALLAS 98. The Sonics outscore the Mavericks 36-21 to blow open the game and end the Mavericks season, 124-98. The victory means Seattle becomes the first seventh seed to knock off the number two seed since the NBA expanded to a 16-team playoff format in 1983-84. The Sonics jump on Dallas early, scoring 11 of the game's first 13 points and leading 33-21 after one period. James Donaldson misses the game, the first game he has missed in 537 games, due to a stress reaction in his right leg. Tom Chambers leads Seattle with 31 points. Rolando Blackman scores 25 points for the Mavericks while Roy Tarpley grabs 17 rebounds. For the series, Dale Ellis averages 29.5 ppg and eight rebounds.

1988 FIRST ROUND

GAME ONE (APRIL 28, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 120, HOUSTON 110. The Mavericks take a 1-0 lead in their first-round series against the Rockets with a 120-110 victory. The Mavericks break open a close game in the second period. Ahead 43-42 with 5:52 left in the first half, Dallas (led by six Roy Tarpley points) goes on an 18-4 run to lead 61-46 at halftime. Houston draws within 90-85 with 8:03 to go, but the Mavericks go on a 15-7 run which features baskets by seven different Mavericks (and a free throw by Derek Harper). The Mavericks score 43 points in the fourth period to establish a club playoff record. The win marks the first time the Mavericks have won a playoff game when Mark Aguirre (who finishes with 16 points on six-of-15 shooting) or Rolando Blackman (who scores 15 points on six-of-18 shooting) fails to score 20 points.

GAME TWO (APRIL 30, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — HOUSTON 119, DALLAS 108. Before a national CBS television audience, the Rockets even the series at a game apiece with a 119-108 victory. Sleepy Floyd (42 points) and Hakeem Olajuwon (41) become the second teammates in NBA playoff history to score 40-plus points in the same game. Elgin Baylor (45 points) and Jerry West (41) accomplished the feat for the Lakers on March 19, 1962 at Detroit. Olajuwon also adds 26 rebounds, the most boards ever vs. Dallas in any game. The Rockets lead 107-105 with 1:34 to play, but the Mavericks do not score again until Brad Davis hits a three-pointer with nine seconds remaining. The Rockets end the game on a 16-5 run as Olajuwon scores eight of those points. The loss comes despite Dallas' bench outscoring the Rockets' reserves 41-9.

GAME THREE (MAY 3, 1988) @ THE SUMMIT (16,611) — DALLAS 93, HOUSTON 92. Roy Tarpley scores six of his 17 points in the final 3:46, including the game-winner, a seven-footer on the left side with 1:08 to play, in leading the Mavericks to a 93-92 win over the Rockets in Game Three. The Rockets have a chance to win with :12 to play when Rodney McCray grabs a rebound from Rolando Blackman, but following a Rockets timeout, Hakeem Olajuwon misses a 15-footer and Sam Perkins slaps the ball back towards midcourt as the game ends. The win snaps a five-game road playoff losing streak and is the third road playoff win in club history. Tarpley's 17 points leads the way for Dallas — the fewest points ever by a Mavericks leading scorer in a playoff win.

GAME FOUR (MAY 5, 1988) @ THE SUMMIT (16,611) — DALLAS 107, HOUSTON 97. Mark Aguirre busts out of his series-long shooting slump by setting a Mavericks record (regular season and playoffs) for points in a period with 27 points in third period of Dallas' 107-97 series-clinching win over the Rockets. Aguirre had averaged 15 ppg on .409 shooting in the first three games of the series, and has just six points on two-of-eight shooting in the first half. Aguirre shoots 10-of-11 (including three-of-four three-pointers) in the third period and finishes with 38 points. The Rockets jump on top early, leading 23-10 with 1:07 to play in the first half. For the series, Hakeem Olajuwon, who has 40 points in Game Four, finishes with 150 points for the series, breaking the NBA record for points in a four-game series, previously held by Bob Pettit of St. Louis (144, set in 1963 vs. Detroit). The win marks the third time in their five-year playoff history that the Mavericks advance to the conference semi-finals.

1988 WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMI-FINALS

GAME ONE (MAY 10, 1988) @ McNICHOLS ARENA (17,022) — DENVER 126, DALLAS 115. The Midwest Division Champion Nuggets take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven Western Conference semi-finals by defeating the Mavericks 126-115. Denver shoots 58 percent for the game and goes 26-of-28 from the free throw line as Fat Lever scores a game-high 30 points (12-of-17 shooting) and grabs 11 rebounds. In the final four minutes of the first half and the first four minutes of the second half, the Mavericks are outscored 28-6 and trail 73-53 with 8:13 to go in the third period. The Mavericks are within eight points late, but Lever hits a three-pointer, just beating the 24-second buzzer, to put Denver up 120-109 with :54 remaining.

GAME TWO (MAY 12, 1988) @ McNICHOLS ARENA (17,022) — DALLAS 122, DENVER 108. Rolando Blackman scores 31 points and Roy Tarpley chips in 27 points and 13 rebounds as the Mavericks down the Nuggets 112-108. The win is Dallas' first road win ever in the conference semi-finals (Dallas was 0-7 all-time before this). Rolando Blackman hits a jumper with 6:03 to go in the third period, knotting the score at 65 and starting a 13-2 Mavericks run which gives them the lead for good. The victory comes despite Mark Aguirre matching his career playoff low with nine points. Fat Lever and Alex English lead Denver with 22 points apiece. The win is Dallas' third on the road this postseason after a 2-12 road record in the club's first four playoff appearances. The win is also Dallas' 57th win (when combining playoffs and regular season), surpassing the 1986-87 record of 56 combined wins.

GAME THREE (MAY 14, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DENVER 107, DALLAS 105. Denver takes a 2-1 lead in the series as Bill Hanzlik hits a layup with :03 remaining to give the Nuggets their first lead of the game and a 107-105 victory. The Nuggets tie the game at 105 with :35 to go when Hanzlik hits a 10-foot jumper. Following a Dallas timeout, Sam Perkins, who scores a Mavericks-high 17 points, misses a floater in the lane, and the Nuggets grab the rebound with :20 to play. In the final 3:04, the Mavericks are outscored 8-2, getting only a Rolando Blackman jumper at 1:17. The Mavericks lose despite outshooting the Nuggets (.500 to .469) and outrebounding them (50-47). Fat Lever records the first triple-double by an opponent in Mavericks playoff history, scoring 11 points with 11 rebounds and 12 assists. Alex English leads all scorers with 23 points.

GAME FOUR (MAY 15, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 124, DENVER 103. Mark Aguirre scores 34 points as the Mavericks tie the series 2-2 with a 124-103 win. Denver plays without Fat Lever (strained right knee) and Jay Vincent (pulled right calf muscle). Dallas builds its lead to as much as 26 points (95-69) with :24 left in the third period. Dallas outshoots

Denver .546-.402. Roy Tarpley (24 points and 13 rebounds) records his sixth double-double in eight playoff games coming off the bench.

GAME FIVE (MAY 17, 1988) @ McNICHOLS ARENA (17,022) — DALLAS 110, DENVER 106. On the day Roy Tarpley learns he has won the NBA Sixth Man Award, Mark Aguirre, who scored a Mavericks-high 25 points, cans a three-pointer with :19 remaining to give the Mavericks a 110-106 road win and a 3-1 series advantage. The Nuggets, who play without Fat Lever (strained right knee) and Jay Vincent (pulled right calf) for the second-straight game, miss seven-straight fourth period free throws. Dallas' lead is cut to 104-102 with 1:22 to play when Danny Schayes connects on two free throws. Brad Davis then penetrates the lane, drawing Alex English away from Aguirre, who's left open for a three-pointer.

GAME SIX (MAY 19, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 108, DENVER 95. The Mavericks advance to the Western Conference Finals for the first time in their history with a 108-95 win over the Nuggets. The win gives Dallas a 4-2 series win over Denver. Rolando Blackman, who scores 23 points, gives the Mavericks their biggest boost. He scores seven points during a 10-2 run late in the game. Blackman's efforts help offset a brilliant performance by Denver's Alex English, who scores 34 points on 16-of-29 shooting. The Nuggets draw within one point, 94-93, when T.R. Dunn hit a 17-footer from the wing with 3:30 to play, but that's when Blackman takes over. His driving three-point play with 1:00 remaining puts Dallas up 101-95. Sam Perkins adds 23 points and Roy Tarpley has 18 points and 19 rebounds off the bench.

1988 WESTERN CONFERENCE FINALS

GAME ONE (MAY 23, 1988) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 113, DALLAS 98. The Lakers, who lead 52-49 at the half, make 12 of their first 16 shots to begin the third period and build their lead to as much as 76-63 in the third, on the way to defeating Dallas 113-98 in the Mavericks' first-ever appearance in the conference finals. It marks the 10th-straight series in which the Lakers win the opener. Dallas goes on a 15-1 run in the second period to open a 47-42 lead with 4:21 to play in the first half. But Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who scores 13 first half points on six-of-seven shooting from the field, ignites a 7-2 run which gives the Lakers a 52-49 lead at the intermission. Sam Perkins, who scores all eight of his points in the second half, keeps the Mavericks, who shoot just .625 from the foul line, within 61-57 with 8:02 to play in the third. Dallas outrebounds the Lakers (39-31) for the first time in their six meetings this season and Roy Tarpley leads the way with a career playoff high/club playoff record-tying 20 rebounds. Tarpley, Mark Aguirre and Rolando Blackman lead Dallas with 18 points each.

GAME TWO (MAY 25, 1988) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 123, DALLAS 101. Byron Scott scores 30 points and the Lakers shoot .615 from the field to defeat the Mavericks 123-101 and take a 2-0 lead in the series. Michael Cooper hits a three-pointer with 10:20 to go in the first half to give the Lakers a lead they never relinquish. Scott, who averaged 29.4 ppg against Dallas in the regular season, scores nine points in the pivotal fourth period, as the Lakers outscore Dallas 30-22 in the stanza to take a 89-70 lead. Dallas, which for the second-straight game outrebounds the Lakers (36-28), never mounts a serious run in the fourth period as they drop back-to-back games for the first time in the 1988 playoffs.

GAME THREE (MAY 27, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 106, L.A. LAKERS 94. Led by Roy Tarpley, who records the first 20-point/20-rebound game in Mavericks playoff history by scoring 21 points and grabbing 20 rebounds (11 on the offensive end), the Mavericks draw within 2-1 of the Lakers in the series with a 106-94 win. Dallas trails 76-75 after three, but Sam Perkins scores nine points and Tarpley grabs eight rebounds in the fourth period as the Mavericks outscore the Lakers 31-18. The Mavericks shoot just .452, but compensate by dominating on the boards, 52-33. Mark Aguirre leads all scorers with 23 points, while adding 10 rebounds. For the Mavericks, who have never fallen behind a series 3-0, it's their first ever win in the conference finals and gives Coach John MacLeod 45 career playoff wins, moving him past Jack Ramsay into a tie with Alex Hannum for 10th place on the all-time list.

GAME FOUR (MAY 29, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 118, L.A. LAKERS 104. Derek Harper scores 35 points to lead the Mavericks to a 118-104 win over the Lakers and a 2-2 tie in the series. Ahead 89-81 after three periods, the Mavericks outrebound the Lakers 22-5 in the fourth period and hold the Lakers to just nine-of-20 shooting in the stanza. In a key exchange, Mychal Thompson misses a 12-footer, and James Donaldson grabs the rebound, which leads to a 19-foot jumper by Roy Tarpley to put Dallas up 101-94. Dallas then holds the Lakers scoreless for nearly three-and-a-half minutes. Harper scores 18 first half points on eight-of-12 shooting to stake the Mavericks to a 57-56 lead at the half. The Mavericks shoot a blazing .549 from the field.

GAME FIVE (MAY 31, 1988) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 119, DALLAS 102. The Lakers run off to a 17-point lead at halftime and cruise to a 119-102 victory, and a 3-2 lead in the series. The Mavericks jump out to a 10-4 lead in the first 2:30, but the Lakers then rip off a 20-4 run to take a 24-14 advantage. James Worthy, who paces the Lakers with 28 points, hits seven-of-10 shots en route to 18 first half points. Magic Johnson adds to the Lakers first half fire with 11 points, including seven points coming in the final 3:45 of the half (two 19-foot jumpers and a three-pointer). The Lakers shoot .667 for the first half (26-of-39) and 60 percent for the game (51-of-85). Mark Aguirre leads all scorers with 31 points. Detlef Schrempf sprains his right ankle at the end of the third period and is forced to miss the remainder of the series.

GAME SIX (JUNE 2, 1988) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — DALLAS 105, L.A. LAKERS 103. The Mavericks come back from the brink of elimination with a 105-103 win over the Lakers to even the series at 3-3. James Donaldson blocks a James Worthy drive across the lane with three seconds left to protect a 104-102 Mavericks lead. Donaldson grabs the rebound and is fouled by Byron Scott with two seconds left. He makes one-of-two free throws to give Dallas the final margin. Mark Aguirre, who scores just four points with five rebounds in the first half, finishes with a Mavericks-high 23 points and 13 rebounds. Aguirre hits a huge shot with 1:28 left, grabbing a miss by Roy Tarpley and converting the follow-up to give Dallas a 104-100 lead. Worthy makes it a 104-102 game with 1:08 left when he gets inside for a layup. But on a drive with 33 seconds left that would have tied the score, Worthy has the ball stripped by Tarpley. Worthy and Byron Scott lead the Lakers with 27 points each.

GAME SEVEN (JUNE 4, 1988) @ THE FORUM (17,505) — L.A. LAKERS 117, DALLAS 102. The Mavericks play their first seventh game ever, but the Lakers pull away in the closing minutes for a 117-102 victory. The Mavericks stay close until late in the third period when the Lakers go on an 11-3 run and go up 87-77. Dallas is within 100-94 with 5:34 to play, but a James Worthy dunk with five minutes to play and a tip-in by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar 40 seconds later make it 104-94 and trigger a 15-2 Lakers' run which wraps it up. James Worthy scores a game-high 28 points. Mark Aguirre scores 24 points to pace the Mavericks. Aguirre misses nearly three minutes in the fourth period after bending back two fingers on his non-shooting hand and aggravating an injury to his knuckles. James Donaldson scores 15 points and grabs 14 rebounds. Donaldson finishes the series with a .744 (32-of-43) field goal percentage — an NBA record for a seven-game series. Upon arriving at Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport following the Game Seven loss, 4,500 fans crowd the terminal to welcome the Mavericks home. The Lakers go on to beat the Pistons in the championship series — becoming the NBA's first repeat champions since the 1968-69 Boston Celtics.

1990 FIRST ROUND

GAME ONE (APRIL 26, 1990) @ PORTLAND MEMORIAL COLISEUM (12,884) — PORTLAND 109, DALLAS 102. The Blazers open their best-of-five series against the Mavericks with a 109-102 win. The Mavericks are within 91-89 with 4:28 to play after Derek Harper, who leads Dallas with 24 points, connects on a three-pointer. Thirty seconds later Jerome Kersey hits an 18-footer, beginning a run of nine unanswered points (five by Kevin Duckworth) which allows Portland to build its lead to 100-89 with 1:14 to play. The Mavericks are able to stay close despite Portland outrebounding them 47-33, including 20-8 on the defensive glass. The Mavericks, who are already without Brad Davis (pulled right hamstring) and Adrian Dantley (fractured right leg), are hampered even further when Rolando Blackman and Roy Tarpley each pick up three first half fouls. Tarpley leads Dallas on the boards with 14 rebounds while adding 22 points and a club playoff record-tying five blocked shots. Portland is led by Terry Porter's 28 points and Buck Williams' 16 rebounds. The game marks the first time the Mavericks have ever opened a first-round series on the road and is the first time Dallas ever lost Game One in the first round.

GAME TWO (APRIL 28, 1990) @ PORTLAND MEMORIAL COLISEUM (12,884) — PORTLAND 114, DALLAS 107. For the first time in their playoff history, the Mavericks fall behind 2-0 in the first round, losing to the Blazers 114-107. The Mavericks jump out to a 15-point lead, 38-23, late in the first period, but reserve guards Drazen Petrovic and Danny Young get the Blazers back into the game by combining for 20-straight Portland points and 22 of the Blazers' first 24 second period points. Petrovic scores nine of Portland's first 11 points in the second period and finishes with 14 points on the night. In the fourth period, Blazers center Kevin Duckworth, whose 18 points leads seven Blazers in double-figures, scores 12 points on six-of-seven shooting as Portland takes a 90-83 advantage. Derek Harper and Rolando Blackman combine for 37 points in the first half, but manage only four in the fourth period. Harper scores two of his team-high 23 points in the second half. The Mavericks allow the Blazers just five offensive rebounds in the second half, after allowing 16 in the first half, but Portland still scores 35 second-chance points in the game. Roy Tarpley leads Dallas with 17 rebounds while also adding 22 points in a club playoff record 48 minutes. The Blazers are led on the boards by Buck Williams' 13 rebounds.

GAME THREE (MAY 1, 1990) @ REUNION ARENA (17,007) — PORTLAND 106, DALLAS 92. The Mavericks are swept for the first time in their playoff history as the Blazers win 106-92. Roy Tarpley plays 42 minutes, but misses 10-of-12 shots and six-of-eight free throws and turns the ball over five times. Tarpley, bothered by an upset stomach, finishes with six points and 15 rebounds. Buck Williams misses the final three periods after catching an inadvertent elbow from James Donaldson. Williams suffers cuts above and below his right eye and is taken to Baylor Medical Center with blurred vision. The Blazers are further crippled when Kevin Duckworth has to leave after suffering a broken right hand with two minutes left in the third period. Still, the Mavericks can not overcome Jerome Kersey (29 points), Clyde Drexler (20 points, 10 assists) and Terry Porter (20 points, nine assists). Dallas is led by Rolando Blackman's 23 points.

JIM JACKSON: THE CAPTAIN

Mavericks captain Jim Jackson has worked hard at becoming a leader both on and off the court. "I look at Jimmy and I see an individual who cares about his profession, cares about himself, cares about his fellow players," says Mavericks Head Coach Dick Motta. "I don't think he's going to change."

Says Jackson of his image as the Mavericks' leader: "I see my image as someone who works hard and does whatever it takes for the team to win. I don't think success will change me in any way because I like being who I am, and that's just Jimmy. More than anything else, I'm a people person. I love kids. I think I relate to people well. I don't put myself above anybody else just because I can put the ball in the basket."

DID YOU KNOW?

Former Maverick Allan Bristow, currently the Charlotte Hornets' head coach, is the only player with ABA and Mavericks experience...the Mavericks employ Alberto Dal Cin, a native Italian who has lived in Dallas since 1975, as a European basketball consultant. Dal Cin, who speaks five languages, travels overseas for two-to-three week scouting missions about five times a year.

DATES OF 1995-96 MATCH-UPS

At Atlanta: Dec. 1
At Dallas: Nov. 11

SERIES NOTES: The Mavericks dropped both meetings vs. the Hawks last season...Dallas has now dropped five-straight in the series since a 113-105 win in Reunion Arena on 11/14/92...at halftime of that win, the Mavericks retired No. 15 in honor of Brad Davis (the only number the Mavericks have ever retired)...Dallas has dropped nine-of-10 to the Hawks since 2/23/91 and has lost five-straight in Atlanta...

Jim Jackson led Dallas vs. the Hawks last season, averaging 21 ppg on .400 shooting...the Hawks were led by Mookie Blaylock's 25 ppg on .588 shooting with 8.5 assists and 4.0 steals...the Hawks shot a combined 22-of-39 (.564) from behind the three-point stripe in the two games, while Dallas managed just 6-of-32 (.188) from that distance...

On 11/14/92 Terry Davis scored a career-high/Mavericks season-high-tying 35 points on 13-of-19 shooting with 17 rebounds in 40 minutes...that's Davis' only 30-plus points game of his career...

Hawks' guard Blaylock is from nearby Garland, Texas and Spud Webb hails from Dallas...

The Hawks are 9-6 all-time in Reunion Arena - one of just six teams with winning marks in Reunion: also, Boston (10-5), Cleveland (9-6), Detroit (10-5), Philadelphia (10-5) and the Lakers (25-9)...

Mavericks' all-time assists leader Derek Harper was taken with an '83 first-round pick which originally was Atlanta property. Dallas acquired that pick from Cleveland...

Dominique Wilkins (40 on 3/29/87) and Davis (35 on 11/14/92) hold the series scoring records.

DATES OF 1995-96 MATCH-UPS

At Boston: Jan. 7
At Dallas: Jan. 19

SERIES NOTES: The Mavericks split the season series with the Celtics last season, with each team winning on its homecourt...in Dallas' 122-113 win over the Celtics in Reunion on 12/15/94, Popeye Jones scored a career-high 25 points and grabbed 20 rebounds — the first 20/20 of his career and the 11th in Mavericks history...Jim Jackson scored 40 points in that Dallas win, the most points ever by a Maverick vs. the Celtics...in Dallas' 94-87 loss at Boston on 4/2/95, Jason Kidd played just the first nine minutes of the game due to a strained muscle on the left side of his neck...

Jamal Mashburn averaged 28.5 ppg on .548 shooting vs. Boston last season...Sherman Douglas averaged 23 ppg and 7.0 assists last season vs. Dallas...in four career games vs. the Celtics, Jackson has 24.8 ppg, his second-highest scoring average vs. any opponent...

The Mavericks finished 0-15 all-time in the Boston Garden (the Celtics move to the new Fleet Center this season)...Boston is the only city where Dallas is without a "W"...the Mavericks are not the only club which had difficulty winning in the Boston Garden...Utah ended a 21-game losing streak there in '92-93, and the Knicks had dropped 23-straight there before winning in Dec. 1992...Boston is the only Eastern Conference team the Mavericks have never swept...

The Mavericks have won five-of-10 meetings vs. Boston in Reunion Arena since a 116-115 victory in Reunion on 3/10/86 - Dallas' first ever win vs. the Celtics (a game in which Dallas overcame 50 points from Larry Bird and a 13-point deficit in the last 5:37)...

Derek Harper handed out a Mavericks club-record 18 assists in Dallas' 131-115 win vs. Boston on 12/29/88...

Boston is 10-5 all-time in Reunion Arena, making the Celtics one of just six teams - Atlanta (9-6), Cleveland (9-6), Detroit (10-5), Philadelphia (10-5) and the Lakers (25-9) - with a winning record in Dallas...

Lifetime vs. Dallas, Larry Bird had 554 points in 20 games (27.7, the fourth highest average on the all-time opponent list) and 213 boards (10.7)...

Bird (50 on 3/10/86) and Jackson (40 on 12/15/94) hold the series scoring records.

|---|---|
| At Chicago: | Dec. 19 |
| At Dallas: | Nov. 21 |

SERIES NOTES: The Mavericks and Bulls split two games last season, with both teams winning on the road...both games came within the first two weeks of the season, prior to Michael Jordan's return...

Dallas' 124-120 overtime win in the United Center on 11/12/94 snapped a 12-game Mavericks losing streak to the Bulls (Dallas had been swept each of the previous six seasons) since a 111-110 Dallas win in Chicago on 12/22/87...in last season's win, Jamal Mashburn became the first Maverick to score 50 points (Jim Jackson would tie that record two weeks later in Denver), scoring 44 points in the first three periods alone...Jackson added 38 points in the win (the 88 combined points by Jackson and Mashburn are the most any two Mavericks have ever combined to score)...

Mashburn averaged 33 ppg on .522 shooting vs. Chicago last season and Jackson averaged 28 ppg on .568 shooting...in four career games vs. the Bulls, Mashburn has averaged 25.0 ppg...the Bulls have won seven-straight in Reunion Arena (since a 94-93 Dallas win on 11/27/87), the longest active opponent winning streak in Dallas,..

All-time vs. Dallas, Jordan has 420 points (28.0 ppg, third on the all-time opponent list behind Shaquille O'Neal's 32.8 ppg Adrian Dantley's 29.2 ppg) on 159-of-320 shooting (.497) with 105 rebounds (7.0 rpg) and 98 assists (6.5 apg) in 15 games...in his first eight games against the Mavericks, Jordan was held to 26.3 ppg on .433 shooting and failed to score 40-plus points in all eight...however, in his last seven meetings vs. the Mavericks, Jordan has 30.0 ppg on .579 shooting with 7.7 rebounds and 6.4 assists, including two games of 40-plus points (43 pts on 4/7/90 and 41 pts on 12/12/89)...

George Gervin (45 on 1/27/86) and Mashburn (50 on 11/12/94) are the series scoring record holders.

|---|---|
| At Cleveland: | Dec. 3 |
| At Dallas: | Mar. 19 |

SERIES NOTES: The Mavericks swept the Cavaliers last season 2-0...Cleveland, Philadelphia and Charlotte are the only clubs Dallas swept in '94-95...on 3/20/95, the Mavericks came back from a 15-point third period deficit to win at Cleveland 102-100 in double overtime...in that game, Jamal Mashburn scored a team-leading 28 points, including 16 points in the two overtimes, with a club record 11 of Dallas' 12 points in the second overtime...Jason Kidd scored 20 points with five rebounds, nine assists, five steals and two blocked shots in that game...

Kidd averaged 19 ppg on .467 shooting with 5.5 rebounds and 8.5 assists last season vs. Cleveland...Tyrone Hill averaged 29 ppg on .579 shooting with 10.0 rebounds vs. Dallas...

On 12/14/91 in Cleveland, the Mavericks rallied from a 17-point second period deficit to register their second-largest road comeback ever, 99-97...Cleveland had entered that game with a 9-0 home mark for the season...

The Cavs won the first seven games in the series until Dallas finally won 115-103 on 3/7/84...in Dallas' 96-87 win in Cleveland on 2/19/90, the Mavericks defense held Mark Price without a three-pointer for the first time in 35 games (ending the NBA's third-longest streak)...

The Cavaliers are 9-6 all-time in Reunion Arena, one of just six teams with a winning record in Reunion: also, Atlanta (9-6), Boston (10-5), Detroit (10-5), Philadelphia (10-5) and the Lakers (25-9)...

Former Maverick Derek Harper, the club's all-time assists leader, was taken with Atlanta's '83 pick acquired from Cleveland as part of the Jerome Whitehead/Richard Washington deal...

World Free (40 points on 11/4/83) and Rolando Blackman (38 on 3/29/87) hold the series scoring records.

DATES OF 1995-96 MATCH-UPS

At Indiana: Dec. 22
At Dallas: Jan. 9

SERIES NOTES: The Mavericks and Pacers split two meetings last season, with each team winning on its homecourt...the Mavericks' 100-92 loss at the Pacers on 2/26/95 marked their first game after losing Jim Jackson for the remainder of the season due to a sprained left ankle...it snapped Jackson's club-record of 161-straight starts...

In their only head-to-head meeting last season, Jackson outscored Reggie Miller 30-19 and outshot him 11-of-18 to 7-of-18 as the Mavericks won 103-92 in Reunion on 1/6/95...Miller scored just four points after the first period of that game...Jamal Mashburn averaged 28 ppg vs. the Pacers and Jason Kidd averaged 15.5 ppg on .565 shooting with 5.0 rebounds and 9.5 assists...

The Mavericks' 18 wins vs. Indiana are the club's most against an Eastern Conference team...the Mavericks are 9-6 at Market Square Arena...Dallas also has a winning road record at New Jersey (8-7)...

Pacers assistant Gar Heard served as a Mavericks assistant coach from 1987-88 through 1992-93...Heard took over the reigns as Mavericks head coach for the final 53 games (9-44) of '92-93 after Richie Adubato was dismissed...

On 1/5/87, the Pacers won 144-135 in Reunion, setting several club records in the process...they shot .653 and made just five turnovers in giving the Mavericks one of their six home losses...the 144 points tied Dallas' opponent record and ties as the most ever allowed at home (also Portland in 3 OTs on 12/29/89)...

Butch Carter (42 on 1/25/83) and Mark Aguirre (43 on 1/25/83) hold the series scoring records.

DATES OF 1995-96 MATCH-UPS

At Minnesota: Dec. 23, Feb. 5 At Dallas: Feb. 3, Mar. 22

SERIES NOTES: The Mavericks won the season series from the Timberwolves last season, 4-1...Dallas' 104-83 win at Minnesota on 2/1/95 matched the Mavericks' largest win of the season...the Mavericks have won 10-of-12 in the series since 4/23/93 and have won five-straight in Minnesota since a 99-89 Timberwolves win there on 2/26/93...

Jim Jackson averaged 24.3 ppg on .426 shooting vs. Minnesota, as Dallas as a team shot just .415 in the series...Christian Laettner averaged 21.4 ppg on .506 shooting with 9.4 rebounds last season vs. Dallas...

On Nov. 2, 1994, Dallas traded Sean Rooks to Minnesota in exchange for the Timberwolves' first round pick in either 1996, 1997 or 1998...if Minnesota's 1996 first round pick is a lottery pick, the Mavericks receive the Timberwolves 1997 pick...if the 1997 pick is Nos. 1-6 in the draft, then the Mavericks receive the pick in 1998 unconditionally...

In '93-94 the Mavericks won the season series from the Timberwolves, 5-1...Dallas won all three meetings in the Target Center...the Mavericks' 93-89 win at the Target Center on 12/23/93 ended a club-record/NBA record-tying 20-game losing streak...

On 11/30/91 in Reunion Arena, the Mavericks defeated the Timberwolves 79-78...the 157 total points in that game tie the fewest ever in a Mavericks game (was 158 points - Dallas 86, Milwaukee 72 at Dallas on 4/1/90)...

Dallas' 102-100 home win over Minnesota on 4/17/91 ended a five-game losing streak to the Timberwolves...that game also marked the first time for Dallas to score 100-plus points against the T-wolves...prior to that the Mavericks had been held under 100 points in nine-straight (90.3 ppg), the most consecutive games Dallas has ever been held under 100 points by the same opponent...

On 11/2/90, the Mavericks lost 98-85 to Minnesota in the first regular season game ever played in the Target Center...twice Minnesota has won in Dallas on buzzer beaters...on 11/20/90 the T-wolves on 92-91 in OT when Tyrone Corbin tipped in a shot with :00.3 to play...on 3/30/90 Minnesota won 84-82 when Sam Mitchell hit a follow-up lay-in at the buzzer before a shocked Reunion Arena crowd...that was one of just three Dallas losses in its last 22 home games of the '89-90 season (also losing to the Lakers and Chicago)...

Micheal Williams (33 on 12/23/93) and Jamal Mashburn (36 on 11/12/93) hold the series scoring records.

DATES OF 1995-96 MATCH-UPS

At New Jersey: Jan. 5
At Dallas: Mar. 5

SERIES NOTES: The Mavericks and Nets split the season series last season, 1-1...Dallas opened the '94-95 season with a 112-103 home win over the Nets on 11/5/95 ending a six-game losing steak to New Jersey...in that game, Jason Kidd, making his NBA debut, narrowly missed a triple-double, registering 10 points, 11 rebounds and nine assists...prior to that the Mavericks had not won a season opener since beating Utah on 11/6/87...

In Dallas' 114-104 loss at New Jersey on 2/24/95, Jim Jackson suffered a season-ending third-degree sprain of his left ankle with 4:45 to play in the first period...that injury snapped Jackson's club-record run of 161-straight starts (prior to that injury Jackson had never missed a game in high school, college or the pros)...

Jamal Mashburn averaged 31 ppg on .458 shooting last season vs. the Nets...in four career games vs. the Nets, Mashburn has 27.5 ppg, his highest scoring average vs. any opponent...in '91-92, the Nets swept the season series from the Mavericks (2-0) for just the second time, also 1982-83...prior to that the Mavericks had won five-straight vs. the Nets...

On 2/1/88, the Nets ended their 26-game road losing streak, 108-103 in Reunion...that night John Bagley recorded a triple-double (19/10/10) and Dudley Bradley made two steals in the final 1:37...that ended Dallas' six-game win streak vs. NJ...

On 3/24/87 Mark Aguirre tied the Meadowlands record with 43 points...the Mavericks are 8-7 all-time on the road vs. NJ...Indiana (9-6) is the only other team against which Dallas is plus-.500 on the road...

Aguirre (43 on 3/24/87) and Otis Birdsong (37 on 11/28/81) hold the series scoring records.

At Dallas: Mar. 24

SERIES NOTES: The Knicks swept the season series from the Mavericks last season for the fourth-straight season...Dallas has now dropped eight-straight in the series since sweeping the series in 1990-91...

In Dallas' 106-93 home loss to the Knicks on 1/20/95, Derek Harper made his first return to Reunion Arena since being traded by the Mavericks...Harper, who was greeted by a standing ovation, scored seven points with 11 assists in 39 minutes...the Mavericks as a team managed just .415 shooting vs. New York last season...

Mavericks first-round selection Loren Meyer (No. 24 overall in the 1995 draft) was chosen with New York's first-round pick, acquired in exchange for Rolando Blackman on 6/24/92...

Patrick Ewing averaged 27 ppg on .523 shooting with 8.5 rebounds last season vs. Dallas...in 17 career games Charles Oakley has 226 rebounds vs. Dallas - an average of 13.3 rpg, fourth on the all-time opponent list behind Dikembe Mutombo's 14.4, Dennis Rodman's 13.8 and Shaquille O'Neal's 13.7...

On 1/6/94 the Mavericks traded Harper - the club's all-time leader in assists, steals and three-pointers - to the Knicks in exchange for Tony Campbell and New York's 1997 first-round draft pick...

On 2/1/84, Bernard King set the Reunion scoring record with 50 points on 20-of-28 shooting...it was King's second-straight 50-point game and tied Adrian Dantley's 1980 Dallas opponent scoring record...Larry Bird matched that effort with a 50-point night in Reunion on 3/10/86...on 1/16/81 in Reunion, Abdul Jeelani personally outscored the Knicks 21-20 in the fourth period of a 118-110 Dallas win...

King (50 on 2/1/84) and Blackman (41 on 1/13/87) hold the series scoring records.

DATES OF 1995-96 MATCH-UPS

At Sacramento: Jan. 23, Apr. 9 At Dallas: Feb. 21, Apr. 2

SERIES NOTES: The Mavericks and Kings split four games last season...on 3/14/95, the Mavericks won at Sacramento 91-90...in that game Dallas led 91-88 when Mitch Richmond hit what appeared to be a game-tying three-pointer with 4.2 seconds remaining...however, Richmond's foot was ruled to be on the line and the Mavericks held on for the victory...the four meetings last season were decided by a total of seven points...

Jamal Mashburn led Dallas vs. Sacramento with 26.5 ppg on .476 shooting...Brian Grant averaged 19.3 ppg and 9.0 rebounds vs. the Mavericks...

The Mavericks are 27-11 all-time vs. the Kings in Reunion, and 27-8 in Dallas since 1981-82...

All-time the Mavericks are 40-36 vs. the Kings...Dallas enters '92-93 with more wins against Sacramento than any other opponent...Dallas tied the NBA record it already shared (since broken) by making just four turnovers vs. the Kings on 11/26/86...

Dallas' 139-81 loss to Sacramento on 12/29/92 is the Mavericks' worst-loss ever...

In '91-92, the Kings won the season series from the Mavericks (3-1) for the first time since 1980-81...Sacramento's 125-96 win in Dallas on 3/20/92 snapped a 13-game Mavericks winning streak vs. the Kings in Reunion Arena...prior to that, the Kings' last win in Reunion was a 127-120 OT decision on 3/12/86 and their last regulation win in Dallas was 114-111 on 3/26/83...the 29-point win on 3/20/92 is the Kings' largest road win since 1977...

Dallas' biggest win of '91-92 was a 109-85 decision vs. Sacramento on 12/21/92 on the 100th anniversary of the invention of basketball...

On 11/12/88 in Reunion, Dallas held the Kings to Mavericks opponent record lows 71 points, .311 shooting, 30 first-half points and 27 field goals as Dallas recorded its third-largest win ever, 111-71...

Lionel Simmons (35 on 4/9/91) and Rolando Blackman (career-high 46 on 3/12/86) hold the series scoring records.

NBA PLAYOFF FORMAT

1. Sixteen teams qualify for the playoffs: Eight teams from each conference, consisting of the two division champions and the six other teams in each conference with the best winning percentage during the regular season.

2. The first round of the playoffs shall be a best-of-five series with all succeeding rounds, including the NBA World Championship Series, being best-of-seven. All teams will participate in the first round; byes that formerly went to division winners have been eliminated.

Following are the playoff pairings:

Note: Team 1 in each conference is the division winner with the better record, Team 2 is the other division winner and Teams 3-8 are ranked according to their regular-season winning percentage.

NBA PLAYOFF TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURE

In order to break a tie for playoff positions if one exists at the close of the regular season, the following criteria will be used in this order:

Two-Team Tiebreaker

1. Results head-to-head
2. Winning percentage in conference
3. Winning percentage in dividion (only if tied teams are in the same division)
4. Winning percentage vs. playoff teams in own conference
5. Winning percentage vs. playoff teams in other conference
6. Point differential between offense and defense

Three-Team Tiebreaker

1. Winning percentage among all teams tied
2. Winning percentage within conference
3. Winning percentage within division (only if teams are in same division)
4. Winning percentage against playoff teams in own conference
5. Point differential between offense and defense

NBA DRAFT LOTTERY

The annual NBA Draft Lottery determines which non-playoff teams will choose first, second and third in the NBA Draft. The remaining slots are filled by inverse order of winning percentage. This procedure ensures the team with the worst overall record will pick no later than fourth in the draft. The lottery procedure was modified prior to the 1994 lottery to increase the chances of the teams with the worst records in the league of winning one of the first three picks in the draft, while decreasing the chances of the lottery teams with the best records of winning those same top picks.

The new system increases the chances of the team with the worst record drawing the first pick in the draft from 16.7 percent to 25 percent, while decreasing the chances of the team with the best record among lottery teams drawing the first pick from 1.5 percent to 0.5 percent.

Under the current system, 14 ping-pong balls numbered 1 through 14 will be placed in a drum and four balls drawn to the top. There are 1,001 possible combinations when four balls are drawn out of 14, without regard to the order in which the balls are drawn. Prior to the lottery, 1,000 combinations will be assigned to each of the 11 teams participating in the lottery.

The team with the worst record in the league will be assigned 250 combinations (giving it a 25 percent chance of drawing the first pick). The initial plan called for the team with the second-worst record to be assigned 203 combinations (a 20.3 percent chance), the third-worst team 162, the fourth-worst team 126, the fifth-worst team 94 and on down to the team with the best record among the lottery teams being assigned five combinations (a 0.5 percent chance of drawing the first pick).

After drawing four balls from the drum, a chart listing all 1,000 combinations and the team "holding" each combination will be consulted. Thus, for example, if balls 2, 4, 9 and 11 are drawn, the chart would be consulted to indicate which team was assigned that combination of numbers (again, regardless of the order in which the balls are drawn).

After determining which team holds the winning combination, the drawing will be repeated until the second and third picks are determined. The remaining selections, picks 4 through 11, will then be based upon the inverse order of regular season records.

The actual lottery procedure will take place in a separate room before halftime, with only representatives of the participating teams, NBA officials and representatives of the accounting firm of Ernst & Young in attendance. The results will remain secret until they are announced on NBC during halftime of a conference semi-finals playoff game.

Following the lottery drawing, all team logo cards will be inserted into envelopes marked 1 through 11 by an Ernst & Young representative. These envelopes then will be sealed and brought on stage, where the announcement of the lottery results will be made by NBA Commissioner David J. Stern. The commissioner will open the envelopes and reveal the cards in inverse order, from 11 to 1. Neither the commissioner nor the team representatives will be informed of the lottery results before the opening of the envelopes.

Under the previous lottery system, the team with the worst record in the league had 11 chances out of 66 to draw the first pick in the draft, the team with the second-worst record 10 chances and on down to the team with the best record among lottery teams having one chance out of 66.

The 1996 Draft Lottery is set for May 19 while the '96 Draft will take place on June 26 in a yet-to-be determined city.

NBA-CBA DEVELOPMENTAL AGREEMENT

What follows is a brief summary of key points in the NBA-CBA developmental agreement:

Coaching Developmental Program — Beginning with the 1992-93 season, the NBA and CBA began working together to place former NBA players in CBA coaching positions. Six CBA head coaches in 1994-95 were either former NBA players or coaches. Current NBA head coaches Bob Hill, Phil Jackson, George Karl and John Lucas had CBA coaching or playing experience.

Player Development: — NBA clubs will continue to have the exclusive right to call-up an unlimited number of CBA players during their regular season and playoffs. Last year, a record 88 former CBA players appeared in the NBA. All 27 NBA teams had one or more former CBA players on their roster during the 1994-95 campaign. Twenty-eight former CBA players appeared on 1995 NBA playoff rosters. New York Knicks forward Anthony Mason, a 1991 CBA All-Star, became the first-ever former CBA player to win an individual NBA postseason accolade when he was honored with the NBA's Sixth Man Award.

Referee Development: — The CBA will continue to serve as the primary training ground for NBA referees. Last season, 41 of the 54 referees in the NBA had CBA experience. The CBA will employ a two-person officiating system during the regular season and first round of the conference playoffs. However, three referees are utilized during conference finals and championship series.

3/23/90...averaged 11.0 points on .605 shooting with 8.8 rebounds during a stretch of five starts while Seikaly was injured.

College Capsule: Was not drafted after finishing his career at Virginia Union...as a senior averaged 22.3 points on .615 shooting with 11.9 rebounds to earn his second consecutive Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association player of the year award...as a junior averaged 22.7 points on .566 shooting with 10.9 rebounds to earn Division III All-America honors...was a three-time all-CIAA selection.

Personal Capsule: Following his auto accident in May 1993, Davis said, "I'm not going to get down on myself or go into a shell and act like this is the worst thing that ever happened to me. The Good Lord has done a lot of good things for me in my lifetime. This is one more time he spared me. I'm just happy to be alive"...wears a size 16 shoe...favorite all-time Christmas present is the basketball he received when he was seven ("That's when I started to love the game," Davis says)...says his most memorable NBA game was the Mavericks' '94-90 loss to Philadelphia on 2/18/92 in Reunion. Davis had 17 points and 14 rebounds and his matchup with Charles Barkley was his most physical of the season. As the Mavericks were walking to the locker room after the game, Barkley climbed on top of the press table and called to Davis. "Charles shook my hand and told me I played well," Davis recalls. "He likes guys who don't back off. It was a very emotional game and I don't think I'll ever forget it."...owns several vintage cars...boyhood hero was Julius Erving...closest friend in the NBA is fellow Virginia Union product Charles Oakley...Davis learned to play the physical style at Elmwood Park in East Orange, N.J., where he spent a couple of summers during high school...lists Arnold Schwarzenegger as his favorite actor and his choice to star in the Terry Davis Story...would most like to meet Bill Cosby...a skilled video games player whose favorite game is RBI Baseball...is afraid of heights, but likes snakes...first job was at a produce company, where among other things, Davis sorted out rotten potatoes. Of that job, Davis says, "It was hard work, but it was a great experience. That job showed me what life and hard work are all about."...favorite meal is seafood fettucini...Luther Vandross is Davis' favorite musical artist...enjoys fishing and playing softball...first dunked the ball at age 15...left-handed...given name is Terry Raymond Davis.

just 69 of a possible 246 games in the 1989-90, 1990-91 and 1991-92 seasons...in that time period, Dallas was 45-24 (.652) with Tarpley and 68-109 (.384) without him...early on the morning of 3/30/91 (while on the injured list recovering from knee surgery) Tarpley was stopped by Dallas Police for speeding and subsequently was charged with driving while intoxicated (9/4/91 he was acquitted on that charge)...on 4/5/91 Tarpley was suspended indefinitely without pay by ASAP Family Treatment Program Medical Director Dr. Dave Lewis for violating the provisions of Tarpley's aftercare program...Tarpley won the 1987-88 NBA Sixth Man award by a 67-13 margin over Utah's Thurl Bailey...ranked seventh among NBA rebounders that season with 11.8 boards in just 28.5 minutes, becoming the first reserve in NBA history to finish among the league's top 10 rebounders...in 1989-90 was suspended by ASAP for 33 games (11/16/89 through 1/23/90) for non-compliance with his personalized aftercare program...Dallas was 17-16 during the 67-day suspension (the Mavericks were 27-12 following the suspension, good enough to clinch a playoff berth)...was suspended without pay for two games (4/7/90 vs. Chicago and 4/9/90 at the Lakers) after missing practice 4/6/90 and failing to notify team officials...was suspended for 49 games (Dallas was 17-32) in 1988-89 for violating the provisions of his individual aftercare program...that was considered "strike two" in the NBA's anti-drug program since Tarpley also received treatment in the summer of 1987...also missed 14 games in 1988-89 after undergoing arthroscopic knee surgery to repair torn cartilage in his left knee, an injury suffered in a game at Phoenix on 11/9/89...Set a Mavericks season record with 43 double-doubles in 1987-88...named to the 1986-87 NBA all-rookie team...led the NBA in rebounds-per-48 minutes with 18.2 in 1986-87 and 20.0 in 1987-88...Tarpley has seven of the 11 games of 20 points/20 rebounds in Mavericks history (James Donaldson had two and Sam Perkins and Popeye Jones had one apiece)...Tarpley had two 20-rebound games vs. the Lakers in the 1988 conference finals, making him the only NBA player with more than one game of 20-plus boards in the 1988 postseason...holds the club records for most rebounds in a regulation (non-OT) game with 25 vs. Milwaukee on 4/1/90 and most offensive rebounds in a season with 360 in 1987-88...shares the single-game offensive rebound record (12) with Popeye Jones...in 1988 was the MVP of the Southern California Summer Pro League.

College Capsule: Tarpley led Michigan to a 54-9 record his last two years and back-to-back Big Ten titles...as a junior Tarpley was the unanimous Big Ten player of the year with 19 ppg and a Big Ten-leading 10.4 rpg...third-team All- America as a senior (15.9 ppg, 8.8 rpg), second-team as a junior.

Personal Capsule: On 11/28/94 Tarpley donated $10,360 to cover the cost of six new basketball goals at the West Dallas Community Church...the WDCC is a facility near downtown Dallas which had raised money for construction of a new gym, but lacked funds for a basketball floor and goals...Jason Kidd donated $46,100 to pay for the court while Tarpley paid for the basketball goals...a native New Yorker, Tarpley was raised in Brooklyn and Queens, but didn't play organized ball until his sophomore year of high school...when the teachers (and coaches) went on a strike, he moved to Mobile, Ala. to live with an uncle and play basketball...there he was dropped from the varsity to the jayvees and averaged just six points...before his senior year, the well-traveled Tarpley moved to Detroit to attend Cooley H.S. and live with another uncle...he began to develop there, averaging 28 ppg and 22 rpg...majored in communications at Michigan...relaxes by listening to music and playing video games...he and his wife, Dawn, reside in Highland Village with their daughter Harmoni...given name is Roy James Tarpley, Jr.

"We want our players to give 100% at all times regardless of the competition.

How they respond to pressure will determine how far we go as a team.

We use BTI Americas for all of our travel needs. They respond no matter what the situation."
